This means that the wealthy manufacturer, the heartless money-lender, the men who hold mortgages on the humble homes of the workingmen, the retired millionaire whose heaviest toil consists in clipping the coupons from his untaxed bonds, are to be exempted from their just share of taxation to support the government which protects them, while the large sums withheld are to be imposed as an additional burden on the merchant, the artisan, the laborer, and every other portion of the community.

When the two bills are considered together, it means that the wealthier classes of the community, whose ample means may have contributed nothing towards its construction, may drive in luxurious ease over the fashionable boulevard, while the toiling laborer whose humble house has been mortgaged to aid in the construction of this pleasure drive, is not permitted even to cross it with the heavy vehicle which must be used as a means of support for his family.

The Senate, it may be assured, will not permit the perpetration of such a wrong.

Respectfully,

S. B. BUCKNER.

The first-named bill mentioned in and vetoed by said message reads as follows, viz :

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, § 1. The board of councilmen of the city of Newport is hereby vested with power to reconstruct any street, alley, lane, road, avenue or thoroughfare in said city by grading, curbing and paving with granite or wooden blocks, asphalt, brick, gravel, macadam, or any other proper and appropriate material; the same to be done upon a petition of the owners of a majority of front feet abutting on a street or part of street to be improved, or the same may be done without such petition if two-thirds of the members-elect of the board of councilmen concur therein on a call of the yeas and nays, which shall be recorded in the journal.

§ 2. The present grade of the street shall first be adopted, or the said board may, in its discretion, establish a different grade, and an estimate of the work required to be done thereon shall first be ascertained before the ordinance thereof shall be passed, and the expense therefor, including the intersection and crossings adjoining, shall be added thereto and distributed pro rata thereon per front foot, and be fixed before any contract shall be entered into by said city for said improvement. Said grade, estimate and expenses shall be embraced in and form part of said contract. The work done and material furnished for such improvement shall be under the supervision and inspection of the mayor of the city, city engineer and the chairman of the street committee of said board of councilmen, whose duty it shall be to see that all work is done and material furnished in accordance with the contract.

§ 3. Said board of councilmen shall advertise for bids in such manner as it may designate for such improvement according to plans and specifications on file in the engineer's office of said city. Each bid shall contain the full name of every person interested in the same, and shall be accompanied by a sufficient guaranty of two disinterested and responsible persons that if a bid is accepted a contract will be entered into and the performance of it properly secured. The bids shall be upon blanks to be furnished by the said city, and shall refer to the specifications and the form of contract to be entered into if the bid is accepted. At the next regular meeting after the advertisements have been made, as may have been ordered, said board may receive bids for same and award the contract to the lowest and best bidder, reserving the right to reject any and all bids.

§ 4. Upon the awarding of said contract the said board of councilmen shall enter into a contract, in writing, in the name of the city of Newport, with the contractor, with two disinterested, good and responsible securities, for the performance of the said work according to its terms, plans and specifications. A lien is hereby granted to said city on all the property fronting and abutting on any such street or part of street so proposed to be improved for the payment of one-half of said work and material from the time said contract is awarded, which may be enforced in any court of proper jurisdiction. The other one-half shall be paid to the contractor by the city of Newport as hereinafter provided. The amount due a contractor for any such improvement shall be due and payable in sixty days after the work has been completed and accepted by said city.

§ 5. Said board of councilmen shall, when said contract has been completed and accepted by the city, cause the bonds of the city to be issued as hereinafter provided in an amount equal to one-half of the cost of said improvement, in denominations of one hundred dollars and five hundred dollars each, payable at the city treasurer's office of the city of Newport. They shall be dated sixty days after the completion and acceptance of the work by the said city for which the bond is issued, and shall draw interest at a rate not exceeding five per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually. They shall be issued in book form, with stub attached; and when the bond is disposed of by the city the stub shall show the number and amount and date of the bond, the rate of interest and when due, and the name of the street or squares of street improved. One-tenth of the said bonds shall be due in one year from date; one-tenth in two years from date, and one-tenth in three years from date, etc., etc., etc.; the last one-tenth of such issue to fall due ten years after date; the said division of bonds to be as nearly equal as possible. They shall recite this act by its title and date of approval, and show that a lien is reserved in the property to be improved, reciting the street or squares of street. They shall be called "Street Improvement Bonds of the City of Newport." The entire series of said bonds issued under this act shall be numbered, beginning with number one. They shall have interest coupons attached for each installment of interest, and the coupons shall be numbered, beginning with number one. Each of said bonds shall be signed by the mayor of said city and countersigned by the city clerk, and shall have the seal of the city affixed thereto, and shall be indorsed on the back thereof as hereinafter provided. The said coupons may be signed by the city clerk alone. Said bonds and coupons shall be payable as hereinafter provided, and shall pass by delivery. The said bonds, on the completion and acceptance of any work done under the provisions of this act, may be disposed of as hereinafter provided by the said city at not less than par.

§ 6. On the completion of any contract or improvement made under the provisions of this act, the mayor, city engineer and chairman of the committee on street improvements shall make a written report to the said board of councilmen at its next regular meeting thereafter, that said improvement is completed and accepted, and said report of completion and acceptance shall be concurred in by two-thirds of the members elect of the said board, on a call of the yeas and nays, and their votes recorded in the journal.

§ 7. The sum of one-half of the entire cost of such improvement being the amount assessed upon the lots or parcels of land abutting upon the improvement, shall be divided by the total number of feet of the lots or parcels of land fronting or abutting on such improvement, and the quotient shall be the rate of assessment for each front foot of land abutting on such improvement. There shall be specially assessed on each lot or parcel of land abutting on such improvement such amount of tax or assessment as shall equal the number of feet of such lot or parcel of land fronting on such improvement, multiplied by the rate per foot, as ascertained as aforesaid. The city clerk shall annually make out the tax bills of the owners of real estate, fronting and abutting on such improved street, or part of street, in such manner as to pay for the entire lien as the bonds mature against such real estate for such improvement, in ten years, attaching the same to the amount due from the tax-payer for city purposes, including the interest on the sum unpaid each year, and such tax-bills shall be a lien on such realty for the amount specified in the estimate: Provided, That any owner of real estate fronting or abutting on any such improved street may pay the entire amount assessed against any such real estate within sixty days after the completion and acceptance of said work, as above provided.

§ 8. The taxes received by the city, hereinbefore provided for, shall be kept by the city treasurer, separate and apart for the purpose of paying said bonds, and shall, in no event, be used for any other purpose, and the fund shall be known as "street improvement bond fund."

§ 9. The other one-half for said improvement shall be paid by the city of Newport in cash. In order to raise money to pay the same, the said city is authorized to issue its bonds. The bonds shall be made payable in not more than thirty years from date, and shall be payable at the treasurer's office in the city of Newport, in denominations of $100 and $500, and bear interest at a rate not exceeding five per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, and they shall be called "Newport street bonds." These bonds, including the "street improvement bonds of the city of Newport," provided for in section five, shall be payable to the president of the board of trustees of the sinking fund, as trustee or bearer. The bonds, including both classes provided for in this act, shall first be prepared in blank by the city clerk, and by him delivered to the said president of the board of trustees of the sinking fund and his receipt taken therefor. On the order of the board of councilmen of said city, entered on its minutes from time to time, as said bonds shall be required for disposal, said president or said board of trustees of the sinking fund shall cause the mayor to sign the same, and the city clerk to countersign them and affix the seal of the city thereto. The said president of said board shall then certify on the back of each of said bonds the name and style of the bond, the purposes for which it was issued, the volume and chapter of the acts and session of the Legislature at which the act was passed by the Legislature, authorizing its issue and the date of the approval of the act, signed with the name of the said president of the said board of trustees of the sinking fund of Newport as such. No bond issued under the provisions of this act shall be binding, or obligatory or of any value whatever, unless it be so indorsed as above provided. The said bonds shall be issued in book form with stub attached, and when a bond is detached from the stub the stub shall show the number of the bond, name of the street or part of street to be improved, the amount of the bond, the date of the issue, and the rate of interest and when due. They shall recite this act by its title and date of approval. All the bonds of the said city, provided for in this section, shall be numbered, beginning with number one. Each of said bonds shall have interest coupons attached for each installment of interest, which coupons may be signed by the city clerk alone, and shall be numbered, beginning with No. 1. The said bonds shall be dated sixty days after the completion and acceptance of the street for the improvement of which the bond is issued. When the said bonds are required for disposal, and they have been signed as required, and the seal of the city attached thereto and endorsed by the president of the board of trustees of the sinking fund, as hereinbefore provided, the said president of said board shall then deliver the said bonds to the city treasurer, take his receipt therefor, containing sufficient general description of the bond receipted for to identify them. The treasurer shall then sell the said bonds at not less than par, or the most that can be realized therefor, and apply the proceeds to the purposes for which the bonds were issued. The signing of the said bonds by the mayor of the city and the city clerk, and the indorsement of the same by the president of the board of trustees of the sinking fund, and the delivery by the said president of the said bonds to the city treasurer, shall be done by the said officers, all in the presence of each other.

§ 10. For any failure to faithfully discharge the duties imposed on him under the provisions of this act, the treasurer of said city and his securities on his official bond shall be responsible.

§ 11. The board of councilmen shall have the right, at any time in its discretion, by resolution, to direct the city treasurer to advertise for bidders for the purchase of said bonds and the manner in which the said advertisement shall be made.

§ 12. The said board of councilmen hereby authorized annually, by ordinance, to levy and collect a tax off of all the taxable property in said city in addition to the taxes that it is now authorized to levy and collect by law, sufficient to pay the interest on all the said "Newport street bonds" that may have been issued, and to provide a sinking fund for the final redemption of said bonds.

§ 13. Said board of councilmen shall have the right, at any time in its discretion, to employ an expert engineer and assistants for the city engineer in and about the improvements of the streets under the provision of this act, and pay a reasonable compensation for said services.

§ 14. There shall be issued under the provisions of this act, including both classes of bonds herein provided for, an amount not exceeding $250,000.

§ 15. The board of councilmen of said city shall have the power and be fully authorized to pass an ordinance with appropriate penalties for its violations from $5 to $50, forbidding certain classes of wheeled vehicles from passing along and over any streets in the ordinance mentioned that may have been improved under the provisions of this act.

§ 16. In improving any street under the provisions of this act, if there be a street railroad thereon, and it becomes necessary in making the said improvement to remove the track thereof, the city shall have the right to give the company operating the said railroad fifteen days' notice, in writing, to remove its track, and if the said company fail to remove the said track within the said fifteen days, then the contractor for the improvement shall have the right to remove the same at once. When the said railroad track is relaid, it must be laid so as to conform to the grade of the street as improved, and be done under the direction of and subject to the approval of the board under whose directions this act requires the street improvement to be made. Said board shall approve the manner and form of construction of the said track, and all the material, rails, ties, fastenings, etc., that may be used in the construction thereof. Nothing herein shall be construed as modifying or releasing any company so operating a street railroad in said city, from the full performance of all contracts and covenants that it may have heretofore made with the said city, and under which it may exercise its franchise.

§ 17. In case of the default in payment by any abutting owner of the assessment against his property, as provided in section 7 of this act, the same penalty shall attach on the amount so payable as attaches to the non-payment of other municipal taxes of said city, and shall be collected together with amounts so due from the owner of such property in the same manner as other taxes and penalties of said city are now collected by law.

§ 18. The bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall be and forever remain exempt from all taxation or assessment of any kind or character for municipal purposes by said city.

§ 19. When a special assessment for such improvement is made on real estate, subject to the life estate, the assessment shall be payable by the tenant for life. But upon application by the tenant for life, to a court of competent jurisdiction by action against the owner of the estate in fee, the court may apportion the costs of the assessment between the life tenant and the owner of the fee in proportion to the relative value of the improvement to their estate respectively, to be ascertained and determined by the court on principles of equity.

§ 20. When it appears to the board of councilmen that a special assessment or tax for such improvement is invalid by reason of some informality or irregularity in the proceedings, or when an assessment is judged illegal by a court of competent jurisdiction, the said board may order a reassessment, and proceedings thereon and the collection thereof shall be conducted in the same manner as is provided for in the original assessment.

§ 21. The tax or assessment for such improvement, chargeable to the property as herein authorized, shall not exceed fifty per cent. of the value of the lot assessed as now provided by law, and any excess above such per centum shall be paid out of the general fund by said city. But in making such assessment and valuation regard shall be had to the value of said property after the improvement is made.

§ 22. Before improving any street under the provisions of this act, the said board of councilmen shall have all necessary sewers laid and water and gas pipes laid, and connections laid from the main line in said street to the curbstone.

§ 23. Said city shall have the right, in its discretion, to pay and contractors for any improvement made under the provisions of this act, either in cash or with the bonds of the said city, at not less than par, issued as herein provided.

§ 24. The treasurer of said city shall provide a book, suitable for the purpose, in which he shall keep a correct and accurate register of all bonds issued under the provisions of this act, each class separately, which register shall show the number and amount of each bond, date of its issue, when due, rate of interest and street for which it was issued.

§ 25. The president of the board of trustees of the sinking fund shall receive for his services an annual salary of $250, to be paid by the said city as the board of councilmen may determine, and said salary shall continue for three years from the approval of this act.

§ 26. All laws and parts of laws having special application to the city of Newport, in so far as the same are in conflict with this act, are hereby repealed.

§ 27. This act shall not take effect until submitted to, and ratified by, a majority of voters voting at an election held in said city for the purpose of taking the sense of the people as to whether they are in favor of or against this bill.

The second named bill mentioned in and vetoed by said message reads as follows, viz :

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, § 1. That all moneys, notes, mortgages, bonds, building association shares, stocks and choses in action of every kind and character, all tools and machinery used in manufacturing establishments, and also raw material used in such establishments, and manufactured stock thereof shall be exempt from all taxation or assessments of any kind or character, for municipal purposes by the city of Newport.

§ 2. All laws and parts of laws having special application to the city of Newport, in so far as the same are in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

§ 3. This act shall take effect from and after its passage.

On motion of Mr. Newman—

Ordered, That said bills and veto message be referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

The special committee appointed to investigate lotteries in this Commonwealth, submitted the following report, viz:

FRANKFORT, KY, April 2, 1890.

Hon. JAMES W. BRYAN, Speaker of the Senate, and Hon.

HARVEY MYERS, Speaker of the House of Representatives:

GENTLEMEN: Under a joint resolution of the present General Assembly, approved January 28, 1890, the undersigned were appointed a committee to investigate the lotteries conducted and operated in this State, and were directed to inquire: (1) When these franchises were granted; (2) to whom granted; (3) for what purpose; (4) whether or not they are still conducted for the benefit of the original grantees, and (5) to inquire into any other matter connected with said lotteries that will give information to the General Assembly in relation thereto.

In the first place your committee begs leave to state that it has made an earnest effort to accomplish the purposes of the resolution, but that it has met with much difficulty from the beginning in obtaining the information asked for. Having no authority to punish witness for contempt in refusing to appear or testify, the committee has been unable to obtain the testimony of those witnesses who know most about the lotteries. A certain commissioner who claims to operate a legal lottery, and whose duty it is to see that the drawing is done fairly, assumed a defiant attitude before the committee, and, under the advice of the counsel in the employ of the lottery people, refuse to testify. The committee at once prepared a bill which had for its object the punishment of witnesses for their failure or refusal to appear or testify before it. The passage of the bill met with unexpected delay, but was finally passed, approved by the Governor and became a law. The committee, through its chairman, on March 26, 1890, issued its subpœna for the appearance of J. J. Douglas, Owen Stewart, George Salomon, George Fergerson, John Mauser, Louis Cameron, George Goeber, Charles Corri and T. S. Evans before said committee at the parlors of the Alexander Hotel, in the city of Louisville, on Friday evening, March 28, 1890, at 8 o'clock, to testify concerning the Frankfort lottery and other lotteries. The said subpœna was placed in the hands of G. W. Castle, Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate, and was promptly executed by him on the 27th day of March, 1890, by delivering to each of said witnesses a copy of said subpœna. The full committee met at the time and place designated, but none of said witnesses appeared. Their violation of the law has been referred to the proper officers, and it is hoped that they may be adequately punished. The committee deems it indiscreet and unwise to delay their report for further proof, therefore submit the following in response to the joint resolution :

1. The first is known as the Masonic grant. This lottery franchise was granted by the Kentucky Legislature under an act, entitled "An act for the benefit of the Grand Lodge of Kentucky," approved January 27, 1815. By it certain persons were authorized to raise, by way of lottery, in one or more classes, thirty thousand dollars, for the purpose of erecting a grand Masonic hall in the city of Lexington, for the benefit of the Grand Lodge of Kentucky. They were authorized to retain only twenty per cent. of the proceeds of the sale of tickets. They had the right to sell the franchise, but not for less than ten per cent. of the amount to be drawn. This grant is not now operated, but is claimed to be a valid grant and in full force. The Grand Lodge derives no benefit from it. No tax is paid the State under the Hewitt revenue law. The franchise is now claimed to be owned by S. T. Dickinson, of New York.

2. The second is known as the Shelby College grant. This franchise was given by an act, entitled "An act for the benefit of Shelby College," approved February 16, 1837. By this grant certain persons were authorized to raise one hundred thousand dollars for the use and benefit of said college. They were allowed to retain only twenty per cent. of the proceeds of the sale of tickets; they were authorized to sell the franchise, but not for less than ten per cent. on amount to be drawn. The grant was sold to one Gregory by the trustees of said college for $1,000 per year so long as he operated it. He had the privilege of abandoning the contract at any time by giving six months' notice of such intention. This contract was held invalid by the Court of Appeals, in the case of Gregory's Executrix vs. Trustees of Shelby College, 2 Met., 589, because Gregory was not required to pay ten per cent. on the amount proposed to be drawn by him, as directed by the grant, but instead thereof he was required to pay $1,000 per year so long as he thought proper to make use of the privilege. Afterwards, one Waller, who had advanced large sums of money for the use of said college, and to whom the trustees of said college had mortgaged their rights under the lottery franchise for indemnity, was adjudged to have a vested right in the franchise to the extent of raising the amount so advanced. This franchise is not known to be operated. It pays no tax under the Hewitt revenue law.

3. The third is the Kentucky State Lottery. On the first day of February, 1838, the Legislature, by an act, entitled "An act for the benefit of the city school in the town of Frankfort, and for other purposes," vested in a board of managers the right to raise, by way of lottery, one hundred thousand dollars, in one or more classes, as to them might seem proper. One-half was to be appropriated to the use and benefit of the city school and the other half for the construction of water-works. They were authorized to employ clerks and other officers, and were not allowed to retain out of the proceeds of the sale of the tickets more than twenty per cent. They were also authorized to sell and dispose of the scheme to any person or persons who should enter into bond to the Commonwealth of Kentucky, with good security, with condition well and faithfully to comply with all the terms and provisions of said act. In 1841 said managers sold to one Gregory a scheme and certain classes devised by them, and in 1861 they sold another scheme and the classes thereof to Wood, Eddy & Murray, and finally Simmons & Dickinson became the owners of all the undrawn classes of the schemes sold by said managers to said parties. It is not known to the committee whether or not this lottery is being conducted or operated. It is presumed that it is not; yet, in the city of Covington, as shown from the advertisement in the Covington Commonwealth, two lotteries are being conducted—one under the name of the Kentucky State Lottery and the other under the name of the Frankfort Lottery of Kentucky. The 1838 grant was known as the Kentucky State Lottery; but no tax is paid on said lottery privilege, as required by the Hewitt revenue law. This lottery grant was presumed to be exhausted by Chief Justice Lindsay in the case of the Commonwealth v. City of Frankfort, etc., 13 Bush, page 185. The proof before the committee shows that more than one hundred thousand dollars has been realized by said managers out of said lottery franchise.

4. The fourth is the Kentucky State Lottery for the benefit of the University of Paducah. The acts relied on as establishing a lottery privilege are those of February 8, 1839, March 11, 1851, January 25, 1858, February 9, 1866, and February 7, 1867. The first act authorized certain persons to raise, by way of lottery, one hundred thousand dollars, to be appropriated to the Paducah wharf, Paducah Female Seminary and Paducah Male Seminary. The second establishes the University of Paducah. The third act recites doubt as to whether the Revised Statutes had not repealed the first act, and revives and re-enacts and continues said first act. The fourth act ignores the university and gives the franchise to the seminaries, and the last of said acts gives the franchise back to the university. This grant is presumed to be exhausted. (See Commonwealth v. Bull, 13 Bush, 656.) It pays no tax to the State under the Hewitt revenue law. This grant was once owned by Simmons & Dickinson, but in a statement made by them a few years ago to the chairman of the House Committee on Post-offices and Post-roads in the Congress of the United States, they admit that said grant had been exhausted, and that it had no legal existence.

5. The fifth is known as the Henry Academy and Henry Female College franchise. It was granted by the Kentucky Legislature on December 9, 1850, under an act, entitled "An act for the benefit of Henry Academy and Henry Female College." The managers, J. N. Webb, Thomas B. Posey, Joseph Drane, William Pryor, and C. N. Mathews, were authorized to devise a scheme and raise, by way of lottery, in one or more classes, as to them might seem expedient, any sum not exceeding fifty thousand dollars, to be appropriated for the use and benefit equally of the Henry Academy and Henry Female College. They were authorized to employ such officers as were necessary to conduct said lottery, and were not allowed to retain out of the proceeds of the sale of tickets more than twenty per cent. Before they entered upon the discharge of their duties they were required to execute bond, with good security, in the sum of one hundred thousand dollars for the faithful discharge of their duties under said act. They were authorized to sell said franchise to any person or persons who would enter into a like bond to the Commonwealth of Kentucky to faithfully comply with all the terms and conditions of this act. On December 19, 1850, said managers sold said franchise to one Walter Gregory for the sum of fifty thousand dollars, payable in installments of five hundred dollars each every six months.

Said Gregory executed said bond and paid to said managers on said contract, prior to September, 1874, twenty-three thousand five hundred dollars. It was stipulated in the contract that said Gregory had the right to abandon it by giving six months' notice to the managers, and in case the lottery could not be conducted by reason of any legislative, judicial or other interferences, then payments were only to be made up to the time of such interference. It is believed that Gregory abandoned his contract; yet it is claimed that he assigned his rights thereunder to Wood, Eddy & Co. On June 15, 1874, Z. E. Simmons, with Benj. Wood, of said firm, and S. T. Dickinson as his sureties, executed the bond required by the act, and similar in all respects to that executed by Gregory. The said managers seemed to have assumed that said Simmons was the owner of the franchise by purchase from Gregory, for they acknowledged receipt of said $23,500 paid by Gregory, and entered into contract with said Simmons, by which he was to pay them the remaining $26,500, in installments of $750 each, payable every six months, beginning December 19, 1874. But it was stipulated in the contract that if said Simmons was divested, by legislative or judicial authority, from exercising his rights under the contract, then the payments were to cease. This lottery is not conducted in this State. It is claimed to be in full force and to be owned by S. T. Dickinson, of New York. Since the Hewitt revenue law took effect the revenue tax has been regularly paid thereon.

6. The sixth is known as the Frankfort Lottery of Kentucky. This franchise was granted by section 18 of an act of the Legislature, approved March 16, 1869, entitled "An act to amend and reduce into one the several acts in relation to the city of Frankfort." This act conferred on the board of councilmen of the city of Frankfort the same franchises, power and authority as were conferred on the managers in an act, entitled "An act for the benefit of the city school of the town of Frankfort, and for other purposes," approved February 1, 1838, and the interests and profits of the investments were to be used for the support of the city school. This act was evidently passed by the General Assembly without any knowledge that the eighteenth section contained a lottery privilege. The city council had but little use for it, unless it could sell the grant; so in 1872 the city council, through one Alfred Hensley, who was a newspaper reporter, and to whom a certain remuneration was pledged, obtained the passage of an act, approved March 28, 1872, entitled "An act amendatory of the laws in relation to the city of Frankfort," by which the board of councilmen were authorized to sell said franchise. By authority of said act of March 16, 1869, the city council devised a scheme and sold it to one E. S. Stewart, for one hundred thousand dollars, and said Stewart executed bond in the county court of Franklin county on December 31, 1875, for the faithful performance of the terms and conditions of the grant, with W. H. Way, R. W. Meredith, W. de B. Morrill and W. Scott Glore as his sureties. By this grant one hundred thousand dollars were authorized to be raised by way of lottery. Under said Stewart contract, he bound himself to pay $97,500 in installments between December 31, 1875, and October 1, 1887, and to pay $1,250 on April 1, 1926, and $1,250 on December 31, 1926. The said Stewart failed to make certain payments on said contract. The said city council having received from said Stewart $3,500, sold the franchise to Murray & Miller for $96,500, payable in installments from July 26, 1877, until April 15, 1897. The proof shows that under the grant of March 16, 1869, the city council has received from E. S. Stewart $93,750, and from Murray & Miller, $21,375, making a total of $115,125. In a suit between Stewart and Murray & Miller involving the validity of these contracts, the Court of Appeals decided that the contract of E. S. Stewart was valid. The lottery is now run in the name of E. S. Stewart, but Stewart has been dead more than seven years. The present claimants of the franchise are C. F. Tatem, of St. Louis, Mo., W. C. France, of Lexington, Ky., Thomas Hines, of Jersey City, N. J., and S. T. Dickinson, of New York. It was stipulated in the contract between the city council of Frankfort and E. S. Stewart, that in the event said Stewart was prevented or hindered from drawing said lottery by judicial or legislative proceedings, then payments under said contracts should cease. The parties conducting this grant have paid the revenue tax annually since the Hewitt revenue law took effect. This is the most extensively conducted of the Kentucky grants. It has ticket offices in Covington, Paducah, Owensboro and other places; and in the city of Louisville, where the drawings occur, there are forty-two ticket offices.

7. The seventh is the Newport Printing and Newspaper Company

grant. This privilege was granted by virtue of an act, entitled "An act to incorporate the Newport Printing and Publishing Company," approved April 9, 1878. By it J. J. Hetsch, George M. Dittoe and John C. Schrader was empowered to carry on the business of publishing one or more papers, and of printing and publishing generally. To enable said company to facilitate the circulation of its papers, and to compete with other papers, it was empowered to allot to subscribers such premiums as it may see fit, and in such manner as it may deem most advantageous. A lottery, under the name of "Policy," is operated under this act in the city of Newport. There are four or five places in said city where tickets from five cents and over are sold, and daily drawings are claimed to be held. A prominent citizen, Judge F. A. Boyd, writes to the committee, and uses the following words: "I am pleased to know that this repeal includes the lottery privileges granted to what is known as the Newport Printing Company. This privilege has been used, as I am informed, as a covering for that most contemptible system of gambling known as 'policy.' From what I see of it daily, I regard the 'three-card monte' as an honest game in comparison to it. The poor and the ignorant of our city, white and black, are induced to play at this game, and will deprive themselves of the necessities of life to do so. It is a regular school of vice, in which to educate the children in gambling. These gambling dens of 'policy' are daily manufacturing paupers for the city to support." No tax is paid the State on this grant. It is said to be run by a party in Cincinnati, who pays said company a handsome sum per month for the privilege.

The foregoing seven grants are all that the committee has found. There may possibly be others, but it is not probable that they have any legal existence now. The committee is of the opinion (1.) That the General Assembly has the right to repeal these franchises, for the reason that they are proven to be immoral in their tendencies and a vicious system of gambling. No vested rights have been acquired under them, nor have any liabilities been incurred thereunder by any purchaser of any of these grants. The grant of a privilege to raise money by a lottery is a mere gratuity. It confers no chartered rights, nor does it amount to a contract. The contracts under which E. S. Stewart obtained the Frankfort grant of 1869, and Z. E. Simmons obtained the Henry Academy and College grant, expressly provide that in the event the vendees are prevented from operating the franchise by legislative or judicial proceedings, the payments are to cease and the contract to become void. (2.) The committee thinks that neither the city council of Frankfort nor the managers under the Henry Academy and College grant had any legal right to sell said franchises for stipulated sums per annum. They seem to have assumed that they had the right to sell their franchises for the full amount to be raised by virtue of the grants, and in doing so to empower their vendees to raise an unlimited sum by lottery. Had the grantees operated the lottery they were not authorized to raise a sum in excess of that stipulated in the grant. The persons to whom the grantees sold acquired no greater right. The grantees are not allowed to retain out of the proceeds of the sale of tickets more than twenty per cent., and in case they sold the franchise they were required to exact from the purchaser at least ten per cent. of the amount proposed to be drawn. The sale of these grants were not made in accordance with said provisions. These sales require the full sums authorized to be raised by the grants to be paid to the grantees. The vendees are not restricted within the twenty per cent. The obvious intention of the Legislature has been violated by such contract. It having been made by agents under legislative authority, that authority must be strictly pursued. The contract is absolutely void. By such a contract a lottery grant could be perpetuated forever. No provision was made for any account to be kept from which they or the Commonwealth could ascertain the profits realized by the vendees. Under such a contract, the vendee could retain eighty per cent. of the proceeds of the sale of tickets, and give the ticket holders the remaining twenty per cent. (3.) The committee is of the opinion, that while the city council of Frankfort, and the managers under the Henry Academy and College grant, had legislative authority to sell, their vendees had no such authority to sell; and, therefore, the sales to the present claimants are void.

The committee is further of the opinion that these lotteries can be effectually suppressed by an earnest and active warfare against them in the courts. To this end, it is recommended that the Attorney General be instructed to institute such legal proceedings in the proper courts as will determine the question of the right of the present claimants to conduct them, and that he give to the Commonwealth's

Attorneys such aid and instruction in the performance of their duties as will set on foot the necessary prosecutions for any violations of the law for the suppression of lotteries. It is also recommended that the Governor be empowered, if he shall deem proper, to employ additional legal counsel to represent the Commonwealth. The proof taken by the committee, together with a large number of exhibits, accompanies this report. The exhibits may be used as evidence in prosecutions against claimants of the Frankfort grant of 1869. They have been obtained at considerable cost, and the use of them for the purpose indicated will save the Commonwealth the cost of additional copies.

This report is respectfully submitted to you, and through you to your respective bodies of the General Assembly, with the hope that the work of the committee may be approved and the committee discharged.

An act to provide for the registration of voters in the county of Christian,

Said bill reads as follows, viz :

Officers.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, § 1. That the county judge of Christian county, the clerk of the Christian county court, and the sheriff of said county, shall constitute a board which shall, between the first and thirtieth of April of each year, appoint four sober and discreet citizens in each voting precinct of the said county to act as judges, clerk and sheriff of registration in the precincts for which they are appointed. No person shall be eligible as judge, clerk or sheriff who is not a voter in the precinct for which he is appointed, and a housekeeper. And where there are two political parties, said officers of registration shall be so selected as that one of the judges at each precinct shall be of one political party, and the other shall be of the opposing political party. They shall serve for one year from the time of their appointment, and each officer of registration, before entering upon the discharge of his duties, shall take the oath prescribed by section 1, article 8, of the Constitution.

§ 2. The sheriff of Christian county shall, at least ten days before the general registration in each year, as provided for in this act, give each officer of registration written notice of his appointment. Should the court, sheriff and clerk fail to appoint, or should all the officers appointed fail to attend at the place of registration for one hour after the time for commencing the registration, or refuse to act, then the sheriff, judge or clerk, or either of them that can be found, of the county, shall appoint officers to act in their stead for that registration, but should one or two officers be in attendance, he or they may fill vacancies for the purpose of conducting that registration and may administer the necessary oaths of office.

§ 3. Officers of registration shall have the same power to preserve order at the places of registration as is exercised by officers of elections at the polls. If the officers of registration entertain any doubt as to whether or not any person offering for registration is entitled to such register, or if anyone's right to register is challenged, citizens may be called in, not exceeding three in number, who shall be examined touching the qualifications of such person or persons who offer to register.

Forms.

§ 4. It shall be the duty of the county clerk of Christian county to prepare the proper forms, and cause to be printed two registration books for each precinct in the county of Christian, one of which shall be kept in his office, to be used as provided in section 6 of this act, and the other furnished to the clerks of registration or election before each registration or election day, as hereinafter provided. Said books shall be so arranged as that the names of voters may be registered alphabetically, and shall be arranged as follows :

General Registration.

§ 5. The officers of registration shall attend at the voting places of their respective precincts on the first and second Saturdays in June and the Friday immediately preceding each first and second Saturday in June of each year, from seven o'clock in the morning to six o'clock in the evening, and shall record in the registration books which shall be furnished by the clerks of the county court to each registration clerk a list of such qualified voters of the precinct as may apply for registration. Said list of votes shall be in alphabetical order, and shall show the name of the person, the street on which he lives, if in an incorporated town, and whether he be white or colored; and, if the houses are numbered, the number thereof shall appear on the registration book, and if not numbered, the house, lodging, tenement, farm-house, shall be described in the registration book as accurately as practicable, giving the streets and between streets. Each person thus registered shall be furnished by the officers of registration with a certificate of registration, which shall be in the following form: This is to certify that _____ _____ has this day been duly registered as a legal voter in this the _____ voting precinct of Christian county. This the _____ day of _____ (Signed) _____, Clerk. No person shall be registered who does not appear personally before the judges of registration, and if he be not personally known to one of the officers, or any by-stander shall demand it, he shall be sworn by one of the officers and interrogated by him or such by-stander, touching his qualifications as provided in this act. Opposite the name of each person so sworn the clerk shall write the word "Sworn," which entry shall be prima facie evidence of such swearing in any prosecution under this act. Said registration in June shall be known as the general registration, and any person thus registered may vote at all elections until the next general registration hereinafter provided, unless he become disqualified after registering.

Qualifications.

§ 6. Every person shall be entitled to register who would be entitled to vote at the next succeeding August election—that is to say, every male citizen who, on that day, shall have attained the age of twenty-one years, and shall have resided in the State two years, in the county one year, and in the precinct in which he offers to register sixty days. No person shall be registered who does not personally appear before the officers of registration; and if he be not personally known to one of the officers or if any by-stander shall demand it, he shall be sworn by one of the officers and interrogated by him or by such by-stander, touching his qualifications, as provided in this section. Opposite to the name of each person so sworn the clerk shall write the word "sworn," which entry shall be prima facie evidence of such swearing in any prosecution under this act.

Aliens.

§ 7. Any alien possessing all the qualifications of a voter named in section 6 of this act, except citizenship, shall be entitled to be registered, but the clerk shall write opposite to his name, in the column headed "Remarks," the words "Not naturalized," and such alien shall not be entitled to vote at any election held under that registration, unless he shall produce to the officers of the election his naturalization papers in due form of law.

Mode of Registering.

§ 8. In making the registration the clerk shall act as the recording officer, and the judges shall decide all questions relating to the qualifications of persons offering to be registered, except that in case of a difference of opinion between the judges the clerk shall have the casting vote. It shall be the duty of the clerk to number consecutively the names recorded under each letter of the alphabet as they are taken down, and at the close of the registration he shall sign his name as clerk after the last name recorded under letter as aforesaid in such manner as that no more names can be recorded above his, and shall foot up and certify in the back of the registration book the whole number of names recorded at that registration, and this certificate shall be signed by all the officers of registration before leaving the place of registration and in the presence of by-standers, any two of whom may, if they desire, sign their names as witnesses thereto. In addition to the requirements above, the clerk shall sign his name as such clerk at the foot of each page.

Return and Custody of Books.

§ 9. On the day following the close of the registration the clerk shall deliver the registration book into the hands of the clerk of the county court of Christian county, or one of his deputies, and take his receipt therefor. It shall be the duty of the said clerk to keep the said books safely in his office, and not to suffer the same to be taken therefrom, except as provided in this act. He shall also cause to be made one copy of each registration book in the blank book retained by him, as provided in section 4 of this act, which shall be kept in his office and not taken therefrom for any purpose. In case of loss of any registration book, a copy shall be made by the clerk from the copy retained in his office, which copy shall be used in registrations and elections with the same effect as the original. The clerk shall permit any citizen at any time to copy any registration book without fee or charge, and he shall also furnish copies at the same rate as provided in section 24 of this act for copying the book kept in his office. Copies furnished citizens under this section shall be paid for in cash by the person ordering them.

Special Registration.

§ 10. On the Friday and Saturday next after the first Monday in October, 1890, and on the same day in every second year thereafter, there shall be a registration of those persons whose names were not registered at the previous June registration, and who, but for this act, would be entitled to vote for election for President and Vice President, or for members of Congress, at the ensuing election on the first Tuesday of November in each year. Registrations under this clause, and which shall be known as special registrations, shall be conducted in all respects and under all the provisions and requirements as are hereinbefore provided for the general registration of voters. And if, at any time and for any special purpose, an election shall be ordered by the county court of Christian county, the county judge may, if he shall deem the same advisable, order a special registration of all the voters of said county, for the purpose of ascertaining who shall be entitled to vote in said special election, and the said special registration shall be in all respects similar and according to the provisions of this act in regard to general registrations.

§ 11. On the day prior to each registration provided for in the previous section, the county clerk shall deliver to the registration clerks the registration books for their several precincts, and on the day of such registration the registration officers shall attend at their several places of registration and shall register the names of all persons appearing before them who may be entitled to vote at the election for which the registration is held, and whose names are not already on the registry for that year. The names shall be recorded immediately following the names recorded at the previous registration, and the registration shall be conducted and the books returned as provided in section 5, 6, 7, 8, and 9 of this act. Immediately after the books are returned, the county clerk shall cause the names recorded at that registration to be copied into the book retained in his office, as provided in section 9 of this act.

Removals.

§ 12. Any person removing from one precinct to another after having been registered for that year, may apply to the clerk of registration of the precinct from which he removes, on a registration day, and have his name cancelled off by writing opposite to it the word "removed;" and thereupon the clerk shall give to him a certificate in the following form: This is to certify that _____ has removed from this, the _____ precinct, _____ ward, to the _____ precinct _____ ward, and that his registration has been cancelled. (Signed) _____, clerk. Upon presenting this certificate to the officers of registration of the precinct to which he has removed, he shall be entitled to be there registered, if he possess the other qualifications named in section 6 of this act, and no person so removing, after being registered, shall be registered in another precinct without the production of such certificate.

Striking off Names.

§ 13. Any voter may, by giving five days' notice in writing to any person whose name has been registered, move the court to strike his name from the register, and both parties may introduce witnesses, not exceeding two on each side. Said notice must be served personally. If, at the hearing, the court shall be of the opinion that the person registered is not lawfully entitled to register, it shall direct the clerk to strike his name from the register by inserting after it the words: "Stricken off by order of the court. _____, Clerk." If the person upon whom notice is attempted to be served can not be found, the clerk shall write opposite such name on the registration book the word "Doubtful;" and when, at an election, such person whose name is marked doubtful shall offer to vote he shall be sworn, and his right to vote investigated fully.

§ 14. On the Saturday previous to the first Monday in August, 1890, and on the juridical day previous to every election to be held or vote of the people to be taken thereafter in the county of Christian, the clerk of the county shall deliver to the clerks of election the registration books for their several precincts, together with the poll-books, which said registration and poll-books shall be produced by the said clerks at their several precincts when the polls are opened on the day of election. At the said election no vote shall be received unless the person offering to vote is on the registry provided in this act, and if his vote be challenged by an officer of the election or by a by-stander, unless he exhibit to the officers of the election the certificate of registration issued to him in accordance with the requirements of sections 12 and 13 of this act: Provided, however, That any person whose name is properly recorded on the registry provided by this act, and who has lost his certificate of registration, shall be allowed to vote after he shall have been sworn by one of the judges of the election, and shall have stated under oath that he has lost said certificate of registration, and that said certificate has not passed into the hands of another person with his knowledge and consent.

FRANKFORT, April 15, 1890. }

Gentlemen of the Senate :

I respectfully return, without my approval, a bill, entitled “An act to amend the charter of the city of Louisville and directory to the board of commissioners of public charities of said city.”

The General Assembly has seen fit to accord to the city of Louisville a charter granting to its inhabitants, under the restrictions therein imposed, the rights of local self-government. It is perfectly competent for the legislative department if, in their judgment, the people are not capable of exercising this privilege, to repeal their charter, and to take upon themselves the government of the city according to their own ideas of propriety.

The present bill is evidently based upon the hypothesis that the city of Louisville, as far as its commission of public charities is concerned, is incapable of self-government, and, therefore, proposes to dictate to that commission the manner in which they shall discharge their duty to the public. But in doing this it is believed that the Legislature has imposed upon them the execution of an impossible task.

The first section of the bill provides that "the board of commissioners of public charities for the city of Louisville shall not hereafter use or direct the labor of convicts in the city work-house in such manner as to compete with the laboring classes outside of said work-house. Said commissioners shall hereafter be required to cause convicts in said work-house to work in the stone quarry, prepare curbing for streets and material for macadamizing streets in Louisville, and do other useful labor on the public property so as not to come into competition with labor not under the control of said commissioners: Provided, however, That the city of Louisville may use said material for repair of public ways."

It may be learned, in the most elementary treatise on physics, that reaction is equal to action, that the exertion of a force develops a corresponding resistance; and that the continuous swinging of the woodman's axe, unconsciously to himself, occasions corresponding oscillations of the earth's centre, and through its changes of position affects the movement of the remotest planet in the solar system. Though the effect is infinitesimal and incapable of measurement, it is, nevertheless, a philosophical truth.

As in the physical, so in the social world. The elements of society act and react upon each other. The labor of a single agriculturist, on the remotest frontier of civilization, has its effect upon the labor of others, but its influence is so small that the entire blight of many crops would not very materially affect the markets of the world.

In like manner, the labor of a single convict must necessarily have some slight influence upon other labor; but it is so insignificant, that if all the convict labor of the world were suddenly to cease and should not be resumed, its proportion to the rest of the labor is so small that it would probably not affect the average prices of wages as much as the thousandth part of a cent per day. The only way in which it may be made seriously to affect the price of wages is by directing it upon a particular locality and upon a particular class of work, and this result is accomplished in the present bill. If the labor had been left to be diffused as heretofore upon all departments of work, its influence, though present, would not have been materially felt by any class. But this bill unjustly discriminates against working in stone, and directs that the labor be concentrated upon a single class of work, so that the aggregate of all the convict labor shall come in competition with a particular class of free labor on a limited field, thus necessarily affecting that class; and yet this legislative mandate is accompanied by the further requirement that the competition thus ordered to be inaugurated shall not be permitted to compete. It is doubted if the commissioners can accomplish the task prescribed.

The only way in which convict labor can not in some degree compete with other labor, will be to direct it to cease altogether. But a legislative force exerted in that direction will develop the corresponding reaction. For to the precise extent of the value of the labor thus destroyed there must be an additional tax levied upon the very classes whom this bill erroneously professes to benefit, to maintain the convicts in luxurious ease and idleness.

The vicious and criminal classes must be restrained in order that society may exist. They are a source of constant expense to the Commonwealth, and they should be controlled in such a way that while undergoing salutary restraint their labor should be so employed as to make some reparation to society for the wrongs they have committed. That reparation is not due to one class of people alone, but to society at large. Their labor should not be diverted for the benefit of any one class at the expense of others, for it is society in the aggregate that has been offended and to whom reparation is due. And especially should there be no attempt, as has been made in this bill, to direct the employment of this labor in a way which lessens its benefits to the public while it discriminates injuriously against a respectable and worthy class of the community.

The Senate is therefore respectfully requested to reconsider their action on this bill.

Respectfully,
S. B. BUCKNER.

Said vetoed bill reads as follows, viz :

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, § 1. The board of commissioners of public charities for the city of Louisville shall not hereafter use or direct the labor of convicts in the city work house in such manner as to compete with the laboring classes outside of said work-house. Said commissioners shall hereafter be required to cause convicts in said work-house to work in the stone quarry, prepare curbing for streets and material for macadamizing streets in Louisville, and do other useful labor on the public property so as not to come in competition with labor not under the control of said commissioners: Provided, however, That the city of Louisville may use said material for repair of public ways.

§ 2. All laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

§ 3. This act shall take effect from and after its passage.

§ 2. This act to take effect from and after its passage.

Mr. Hays moved to lay said bill on the table.

And the question being taken on the motion made by Mr. Hays, and a quorum of the Senate not voting thereon, said bill fell into the orders of the day.

Mr. May was appointed a committee on the part of the Senate, to withdraw from the House of Representatives the announcement of the passage by the Senate, of a bill, which originated in the House of Representatives, entitled

An act to authorize the Mount Washington precinct, in Bullitt county, to subscribe to the capital stock of the Louisville and Southwestern Railroad Company.

After a short time Mr. May, from said committee, reported that the committee had performed that duty, and said bill was handed in at the Clerk's desk.

Mr. Darby, from the Committee on Codes of Practice, to whom was recommitted a bill, which originated in the Senate, entitled

An act to amend subsection 3 of section 51 of the Civil Code, Reported the same, with an amendment as a substitute therefor.

Said bill reads as follows, viz :

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, § 1. That subsection 3 of section 51 of the Civil Code of Practice be amended by adding thereto the following words, to-wit: "In an action against a railroad company the summons may be served in any county upon the defendant's chief officer or agent who may be found in this State; or it may be served in the county wherein the action is brought upon the defendant's chief officer or any agent of the defendant who may be found therein; or, in cases where none of the officers of defendant named in subsection 33 of section 732 of the Civil Code reside in the county, it may be served on any member of the board of directors of defendant in any county in the State; or, in cases where defendant has no officer or agent residing or to be found in the county, it may be served by posting up a copy thereof in the principal depot in the county used in connection with the railroad owned or operated by defendant for at least ten days before the term of the court at which the defendant is commanded in the summons to answer: Provided, Said court has jurisdiction of the subject of the action under the provisions of section 72 of the Civil Code. And in an action against a railroad company whose road is operated by some other corporation or company or person, service of the summons upon the officer or agent of the corporation, company or person operating the road shall be valid service upon the defendant company."

§ 2. All acts, general and special, in conflict with the provisions of this act are, to the extent that they conflict with this act, hereby repealed.

§ 3. This act shall take effect from and after its passage.

Said proposed substitute reads as follows, viz :

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, § 1. That section fifty.one (51) of the Civil Code of Practice be amended by adding thereto the following, as an additional subsection (No. 5), viz: It shall be the duty of any corporation owning a railroad located, in whole or in part, within this State, and having no officer or agent residing or located in this State, on whom service of summons may be had, as provided in said section 51, to designate, by writing filed in, and spread upon the records of, the county court of each county in which such railroad, or any part thereof, may lie, some person or persons, residing in one or more of said counties, on whom summons requiring it to answer may be served. Any such corporation, whose railroad is operated by another corpoporation, and which shall have failed to so designate such person or persons, or to re-designate, in case of death or removal of each person theretofore designated, may, in an action filed in any court of a county in which such failure exists, be summoned by service as now provided, on an officer or agent of the corporation so operating its railroad; and, for the purpose of such service, the officers and agents of the corporation so operating shall be regarded as the officers and agents of the owner of the railroad. The facts authorizing such service shall be stated in an affidavit of plaintiff or his attorney, filed before same shall be had, and shall also be stated in the return. As part of such service the clerk shall mail, postage paid, to defendant corporation, or its chief officer or agent, or a director or managing agent, a copy of the summons, the facts being noted on the petition or statement, and recorded on the docket.

Mr. Lindsay proposed the following amendment as a substitute for said proposed substitute, viz:

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky: § 1. That section 51 of the Civil Code of Practice be amended as follows: Where the defendant corporation is the owner or the lessee of a railway in this State, or the builder or constructor of a railway in this State, and can not be served with summons under existing laws, then the person or corporation controlling or operating the railway so owned or built or constructed, shall be treated as the representative of the defendant, and service of summons upon such of the officers or agents of the persons or corporation operating or controlling the railway as would be required if such controller or operator were the party sued, shall be a sufficient service of summons upon the defendant to the action; but such service must be twenty days before the commencement of the term, and the facts authorizing the same must be made to appear by the return of the officer, or the affidavit of some person other than the plaintiff in the action, and the appearance of the defendant to move for the quashal of the service of the summons, shall operate as an appearance for all the purposes of the action, and the same shall stand for trial at the succeeding term of the court in case the motion to quash shall prevail.

§ 2. This act shall take effect from its passage.

And the question being taken on the adoption of the amendment proposed by Mr. Lindsay, it was decided in the affirmative.

Said bill reads as follows, viz :

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, § 1. That hereafter warehousemen and commission merchants engaged in selling tobacco at public auction shall receive as commission or compensation therefor no greater sum than two dollars for each hogshead from the owner thereof or his agent.

§ 2. That in the event the sale of any hogshead of tobacco is rejected by the owner or his agent, and a resale is made by the same warehouse, or in the same warehouse, no greater sum shall be charged for the resales than one dollar per hogshead for any such resale by the same warehouseman or commission merchant.

§ 3. That in every case where the warehouseman or commission merchant charges to the owner a commission for collecting and paying over to him the money for his tobacco, in addition to the commission of two dollars per hogshead for selling, he, the warehouseman or commission merchant, shall account to the owner as much as one dollar for each hogshead, which sum shall go as a credit on said commission—that is to say, his hogshead shall pay one dollar on the extra commission over and above the two dollars for sale of each hogshead.

§ 4. That in the sale or resale of any hogshead of tobacco there shall be no deduction from the net weight by reason of the sample, but in every instance the owner shall be entitled to full weight, as if no sample had been taken.

§ 5. That no additional charge shall be made for weighing so as to increase the price of selling to a greater amount than is herein specified.

§ 6. That no warehouseman or commission merchant shall perchase at auction any tobacco offered for sale in his own warehouse: Provided, however, That nothing in this act shall prevent him from purchasing of the owner his tobacco at private sale.

§ 7. That it shall be unlawful for any warehouseman or commission merchant to hypothecate or pledge any tobacco shipped to or stored with him, or issue any warehouse receipt on any tobacco in his possession without the written consent of the owner; and, in the event he does so without said written consent, such pledge or warehouse receipt shall vest no title in the goods in the holder of said pledge or receipt—that is to say, the owner of the tobacco can not be divested of title to his property without his written consent.

§ 8. That each hogshead shall be a separate sale, and stand or be rejected upon its own merits, and in no case shall the owner be charged commission or rejection fees where the buyer rejects the sale—that is to say, if the farmer makes the rejection he is to pay the rejection fees, and when the buyer rejects the sale he must pay the fees on his own rejections.

§ 9. That all claims for rebate in sales made of any tobacco by any warehouseman, inspector or commission merchant, in which reclamation is made or claimed on the sale of any tobacco, it shall be made within sixty days from the date of said sale, and if not so made within that time the claim shall be barred by limitation.

§ 10. That the proprietor of any warehouse or commission house shall, for every violation of this act, be liable to the party aggrieved thereby in the sum of fifty dollars for each violation thereof, to be recovered by a warrant before any tribunal in this State having jurisdiction of the amount, and on the trial the bills, accounts, sale rendered by the warehouse or commission merchant, shall be prima facie evidence of guilt.

§ 11. That all acts or parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of this amendment are hereby repealed.

Mr. Lindsay also proposed the following amendment to said bill, viz :

Strike out of section 8, lines 5 and 6 the words: "He must pay the fees on his own rejections," and insert these words: "The warehouseman shall charge no rejection fee, but this shall not be construed to require the warehouseman to permit the purchaser to reject any hogshead knocked down to him."

1. Amend by striking out section 3.
2. Amend by striking out all of section 7 after the word "receipt," in the seventh line thereof.

4. Amend by striking out section 9.

Mr. Wortham proposed the following amendment as a substitute for said bill, viz :

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, § 1. That hereafter warehousemen and commission merchants engaged in selling tobacco at public auction, shall receive as a selling fee for each hogshead or package no greater sum than two dollars from the owner thereof or his agent.

§ 2. Said message was taken up and read as follows, viz :

EXECUTIVE OFFICE, }
FRANKFORT, April 21, 1890. }

Gentlemen of the Senate :

I respectfully return, without my approval, a bill, entitled "An act to amend the charter of the Newport Light Company."

The original charter became a law on March 27, 1880, with an authorized capital of one hundred thousand dollars. It was authorized to "furnish any city, town, district, corporation, or locality, or any public institution, manufacturing establishment, or private premises with gas or other light, for such time and upon such terms as may be agreed upon by the parties." The charter also confers the usual powers given to such corporations.

The powers given in the original charter were ample, but the proposed amendment seeks to enlarge them in a way which may possibly prove detrimental to the public interests.

It is not known if the original company has effected its organization, but whether it has or not, the amendment authorizes an increase in the capital stock, and provides "That said company be, and it is hereby, authorized and empowered to sell and transfer its business and franchises to any other corporation, company or person, or to purchase the business and franchises of any other corporation, company or person, or to consolidate its business and franchises with the business and franchises of any such corporation, company or person."

While a judicial interpretation of the law might restrict the arrangements authorized by this bill to corporations of like character with this company, it is believed that the authority given to buy of individuals and to transfer its franchises to individuals might be construed into an authority to combine its interests with business in no ways analagous to that authorized in the original charter, and might lead to combinations of capital injurious to public interests and monopolistic in tendency. The general act of incorporation, under which this company could have procured all necessary powers, provides that the character of the business shall be defined, and the special act should not be less explicit. The public, who have an interest in all corporations of this character, have a right to know, from the terms of the grant, the exact nature of the business authorized to be done.

The Senate is, therefore, respectfully requested to consider if a revision of this bill is not essential to protect individual rights.

Respectfully,

S. B. BUCKNER.

Said vetoed bill reads as follows, viz :

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, § 1. That an act of the General Assembly of this Commonwealth, entitled "An act to incorporate the Newport Light Company," approved March 27, 1878, be so amended as to authorize said company to increase its capital stock to any amount not exceeding $200,000.

§ 2. That said company be, and it is hereby, authorized and empowered to sell and transfer its business and franchises to any other corporation, company or person, or to purchase the business and franchises of any other corporation, company or person, or to consolidate its business and franchises with the business and franchises of any such corporation, company or person.

§ 3. That this act shall take effect from and after its passage.

Ordered, That said bill and veto be referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

A message in writing was received from the Governor by Hon. Ed Porter Thompson.

Said message was taken up and read as follows, viz :

EXECUTIVE OFFICE, }
FRANKFORT, KY., April 22, 1890. }
Gentlemen of the Senate :

I respectfully return, without my approval, a bill, entitled "An act to amend an act, entitled 'An act incorporating the Muhlenberg Coal Company,' " approved February 7, 1880.

- The first section of the bill changes the name of the corporation, styling it "The Carbon Coal and Iron Company," and grants to the new corporation "all the powers and privileges granted in said charter."

The second section increases the capital stock from $500,000 to $5,000,000.

The third section authorizes any three of the original eight corporators to organize the corporation, and to increase their number to fifteen, who will constitute the directors of the company.

The fourth section strikes out the names of the localities in the vicinity of Muhlenberg, which limited the field of operations of the company, and substitutes therefor the words "any counties in Kentucky."

A reference to the terms of the original charter will show the importance of these proposed amendments.

In addition to the privileges granted in the charter "to dig, bore, mine and work" every conceivable mineral substance, acquire any lands and leases or other property, to build railways from its mines to other railroads and to water courses, the corporation was authorized "to acquire, by purchase or lease, the capital stock or the property, rights and franchises of any company whose line of railway crosses over, through or adjacent to such mining lands as it may own or acquire * * and connect its railway lines with river navigation lines, and own and acquire all needed boats for that purpose, * * to build houses, stores, store-houses and offices and to conduct the business of selling merchandise."

When these various powers are considered in connection with the mining interests which may be acquired throughout the State, the Senate will readily see the oppressive nature of the monopoly sought to be established. Should the corporation obtain control of any of the railroads passing over or adjacent to its mines, it could be so operated as to render all adjacent lands almost valueless until acquired by this monopoly at their own prices, for the subsidiary roads leading to the mines, not being common carriers, would be operated by the railroad for the exclusive benefit of those who controlled it. The resulting injury to the public would be proportional to the amount of capital employed to wield this monopoly.

This charter is not unknown at the executive office. It first appeared here under its present name as an original act of incorporation in March, 1888. It contained several names of the incorporators of the Muhlenberg Coal Company, and in its terms was almost an exact transcript of the powers granted in that act. On March 26th the executive returned the bill to the Senate, with his objections, which were sustained, it is believed unanimously, by that body. But on the last night of the session it again passed both Houses of the General Assembly, and reappeared at the executive office, without the slightest change, on the morning of May 4th, just before the final adjournment. It was not approved, and therefore failed to become a law. It now reappears for the third time, under the disguise of an amendment, but when the mask is stripped off the Senate will recognize with me the familiar features of an old acquaintance. It is returned to you with the less reluctance as it will probably resume its accustomed walks and attempt, for the fourth time, to revisit its old haunts about the executive office, before the final adjournment of the General Assembly. Should it reappear, it is hoped, that with the assistance of the Senate, it will be in a less questionable shape than those which it has formerly assumed.

Respectfully,

S. B. BUCKNER.

Said vetoed bill reads as follows, viz :

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, § 1. That the name of the Muhlenburg Coal Company in said act is hereby amended and changed to that of the Carbon Coal and Iron Company, which name is hereby substituted for the name of said corporation, with all the powers and privileges granted in said charter.

§ 2. That section 3 is hereby amended as follows: And in place and in lieu thereof insert the words "five millions;" also that the following words in section 3 shall be stricken out: "But the corporation shall have a lien on the shares of the stockholders who may be indebted to it, and shares shall not be transferred until such debt is paid, without the consent of the president and directors.

§ 3. That section 8 shall be amended to read, after the words "herein named," there shall be added, "or any three of them, and after organization they may increase their number to any number as high as fifteen, by a majority vote of the stockholders, and they"

§ 4. That the words in section 9, "after conducting its business, will be the remaining words," is hereby stricken out of said section, and in lieu thereof inserted "any counties in Kentucky."

§ 5. That the name of Charles H. Mantle be stricken from the board of directors in the original bill.

§ 6. That this act shall take effect from and after its passage.

Ordered, That said bill and veto message be recommitted to the Committee on Immigration and Labor.

Mr. Dickerson, from the Committee on Revenue and Taxation, to whom was recommitted a bill, which originated in the Senate, entitled

An act providing for the employment of the convicts of the penitentiary in the construction of turnpikes in certain counties in this Commonwealth,

Reported the same, with an amendment as a substitute therefor.

Said bill reads as follows, viz:

WHEREAS, There are many undeveloped counties in this Commonwealth which have received no benefits from the large sums of money which have been, from time to time, expended by the State in improving rivers and constructing turnpikes; and whereas, the development of the natural resources of these counties would greatly increase the value of their property, and soon convert many of the now so-called pauper counties into large revenue-paying counties; and whereas, the present system of hiring and letting the convicts of the penitentiary to contractors to be worked outside of the prison walls is cruel in the extreme to said convicts and grossly unjust to the free labor of the State; therefore, for the purpose of bettering the condition of these counties and developing their inexhaustible natural resources by constructing through them turnpikes and thoroughfares with convict labor under the supervision of the State,

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, § 1. That immediately after the passage of this act the Sinking Fund Commissioners shall appoint three well-qualified persons as commissioners, one of whom at least shall be a practical surveyor and engineer, whose duty it shall be, after being sworn to faithfully perform the duties assigned them to the best interests of the State, to survey and locate such turnpike roads through the undeveloped portions of the State as the Sinking Fund Commissioners may direct. The first three lines, however, shall be in that portion of the State having the largest undeveloped territory; one line beginning at the termination of the turnpike in Montgomery county, near Slate creek, and running by the way of Frenchburg, in Menefee county, to Hazel Green, in Wolfe county; there dividing, one line running by the way of Salyersville, in Magoffin county; Prestonsburg, in Floyd county; Pikeville, in Pike county, and terminating at the Virginia State line where the Lavisa fork of the Big Sandy river enters Kentucky, its other division running by the way of Hindman, in Knott county; Whitesburg, in Letcher county, and terminating at the Virginia State line, at or near the Pound Gap. Another line, beginning at the railroad depot at London, in Laurel county, and running by the way of Manchester, in Clay county; Hyden, in Leslie county; Hazard, in Perry county, and Hindman, in Knott county, and terminating at the Big Sandy river near Prestonsburg, in Floyd county. And the third line, beginning at the railroad near Pineville, in Bell county, and terminating at the Virginia State line, at or near Proctor's Gap, in Letcher county.

§ 2. Said commissioners shall report to the Sinking Fund Commissioners as soon after completing the surveys herein named as practicable, stating in detail the following facts: The number of miles in each line; the number of miles in each county through which they shall run; the number of miles between each town on each line; the name of each stream of water crossed; the number, length and location of each bridge, culvert and fill on each line; the number and grade of hills and elevations, and such other facts as the Sinking Fund Commissioners, or they, as surveyors, may deem necessary, together with the probable cost of the right of way through each county, and the probable cost of said turnpikes to the several counties and the State, and the probable length of time required to construct same.

§ 3. Upon receiving the report of the commissioners of the surveys herein named the Sinking Fund Commissioners shall negotiate with the lessees of the convict labor, and, if possible, so modify the present contract without serious loss to the State as to allow a certain number, not less than three hundred, to be used by said Sinking Fund Commissioners in constructing the turnpikes aforesaid in the manner hereinafter provided. If such terms as, in the opinion of the commissioners, is just and right, taking into consideration the great advantage to be derived by the State from working said convicts in constructing the turnpikes aforesaid, can not be agreed upon, then the Sinking Fund Commissioners shall, as early as practicable, release said lessees of their entire contract and take charge of the convicts on the part of the State. At the very latest this shall be done at the expiration of the present term of lease with the present contractors. Then all the female convicts and disabled and long-termed male convicts shall be worked on the inside of the prison walls, on what is known as the State plan, with a view to protect the best interests of the State, and improving the condition, morally and physically, of said convicts, under such rules and regulations consistent with this act and not in conflict with any law of this State as the Sinking Fund Commissioners may adopt; and all the able-bodied, short-termed male convicts shall thereafter employed in constructing the turnpikes aforesaid, and such other turnpikes as the Sinking Fund Commissioners may direct as hereinafter provided.

§ 4. The Sinking Fund Commissioners shall adopt such plans and specifications for constructing said turnpikes as, in their judgment, will insure their construction at the least cost, consistent with the health and comfort of the convicts, in the shortest time, and they shall also prescribe such rules and regulations for working, controlling and guarding said convicts, under proper, competent superintendents and guards, as, in their judgment, will secure the greatest amount of work, and at the same time guard carefully the comfort and health of the convicts, and prevent the same from making their escape.

§ 5. Proceedings to secure the right of way, where the same is not donated, for said turnpikes, shall be the same as prescribed by the General Statutes for securing the right of way for turnpikes and railroads. The cost of the right of way and the cost of securing the right of way for said turnpikes shall be paid by the respective counties through which they run; and it shall be the duty of the county levy court of each county through which said turnpikes shall run to secure, in any way they deem proper, the right of way for such turnpikes, and pay for the same. It shall also be lawful, and it shall be the duty of each county levy court through which said turnpikes shall run, to appropriate such reasonable amount as they may deem proper, not, however, to exceed twenty-five cents on each one hundred dollars' worth of taxable property in the counties in any one year, to aid the State in constructing said turnpikes through their respective counties. Said turnpikes shall be kept and maintained by the counties, as provided in chapter 14 of the General Statutes, entitled "Roads and Passways."

§ 6. One superintendent, with a salary of twelve hundred dollars per year, shall be appointed for each three hundred convicts employed on said turnpikes, and execute bond to the satisfaction of the Sinking Fund Commissioners, who shall take an oath to faithfully perform the duties of his office; and a sufficient number of guards shall be appointed as will secure good discipline and prevent the escape of the convicts, who shall be paid such salaries as are now paid to guards for similar services. The pay of all the guards and all necessary expenses herein attached, including boarding, clothing and necessary medical attention not provided for by the counties, shall be paid out of the State Treasury upon warrants drawn by the Auditor of Public Accounts, upon vouchers signed by the superintendent and approved by the Sinking Fund Commissioners. The salary of the superintendent shall be paid out of the State Treasury upon warrants drawn by the Auditor of Public Accounts, upon vouchers signed by the Sinking Fund Commissioners. The commissioners herein provided for to survey the said turnpike roads shall each receive five dollars per day for each day's service actually and necessarily performed, to be paid out of the Treasury upon a warrant drawn by the Auditor of Public Accounts, upon vouchers signed by the Sinking Fund Commissioners.

§ 7. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Said proposed substitute reads as follows, viz :

WHEREAS, There are many undeveloped counties in this Commonwealth which have received no benefits from the large sums of money which have been, from time to time, expended by the State in improving rivers and constructing turnpikes; and whereas, the development of the natural resources of these counties would greatly increase the value of their property, and soon convert many of the now so-called pauper counties into large revenue-paying counties, and tend greatly to reduce the lawlessness that is said to exist in some of these counties; therefore, for the purpose of bettering the condition of these counties and developing their natural resources by constructing through them turnpikes with convict labor, under the supervision of State and counties respectively,

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, § 1. That as soon after the passage of this act as practicable, the Sinking Fund Commissioners shall negotiate with the present contractors, or lessees of the convict labor, and, if possible, so modify the present contract, without serious loss to the State, as to allow a certain number, not, however, to exceed — hundred of said convicts, to be employed in the construction of turnpikes as hereinafter provided. If such terms as, in the opinion of said Commissioners, are just and right, taking into consideration the advantages to be derived by the State from the construction of such turnpikes, can be agreed upon without violating any terms of contract heretofore entered into by the State, then said Commissioners shall notify the several counties in this Commonwealth, through their respective county levy courts, by printed circulars or pamphlets, of the terms of agreement with the present contractors or lessees, and the terms upon which counties may secure the labor of such convicts, subject to the limitations and restrictions hereinafter given, together with such rules and regulations for transporting, working, guarding, and caring for said convicts as, in their opinion, will best secure their comfort and safety, and at the same time insure economy and rapid progress in the work to be performed, reserving to themselves the right, for good cause, to withdraw any or all of such convicts at pleasure.

§ 2. It shall be the duty of the county levy courts of such counties as desire to avail themselves of the benefits of convict labor for the purposes herein provided, upon the receipt of the notice provided for in the preceding section, to provide for feeding and caring for such convicts while at work in their respective counties, and for defraying the expenses of securing the right of way for constructing and superintending the construction of such turnpikes as may be desired, and for this purpose it shall be lawful for them to levy an ad valorem and capitation tax, not, however, to exceed fifty cents on each one hundred dollars' worth of property, and one dollar on each poll in the county in any year, conditioned upon securing such convicts. Any tax levied by virtue of this act shall be collected by the sheriff, or some person appointed by the court, who shall execute bond therefor to the satisfaction of said court. The money so collected shall be turned over to the county treasurer, or some person designated by the court, who shall also execute bond for the same to the satisfaction of said court. Said money shall be kept and disbursed at such times and in such manner and for such purposes consistent with this act as the court may direct: Provided, That the requisite amount to pay for feeding and caring for said convicts while actually at work in the county shall always be subject to and payable upon the order of the Sinking Fund Commissioners through their authorized agent, superintendent or chief guard.

§ 3. Whenever the county levy court of any county shall have made all necessary provisions for feeding and caring for the convicts while at work in their county, they shall notify the Sinking Fund Commissioners of that fact, and make requisition for such number of able-bodied, short-termed, male convicts as desired, not, however, less than fifty nor more than one hundred and fifty at any one time; whereupon said Sinking Fund Commissioners shall, if such convicts are on hand and at their disposal, furnish the same: Provided, That preference shall be given to undeveloped and remotely situated counties: And provided further, That where two or more of such undeveloped and remotely situated counties join in one notice and requisition for the purpose of constructing through lines of turnpikes, preference shall be given them over all others.

§ 4. The necessary guards for working and safe-keeping of the convicts shall be furnished by the Sinking Fund Commissioners, who shall receive the same salary as guards in the penitentiary now receive for similar services, to be paid monthly out of the State Treasury, upon warrants drawn by the Auditor upon vouchers signed by the Sinking Fund Commissioners. The cost of transporting and clothing convicts employed as herein provided, and all cost necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this act not paid by the counties as herein provided, shall be paid out of the State Treasury, upon warrants drawn by the Auditor upon vouchers signed by the Sinking Fund Commissioners.

§ 5. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

And the question being taken on the adoption of said amendment proposed as a substitute for said bill, it was decided in the affirmative.

Ordered, That said bill be engrossed, and read a third time.

The constitutional provision as to the third reading of said bill being dispensed with, and the same being engrossed,

The question was then taken on the passage of said bill, and it was decided in the affirmative.

The yeas and nays being required thereon by Messrs. Wortham and Berry, were as follows, viz:

An act to incorporate the Paragon Electric Company,
Which was granted.

Whereupon the Speaker appointed Mr. Lunsford such committee on the part of the Senate.

After a short time, Mr. Lunsford, from said committee, reported that the committee had performed that duty, and had delivered said bill into the possession of the House of Representatives.

A message in writing was received from the Governor by Hon. Ed Porter Thompson, Private Secretary.

Said message was taken up and read as follows, viz :

EXECUTIVE OFFICE, }
FRANKFORT, April 23, 1890. }

Gentlemen of the Senate :

I respectfully return, without my approval, a bill, entitled "An act to amend an act, entitled 'An act to incorporate the district of Clifton, in Campbell county,' " approved February 15, 1888.

The first section of the bill proposes to add as an amendment to the third section of the original act, in relation to the powers of the trustees of the district, the following :

"They may affix such penalties for violations of ordinances or by-laws not to exceed a fine of $100 or imprisonment in the Newport jail not exceeding six months, or both in the discretion of the court for each offense. They may, for good reason, by unanimous vote remit fines, penalties and forfeitures, or any part thereof, so far only as the district is interested therein."

It is necessary only to invite the attention of the Senate to a consideration of the division by the Constitution of the powers of the government into three separate and distinct departments, and the denial of the right of anyone connected with one of these departments to exercise any of the powers appertaining to any other department.

With a few specified exceptions the whole power of remitting fines, penalties and forfeitures is devolved by the Constitution on the executive department alone. As the legislative department is forbidden to exercise this power, it necessarily results that they can not confer upon a local Legislature created by their act a power which they themselves can not exercise.

A mere statement of the case will assure a reconsideration of this bill by the Senate.

Respectfully,

S. B. BUCKNER.

Said vetoed bill reads as follows, viz :

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, § 1. That section 3 be amended by adding after the word "act" in the first line, the words, "and their successors." And after the word "trustees" in the third line, the words, "and who shall have the right to vote in case of a tie." It is just and proper to the guards at the prison, who have to watch over the worst criminals in the State, that they should be equally compensated, their duties and time being more than policemen and firemen, that they should receive pay for their services as much at least as policemen and firemen of the towns and cities in the State ; and whereas, the positions at the prison are all alike responsible, and no distinction as regards salary should be made, but all paid the same amount ; therefore,

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, § 1. That the guards at the Kentucky Penitentiary be paid the sum of $60 each per month for their services.

§ 2. The Auditor of Public Accounts is directed to issue his warrant on the Treasurer on the last day of each month for the amount between the present pay of guards and $60 per month.

An act to amend the charter of the Bank of Commerce.

Mr. McCain, chairman of the special joint committee of the Senate and House of Representatives, appointed to investigate and report on the condition of the Branch Penitentiary at Eddyville, submitted the following as the majority report of said committee, viz:

FRANKFORT, KY, April 26, 1890.

Hon. JAMES W. BRYAN, Speaker of the Senate, and Hon.

HARVEY MYERS, Speaker of the House of Representatives:

We, your joint committee, appointed to investigate the condition of the Eddyville penitentiary, would respectfully report that as most of the members of the House and many of the members of the Senate visited and made a personal inspection of the condition of the buildings and surroundings, we do not deem it necessary to give an extended report as to the condition of the buildings. We will, however, say that as far as the work has progressed it seems to be substantially done, and we believe that at the outside limit said prison can be made ready for the reception and advantageous working of 414 convicts by the first of September next. As to the appropriations and expenditures for said prison we respectfully refer to the Governor's report, dated March 20, 1890, made in response to House resolution, which report gives a thorough and complete statement of all expenditures. The contractors, Mason & Foard Company, are also the lessees of said property for a period of ten years from the second day of October, 1888, which is fully shown in the Governor's report. They also agreed and contracted to build and construct a branch railroad from the line of the Newport News and Mississippi Valley Railroad to near the penitentiary building, which they have been unable to do, because they could not acquire the right of way from the land owners by purchase, and had no authority to condemn land for right of way. We recommend that an act be passed authorizing the commissioners to condemn right of way for said road.

We find, from the Governor's report, there remains unexpended of the last appropriation for said penitentiary the sum of $9,082.96, which amount, we think, will be sufficient to cope the walls inclosing the prison buildings, which should be done, and to arch cells with corrugated sheet iron. By arching the cells it will make the prison much warmer in the winter, and by barring out the rays of the sun make it much cooler in the summer. We respectfully recommend that said $9,082 96 be so applied. We think with the walls coped and the cells arched the prison will be comfortable and the walls made secure and the buildings ready for 414 convicts, and, therefore, we do not recommend any further appropriation.

We respectfully refer to the act of April 4, 1888, and supplementary act of May 4, of same year, and we file evidence in writing, taken before joint committee, and the contract made by the Governor on the part of the State with the Mason & Foard Company to build said penitentiary building as a part of this report, all of which is respectfully reported.

On motion of Mr. McCain—

Ordered, That said report be referred to the Committee on Penitentiary and House of Reform.

Mr. Darby of the special joint committee of the Senate and House of Representatives, appointed to investigate and report on the condition of the Branch Penitentiary at Eddyville, on behalf of himself and Messrs. J. J. Nall and S. L. Holland, submitted the following as a minority report of said committee, viz :

FRANKFORT, KY., April 23, 1890.

To Senate and House of Representatives :

The undersigned members of the committee appointed to visit, examine and report as to the condition and progress of the branch penitentiary at Eddyville, would report that they visited said prison and found it in such advanced state of completion that in our opinion it can be made ready for reception of 414 convicts by the first day of July, 1890.

We estimate, that after completion of existing contracts, there will be a balance of the appropriation of last session of about $9,000. But this is only an estimate. The balance may be reduced below this amount.

The completion of said contracts will still leave considerable work to be done to make said branch ready for occupancy and use as a prison. The following will be necessary :

1. Arch from cell-house walls to cell.
2. Wall to protect shop building from water.
3. Copping on outer wall.
4. Paving grounds inside wall.
5. Branch railroad from Newport News & Mississippi Valley Railroad.
6. Furnishing guard rooms and offices in administration building.
7. Putting wash troughs and other fixtures and furniture in kitchen and laundry.
8. Putting iron bedsteads in 414 cells.

None of these matters seem to be provided for by existing contracts, except the building of branch railroad, which contract could not be carried out, because the appropriations proved to be insufficient, and for further reason that no provision has been made for the procuring of right of way.

The balance of $9,000, or so much of it as may remain available, will be largely insufficient to do the work and put in fixtures, etc., named. And further appropriations will be necessary to do said remaining work and put in such fixtures and furniture as the General Assembly may deem proper to do or to put in.

Stone or iron should be put in front of administration building, but wooden steps are being used.

The work suggested will still leave several rooms in the administration building and the tower incomplete.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

F. W. DARBY,
J. J. NALL,
S. L. HOLLAND.

On motion of Mr. Darby—

Ordered, That said report be referred to the Committee on Penitentiary and House of Reform.

And then the Senate adjourned.

A message in writing was received from the Governor by Hon. Ed Porter Thompson, Private Secretary.

Said message was taken up and read as follows, viz :

EXECUTIVE OFFICE, }
FRANKFORT, April 29, 1890. }

Gentlemen of the Senate :

I respectfully return, without my approval, a bill, entitled "An act for the benefit of Francis M. Gibson, of Wayne county."

The preamble recites that said Gibson having been convicted of felony and having served a term of one year in the State penitentiary, is still deprived of the right of suffrage, and the first section of the bill declares "that the said Francis M. Gibson be, and he is hereby, restored to the right and privilege of voting, and all the disabilities, by reason of said incarceration, are hereby removed."

The conviction of the beneficiary of this act was procured under a law enacted by the General Assembly in pursuance of the mandatory provisions of section 4, article 8 of the Constitution, which provides that "Laws shall be made to exclude from office and from suffrage those who shall thereafter be convicted of bribery, perjury, forgery or other crimes or high misdemeanors."

The people in adopting this provision evidently believed that persons guilty of the crimes specified, did not possess the qualifications proper in an elector, and therefore imposed upon the legislative department a duty which they could not evade, to enact laws to carry into effect their expressed wishes.

Under the laws thus enacted, the beneficiary of this bill was convicted, and it appears that he was sentenced to serve a term of one year in the State penitentiary, and to be forever deprived of the right of suffrage. That part of the sentence inflicting imprisonment has been completed ; the residue is a continuing sentence not yet fulfilled and which, it is proposed, shall be brought to a termination by the passage of this bill.

The bill is not in the nature of an act of legislation, but of an executive act of pardon. It is the province of the legislative department to enact, to repeal and to modify laws, but not to adjudicate nor to execute them. The first article of the Constitution provides that the powers of the government shall be divided into three "distinct departments," and that each of these departments shall be confided to "a separate body of magistracy—those which are legislative to one; those which are executive to another, and those which are judiciary to another;" so that no person belonging to one department shall be a member of either of the others.

The second section of this article is still more explicit, ordaining that "no person or collection of persons, being of one of those departments, shall exercise any power properly belonging to either of the others, except in the instances hereinafter expressly directed or permitted."

The tenth section of the third article declares that the Governor "shall have power to remit fines and forfeitures, grant reprieves and partons." The only exceptions are in cases of treason and impeachment, in certain specified fees, and a limitation of his power to pardon in cases of dueling.

In no part of the Constitution is any authority to pardon given to the General Assembly except in cases of treason.

The only question to be determined is, whether the present bill is in the nature of a legislative or of an executive act.

As far back as 1842 the just limits of legislative and executive action in cases of this character were defined by Chief Justice Robertson, of our Court of Appeals, in the case of Commonwealth v. Jackson.

In 1833 the Legislature enacted a law affixing certain penalties for its violation. In 1843 it amended this law, providing that on a compliance with certain conditions the penalties inflicted by the original act should not apply.

After the passage of the amendatory act, and after a compliance on the part of Jackson with its conditions, an action was brought with the object of inflicting on Jackson the penalties imposed by the act of 1833. The Court of Appeals adjudged that "had the Legislature repealed, instead of modifying, as it did, the act of 1833, Jackson, though he may have been guilty of violating that statute before the repeal of it, could not have been punished, because no judgment of conviction could have been rendered against him without a law in force at the date of the judgment authorizing the court to render it. The power to repeal necessarily included that of modifying or suspending the act of 1841 is as efficacious in Jackson's favor as an unqualified repeal of the statute would have been."

Commenting still further on the case, Chief Justice Robertson said: "Our Constitution has wisely distributed all local sovereignty among three organized departments, and as wisely declared that no one of these departments shall exercise any power properly belonging to another. And this is, perhaps, the most conservative provision in our organic law.

"But it has not, in our opinion, been violated by the enactment of 1841; for though the Constitution confides to the Governor the high power to pardon offenses and remit penalties, nevertheless the supplemental and qualifying act of 1841 can not be deemed a pardon or remission in the constitutional sense. It is general, permanent, prospective and comprehensive. It conditionally repealed the act of 1833, and abolished the offense denounced therein, and in consequence of its provisions, Jackson is guilty of no offense which the Governor could pardon. A pardon is a liberation of the guilty from the punishment of the violated law. The act of 1841 abolishes the law. A pardon rescues an individual from the law. In the one case the offense and the law both continue to exist; in the other there is neither subsisting—offense nor violated law. Both the offense and the violated law have been abolished, as to Jackson, by the statute of 1841. But when the Governor pardons, both the offense and the offended law still subsist, the punishment only being remitted. The Legislature has remitted the crime itself, and virtually repealed the law which denounces it. The act of 1841 was, therefore, legislative and not executive."

Applying the principles of this decision to the present bill, it will be perceived that the Legislature leaves in full force the statute under which the beneficiary was convicted; that it does not attempt to abolish the offense for the future, but limits its action to an attempt to "rescue an individual from the law;" to liberate "the guilty from the punishment of the violated law," which is defined by the court to be a "pardon," or executive act which the Legislature is forbidden to exercise. The proposed bill is, therefore, clearly unconstitutional.

The question has been discussed at some length, because of the recent action of the Senate on a question where the same principle was involved. The bill which was then returned to the Senate, conferred upon the legislative department of a municipality the power to "remit fines, penalties and forfeitures" in which the municipality was interested. Of the many charters granted by the present General Assembly, this was the only one in which this particular feature was discovered. It seemed to violate so clearly the principle prescribing a division of the powers of the government, that it was returned to the Senate without full discussion, assuming that the eminent lawyers of that body would sustain the objections that were indicated rather than urged. When these objections were overruled by an almost unanimous vote, I was disposed to believe that my position was necessarily wrong. I sought, therefore, to correct the errors of my position, and asked eminent lawyers to aid me in discovering their sources, but nearly all with whom I have advised have sustained the position I assumed in my communication to the Senate.

It is proper then, in this connection, to consider the character of a municipal government. Is it so different from either portions of the State government as to be exempted from the operations of the Constitution? That instrument, without making any exceptions, divides all the powers of the government into three distinct and separate departments, with a separate magistracy for each department, these bodies pervading the whole State, and extending from the highest to the lowest functionary. Interpreting this part of the Constitution, the decision already cited, declares that it "has wisely distributed all local sovereignty among three organized departments, and as wisely declared that no one of these departments shall exercise any power properly belonging to another."

The same high authority, Judge Robertson, in a decision of the Court of Appeals rendered in 1864, defining the character of a municipality, says: "But a municipal corporation like a State, a county, or the city of Louisville, is much more than a person. While nominally a person, it is vitally a political power; and each, in its prescribed sphere, is 'imperium in imperio,' All are constituent elements of one total sovereignty.

The city of Louisville, to the extent of the jurisdiction delegated to it by its charter, is but an effluence from the sovereignty of Kentucky, governs for Kentucky, and its authorized legislation and local administration of law, are legislation and administration by Kentucky through the agency of that municipality,

It necessarily follows from this decision that every municipality in the State is but a part of the total sovereignty ; that the Constitution and the principles embodied in it apply equally to all ; that the division of powers exists everywhere, and that the same restriction limiting each department to the exercise of its appropriate powers applies to the local government of every municipality.

If it be otherwise, whence are its extraordinary powers derived? It is the creature of legislative enactment. Can the Legislature confer upon its creature powers not possessed by itself? If so there can be no limit to the powers it may confer. If it can merge two departments of the local government into one, it can equally confer upon a single department the powers of all three, which the Constitution declares shall remain separate and distinct ; and if it can constitute one municipality with these extraordinary powers, it can divide the entire State into similar municipalities, and by sufficiently enlarging the powers can overthrow the Constitution altogether.

It is of little moment who may pardon the penalties inflicted in any special locality, but the principle involved in maintaining the division of the powers of government is of vital importance ; and the Senate, a wise and conservative body, which should be the sheet anchor to hold fast the Constitution to its moorings, will be slow to take any action tending to the nullification of a clause of the Constitution written by Thomas Jefferson, adopted by the people of Kentucky, and contained in every one of the Constitutions of the Commonwealth.

Respectfully,

S. B. BUCKNER.

Said vetoed bill reads as follows, viz :

WHEREAS, Francis M. Gibson, of Wayne county, Kentucky, was convicted of felony in said county in the year 1870, and sentenced to the State Penitentiary for the period of one year ;

he having served his time and then returned to Wayne county, and has lived there ever since, a good, industrious, law-abiding and tax-paying citizen, and during this long period has been denied the right of suffrage; therefore,

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, § 1. That the said Francis M. Gibson be, and he is hereby, restored to the right and privilege of voting, and all the disabilities by reason of said incarceration are hereby removed.

§ 2. This act shall take effect from its passage.

The question was then taken on the passage of said bill, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding, and it was decided in the negative.

The yeas and nays being required thereon in pursuance of a provision of the Constitution, were as follows, viz :

In the affirmative—Phil Roberts—1.

Those who voted in the negative, were.

A message in writing was received from the Governor by Hon. Ed Porter Thompson, Private Secretary.

Said message was taken up and read as follows, viz :

EXECUTIVE OFFICE, }
FRANKFORT, April 28, 1890. }

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives :

I respectfully transmit to you a communication from the Judge of the Nineteenth Judicial District, inclosing a petition from a number of citizens of Perry county, requesting that troops be sent from some other section of this State, for the purpose of protecting the circuit court during its sittings in the counties of Perry and Knott. These communications should command your serious consideration.

At the beginning of your session your attention was invited to the disturbed condition of some of the counties in the State, in the hope and expectation that your wisdom would frame enactments which would remedy the evils which were then indicated; but as no legislation tending to the solution of these difficulties has reached the Executive Office, it is deemed appropriate to present these matters, in their present phase, for such legislative action as may be deemed advisable.

The facts leading to the present condition of affairs may be briefly summarized. In the autumn of 1888, on the representations of the circuit judge, a detachment of the State Guard was ordered to Perry county for the protection of the court. During the stay of this detachment a military company was organized in Perry county and mustered into the State Guard. As the county seat was remote from any line of transportation, and as the cost to the State for transporting troops from a distance was very great, it was deemed a matter of economy to organize, arm and equip a company on the spot where they were needed. It was also deemed proper in other respects, as there would then be constantly present an organized force of citizen soldiery, subject to the call of the local civil authorities whenever their assistance might be needed for the enforcement of the laws. This force is still present and subject to the call of the circuit judge or other proper officer in case of necessity. If summoned by these officials to aid them in enforcing the law, the cost must be defrayed, as it ought to be defrayed, by those to whose assistance they are called, and who are under every obligation to vindicate their claim to the right of local self-government.

If summoned by the Executive from a distance the expense will be many times greater, and must be paid out of the State Treasury. In either case the troops will be alike subject to the orders of the local civil authorities without interference on the part of the Executive.

As far as the present emergency is concerned the Executive will endeavor fully to discharge his duties, but whatever may be his action under existing laws, the situation has attained such gravity that legislative action is absolutely essential to a proper solution of the questions involved.

The presence of troops, whether local or from distant counties, will be sufficient to protect the court, but not to obtain justice. They can not and ought not to influence the finding of grand juries or the verdict of petit juries, or the testimony of a single witness. They can render the peaceful sitting of the court possible; they can relieve the community from the sense of immediate danger from lawless men, but they can not remove the apprehension of danger to be encountered after the withdrawal of the troops. On the departure of the troops, if from a distance, the lawless elements, though but a small part of any community, resume their aggressions, and the more numerous law-abiding element of society which, if resolute and united, could easily crush out all opposition to the enforcement of law, relapses into a condition of chronic timidity, due alone to the absence of organized effort under the direction of efficient officers of the law. It is this condition of things which confronts us in a number of counties in the Commonwealth, and to which we have no right to close our eyes. It is a difficult problem to solve, requiring the application of wisdom and true statesmanship on the part of the General Assembly; but, difficult as it may be, it can not be conceded to be impossible of legislative solution, unless republican government is to be considered a failure.

I will not venture to renew any of the suggestions which failed at the beginning of your session to awaken the attention of the General Assembly to what impressed me as one of the most important questions which would command their attention. If I could have done this, I feel assured that your study of the question would have found expression before this time in salutary legislation.

In the meantime, the difficulties attending the administration of justice are increasing, the sphere of local disturbances is enlarging, and the necessity for legislative action becomes daily more urgent.

Your careful consideration of this question is earnestly invoked.

Respectfully,

S. B. BUCKNER.

The communication and petition accompanying said message reads as follows, viz:

MANCHESTER, KY., April 24, 1890.

S. B. BUCKNER, Governor of Kentucky:

DEAR SIR.—I have the honor herewith to transmit to you a petition of sundry good citizens of Perry county, which will explain to you the opinion and wishes of the petitioners.

I am satisfied that the statements of their petition are true. Will you please be so kind as to notify me of your determination, so that I may give notice to the people and make necessary arrangements.

Very respectfully,

H. C. LILLY,

Judge of the Nineteenth Judicial District.

To the Hon. S. B. BUCKNER, Governor of the State of Kentucky:

We, the humble citizens of Perry county, see the necessity of a circuit court being held at this place, and we are satisfied that no judge can hold a court at this place without the presence of troops, and we ask your Honor to aid us in enforcing the law.

Will further say to you that the Perry County State Guards has, in part, left the county, and are so broken up and without ammunition that they can not render any assistance.

We have given this matter a careful and perfect thought, without prejudice, we want the law enforced, and without your aid we can not have it.

Will further say, that if your Honor thinks it proper to assist us in the way of troops, it is our opinion that it is necessary to render aid in Knott county, adjoining this:

The Senate, according to order, took up for consideration a bill, which originated in the House of Representatives, entitled

An act to amend an act, entitled “An act to incorporate the Paris Electric Light Company, in Bourbon county,” approved May 9, 1884,

Together with the message of the Governor vetoing the same.

Said bill reads as follows, viz :

WHEREAS, George G. White, James M. Thomas, Wm. Tarr, John C. Brent and B. F. Remington, by writing, assigned and transferred all the rights, powers, privileges and franchises conferred upon and granted to them, under and by virtue of an act of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, entitled “An act to incorporate the Paris Electric Light Company, in Bourbon county,” approved May 9, 1884, to George S. Varden, Elias Bishop, John Webb and Emmet M. Dickson ; and whereas, the said assignees and a large number of other persons became subscribers for stock in said company, and an organization of said company was effected under the said act of incorporation by such subscribers at the law office of Emmet M. Dickson, in Paris, Kentucky, on the twenty-eighth day of November, 1889, at which time the following-named persons were elected as officers of said company, to-wit: George S. Varden, president ; T. Earl Ashbrook, vice [president ; John Webb, Jr., treasurer, and R. B. Hutchcraft, John B. Northcutt, B. F. Perry, Gus Fee and Dan. Roche, directors ; therefore,

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, § 1. That the said assignment and transfer by the persons named as incorporators in the said act of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky incorporating the Paris Electric Light Company is hereby declared legal and valid, and the said George S. Varden, Elias Bishop, John Webb and Emmet M. Dickson are hereby vested with all the rights, powers, privileges and franchises as that conferred upon the persons named in said original act of incorporation.

§ 2. That the organization of said company at the time and place, and in the manner set out in the foregoing preamble be, and the same is hereby, declared legal and valid.

§ 3. This act shall be in force from and after its passage.

Said veto reads as follows, viz :

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
FRANKFORT, April 12, 1890. }

Gentlemen of the House of Representatives :

I respectfully return, without my approval, a bill entitled, "An act to amend an act, entitled 'An act to incorporate the Paris Electric Light Company, in Bourbon county,' " approved May 9, 1884.

The preamble to the bill recites that a number of the grantees under the original charter have, "by writing, assigned and transferred all the rights, powers, privileges and franchises conferred upon and granted to them," by the act of 1884, above cited, "to George S. Varden, Elias Bishop, John Webb, and Emmet M. Dickson," and that these assignees and other parties became subscribers to the stock, and effected an organization of the company at the office of Emmet M. Dickson on November 28, 1889, and elected certain officers ; that, therefore, as enacted in section 1 of this bill, the "said assignment and transfer," by the persons named, "is hereby declared legal and valid," and that the assignees above named "are hereby vested with all the rights, powers, privileges and franchises as that conferred upon the persons named in said original act of incorporation."

The second section further declares "that the organization of said company at the time, place, and in the manner set out in the foregoing preamble, be, and the same is hereby, declared legal and valid.

As the assignees are invested with all the powers and privileges granted to the first beneficiaries by the act of 1884, a reference to the original charter is desirable. The fourth section of that charter required an annual election of directors, to be held "at the office of the company, in the city of Paris, on the second Saturday in January of each year." From the preamble of the proposed amendment, it may be inferred that the company had no office ; that there had been no election of directors, but that five of the seven original corporators, in their individual capacity, disposed of their assumed rights to four other individuals, who thereafter, in connection with others, effected an organization, which it is now sought to legalize by this amendment.

The sixth section of the original charter authorized the company "to lay its pipes and mains, to erect its poles, posts and wires through and along any street or highway in the city aforesaid, or adjacent thereto, as it may deem fit," there being no provision subjecting this right to the action of the city authorities.

The sixth section authorizes the city of Paris to take stock in the Company, but forbids its right to control the company by limiting its subscription to one-third of the capital stock.

The fifth section declares "that the business of said Company is limited to furnishing and supplying the city of Paris and its inhabitants, and persons and corporations located near to said city, with light and motive power generated by electricity, steam or other artificial means, or to the furnishing and supplying either said light, power or heat," and further provides "that the body hereby incorporated shall have the exclusive privilege of conducting the business above described within and adjacent to said city for the term of twenty-five years from the organization of this company."

The history of the proceedings under this charter illustrates the different theories entertained in regard to the object of such grants. The theory of the constitution is that they are for a public use, and the people have forbidden, in that instrument, that their property and rights shall be taken away, except for the good of society at large, and then society was to make just compensation to the individual injuriously affected. But the theory of these corporators seems to be, and the Legislature of 1884 appear to have adopted that theory, that the rights and property of the people can be donated by a legislative body to a few select individuals, who are incorporated for the sole purpose of being the recipients of this bounty, with the privilege of trafficking in the rights of a whole community.

In pursuance of this theory, it appears from the preamble to the proposed amendment to the original charter, that the corporators did not consider themselves under any obligation to erect works for the public benefit, but regarded themselves as the recipients of a valuable donation; and that having awaited for six years to receive a price for franchises given to them, without exacting any public service in return, they have now effected a sale and ask the present General Assembly to ratify the bargain, and to impose, for the pecuniary interests of these few individuals, upon an entire community, whose rights do not seem to have been worthy of being considered, an oppressive monopoly for a period of twenty-five years from November 28, 1889.

The charter, from its inception, seems to have been purely speculative, benefiting the few at the expense of the many; and its re-adoption by the present General Assembly seems to to have been sought, not by stating in terms its extraordinary privileges, but rather by conceding those privileges by a mere reference to a past enactment which was not immediately in view.

This bill will doubtless receive, at your hands, the same treatment which was awarded to its twin brother, of Fayette county, a few days ago.

Respectfully,

S. B. BUCKNER.

The Speaker of the Senate in pursuance of said motion, announced the appointment of Messrs. Newman, Dickerson, Darby, McCain and Shearer as said committee, to whom said communication was referred.

A message in writing was received from the Governor by Hon. Ed Porter Thompson, Private Secretary.

Said message was taken up and read as follows, viz :

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
FRANKFORT, May 3, 1890. }

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives :

The people of the Commonwealth in adopting their organic law, have seen fit to prescribe and limit the duties both of the legislative and executive departments of the State government. Each is restricted to the proper exercise of the duties assigned by that instrument to the respective departments, and neither department can properly impose upon the other any duty in addition to those distinctly prescribed in the Constitution.

No authority is given to the General Assembly to add to the duties imposed by the people on "the supreme Executive power of the Commonwealth." If they could impose a single extra constitutional duty on the Executive they could impose duties without limit, and thus defeat the objects of the people who defined precisely the duties of his office.

The General Assembly, from time to time, has appointed certain specific duties to be performed by the Governor ; but these acts have been regarded by my predecessors, and by the present Executive as expressions of a desire on the part of the legislative department, and not the exercise of a constitutional power on their part. As long as the duties thus proposed were not incompatible with those prescribed by the people, courtesy to the legislative body and a regard for the public interests have alike commanded a ready acquiescence with the expressed wishes of the General Assembly.

But when such compliance on the part of the Executive becomes simply the pretext for unjust aspersions or for intemperate criticisms enunciated in the license of debate, it is proper that the Executive of the State should limit the discharge of his duties to the strict requirements of the Constitution, and to decline to enter upon the discharge of any extra constitutional duty proposed by the General Assembly. Especially should this be done when there may be such a conflict between these two classes of duty as may seriously interfere with the constitutional demands on his office.

Amongst other duties of this character proposed for the Executive are those prescribed in the General Statutes, where the Governor is constituted one of the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund and ex officio director of the Kentucky Penitentiary, and the requirements of the act of May 4, 1888, where he is constituted a quasi supervising architect of a public structure.

Actuated by a regard for the public welfare, and desiring to comply with the wishes of the Legislature, the Executive has discharged the duties of these positions, which are alike disagreeable and onerous, with such ability as he possesses, with entire fidelity to duty, and, he believes, with great advantage to the public. But since the recent discussions in the House of Representatives in regard to his connection with these positions he feels that an official who has a proper sense of the duties of the high office which has been constituted to represent, in some degree, the dignity of the people, should no longer permit it to be dragged in the mire of partisan discussion by consenting that its duties should be so far perverted from the expressed purposes of the framers of the Constitution.

In obedience, therefore, to the duty I owe the people of the Commonwealth, I respectfully announce to the General Assembly my resignation of all other connection with the duties of the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund and of the construction of the branch penitentiary, except those prescribed by the Constitution. The announcement is made at this time that you may adopt such measures as you may deem appropriate to fill the vacancies occasioned by my resignation of the office of Commissioner of the Sinking Fund and quasi director of the construction of the branch penitentiary.

Very respectfully,

S. B. BUCKNER.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE, }
FRANKFORT, May 5, 1890. }

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives :

It becomes my painful duty to announce to the General Assembly the sudden death in Washington City on the afternoon of the third of the present month of the Hon. James Beck, senior Senator from Kentucky in the Congress of the United States.

The official life of Senator Beck is the history of public duty discharged with entire fidelity and conspicuous ability. Honored by the people of the Commonwealth, his great services have reflected honor upon them, and the example of his life and his patriotic teachings will leave their impress upon remote posterity.

It is in every way appropriate that we of his own generation, who have been fortunate enough to be permitted to admire the virtues of one so distinguished when living, should give expression to our sorrow at the loss which the Commonwealth has sustained in the death of this eminent citizen and able defender of the rights of the people.

It is expected that the funeral cortege will reach Lexington about noon on Wednesday next, and that the funeral will take place on the following day.

Very respectfully,

S. B. BUCKNER.

As reflecting the action of the Senate on said message, Mr. Lindsay read and laid on the table the following joint resolution, viz:

WHEREAS, Information having come to this General Assembly of the death of the Honorable James B. Beck, a Senator representing the Commonwealth of Kentucky in the Congress of the United States, it is proper that the two Houses shall express their appreciation of the calamity that has befallen the country, and take the necessary steps to manifest the respect, esteem and love of the people of Kentucky for this great and good man, therefore be it

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky: 1. That in the death of James B. Beck, the country at large sustains the loss of an enlightened and patriotic statesman, and the State of Kentucky its most distinguished citizen. Patient, laborious and intellectual, he brought to the discharge of his duties all the great powers, moral and mental, with which he was gifted by nature, and all the stores of political information he acquired by the untiring and unceasing industry for which he was so exceptionally distinguished. He was the champion and defender of the unrepresented people of the South in their darkest hours of adversity, and by his able and zealous services in their behalf, deserved and secured their lasting gratitude. The adopted son of this Commonwealth, he gave to Kentucky and the people of Kentucky all the love of his strong and manly nature, and in return received the affectionate confidence and esteem of Kentuckians to an extent that has not been exceeded by any man, living or dead. As the representative of the Ashland District in the House of Representatives, and as a Senator sitting for Kentucky in the Congress of the United States he was equal to every occasion, and upon many of the great questions of the day was a recognized leader without a peer in either of the great political parties. By his great public service, his devotion to duty and his love of country, he won national fame for himself, and reflected unmeasured honor and glory upon his people and his State, and dying, he leaves no one able to fill his place.

2. Be it further resolved, That the Governor of the Commonwealth be, and he is requested, to cause the public buildings at Frankfort to be appropriately draped in mourning, with flag at half mast, for a period of thirty days; that a joint committee of thirteen, five from the Senate and eight from the House of Representatives, to be named by the speakers of the respective Houses, be, and the same is hereby, raised with the Sergeant-at-arms of the two Houses to meet the remains of the distinguished dead at the eastern border of Kentucky, and to accompany them as an escort of honor, on the part of Kentucky, to their final resting place, that the Governor of the Commonwealth, the Lieutenant-Governor and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, are each requested to accompany and act with the said committee, and that the General Assembly attend in a body the funeral ceremonies.

3. That these resolutions take effect from their adoption, and that a copy be forwarded to the family of the deceased, certified by the great seal of the Commonwealth.

The rule of the Senate requiring a joint resolution to lie one day on the table being dispensed with, said resolution was taken up, twice read and unanimously adopted.

Ordered, That said resolution be reported to the House of Representatives,

Which was done.

After a short time, a message was received from the House of Representatives by Messrs. Cox, Gay and Walker, announcing that they had concurred in the adoption of a joint resolution, which originated in the Senate, entitled Resolution in respect to the death of Hon. James B. Beck.

In pursuance of the provisions of the aforesaid resolution, the Speaker appointed Messrs. Lindsay, Mulligan, Hendrick, Dickerson and Anderson as the committee on the part of the Senate, to act with a like committee of the House of Representatives, to meet the remains of Hon. James B. Beck at the eastern border of Kentucky, and to accompany them as an escort of honor on the part of Kentucky to their final resting place.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
FRANKFORT, May 14, 1890. }

Gentlemen of the Senate :

I respectfully return, without my approval, a bill, entitled "An act for the benefit of Hiram Crabtree, of Wayne county."

The preamble of the bill recites that the beneficiary, having been convicted of felony, and having served a term of three years in the penitentiary, is still deprived of the right of suffrage under the continuing sentence of the court. This bill, therefore, proposes to pardon this disability by legislative enactment, and to restore to Hiram Crabtree the right of suffrage.

The unconstitutionality of an act of this character has been so often sustained by the Senate that it is deemed necessary only to invite their attention to this bill to insure a reconsideration.

Very respectfully

S. B. BUCKNER.

Said vetoed bill reads as follows, viz :

WHEREAS, Hiram Crabtree, of Wayne county, Kentucky, was convicted of felony in said county in the year 1885 for the period of three years, he having served his time and then returned to Wayne county, and has lived there ever since, a good, industrious, law-abiding and tax-paying citizen, and has been denied the right of suffrage; therefore,

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, § 1. That the said Hiram Crabtree be, and he is hereby, restored to the right and privilege of voting, and all the disabilities by reason of said incarceration are hereby removed.

§ 2. This act shall take effect and be in force from its passage.

The question was then taken on the passage of said bill, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding, and it was decided in the negative.

An act for the benefit of Hamilton Ormsby and other persons, in Jefferson county.

(For bill, see Senate Journal of April 19, 1890.)

Mr. Glenn moved that the further consideration of said bill and pending amendments be postponed and that it be made the special order of the day, for Thursday, May 22, 1890, at 11 o'clock A. M., and from day to day until disposed of.

And the question being taken thereon, it was decided in the negative.

Which motion was simply entered.

The Senate, according to order, took up for consideration a bill, which originated in the Senate, entitled

An act to amend and reform articles 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11 of the common school laws.

Said bill reads as follows, viz :

ARTICLE I.—COMMON SCHOOL SYSTEM.

II.—SCHOOL FUND.

III.—DISTRICT TAXATION.

IV.—GRADED FREE SCHOOLS.

V.—BOARD OF EDUCATION.

VII.—COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT.

VIII.—DISTRICTS.

IX.—DISTRICT TRUSTEES.

X.—TEACHERS.

XI.—TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

ARTICLE I.—COMMON SCHOOL SYSTEM.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, § 1. That there shall be throughout the State of Kentucky a uniform system of common schools in accordance with the Constitution of the State and the provisions of this act, and that all laws now existing in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

§ 2. The object of this chapter is to carry into effect the intention of the people of Kentucky, as expressed in the Constitution, in promoting the establishment throughout the State of a system of common schools which shall be equally accessible to the poor as to the rich.

§ 3. It is therefore declared that no school shall be deemed a "common school" or be entitled to any contribution out of the common school fund unless the same has been, pursuant hereto, actually kept, or is under contract to be kept, by a qualified teacher for not less than five months, during the same school year at which every child residing in the district between the ages of six and twenty years has had the privilege of attending, whether contributing toward defraying the expenses or not, provided that nothing herein shall prevent any person within the district over twenty years of age from attending a common school who will obtain permission from the trustees and pay the required tuition fees. In order that each child of the Commonwealth may enjoy the benefits of a five months' school, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall apportion the fund due counties having districts of less than forty-five pupil children as follows: He shall find the difference between the number forty-five and the number of pupil children in each district having less than forty-five such children, and add the sum of all such differences to the whole number of pupil children in the county; he shall divide this result into the total amount due the county from the State fund and interest on the county bond, if any, the result shall constitute the county per capita for that county for the current year; he shall apportion the county per capita of forty-five pupils to each district having forty-five pupils or less, and then pro rate the remaining fund among the pupil children of the districts having more than forty-five children of pupil age: Provided, That any fractional balance shall be omitted in computing the said per capita, and that the aggregate of fractional balances shall be credited to the respective counties, and be distributed as the interest on the county surplus bond is now distributed; and that, if any part of the fund apportioned any county be not used for common school purposes, the same shall be returned to the Treasury and placed to the credit of the said county to be distributed in the same manner. But after July 1, 1890, no school shall be deemed a "common school," nor be entitled to any contribution out of the school fund, unless the same has been, pursuant hereto, actually kept, or is under contract to be kept, by a qualified teacher for not less than five months during the same school year, free of expense to every pupil child, as prescribed above. The common schools of all districts having each seventy-five or more pupil children shall be taught only by teachers holding either State diplomas, State certificates or county certificates of the first class. Any trustee who shall employ, or be a party to employing a teacher holding only a county certificate of the second or third-class to teach the school of any district reporting seventy-five or more pupil children, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than fifty dollars.

§ 4. Nothing in the last section shall preclude a school which is kept for a part of the year as a common school, from being kept for the balance of the year as a select or private school, to which none but contributors may have the privilege of sending pupils.

§ 5. The school years shall begin on the first day of July and terminate on the thirtieth day of June.

§ 6. Twenty school days, or days in which teachers are actually employed in the school room, shall constitute a school month in the common schools of the State. Teachers shall only have the benefit of such legal holidays as they actually observe. Six hours of actual work in the school room shall constitute a school day; and under no circumstances shall the daily session, including recesses and intermissions, exceed nine hours in length. When the attendance exceeds fifty, the teacher shall employ, during such attendance, an assistant, whose scholarship and competency shall be acceptable to the trustees; Provided, That when the school shall require an assistant to serve regularly, at a salary, for two months or longer, such assistant shall hold a certificate of qualification and be employed by the trustees.

§ 7. All pupils who may be admitted to common schools, shall comply with the regulations established in pursuance of law for the government of such schools. Wilful disobedience or defiance of the authority of the teacher, habitual profanity or vulgarity, or other gross violation of propriety or law, shall constitute good cause for suspension or expulsion from school.

§ 8. No books, tracts, papers, catechisms, or other publications of a sectarian, infidel or immoral character, shall be used or distributed in any common school, nor shall any sectarian, infidel or immoral doctrine be taught therein.

§ 9. Whenever a pupil of any common school shall have faithfully completed the prescribed course of study, and passed a proper examination before the county board of examiners on a series of questions prescribed by the State Board of Examiners, he shall be entitled to a certificate to that effect, signed by said county board, and approved by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, who shall affix thereto his official seal. The Superintendent shall prepare a proper form for said certificate. One such examination shall be held in each county on the first Thursday in April, and another on the last Thursday in June of each year.

ARTICLE II.—School Fund.

§ 1. The school fund shall consist of the fund dedicated by the Constitution and laws of this Commonwealth for the purpose of sustaining a system of common schools therein :

(1.) The interest on the bond of the Commonwealth, for $1,327,000, in aid of common schools, at the rate of six per cent. per annum, payable on the first day of January and of July of each year.

(2.) The dividends on seven hundred and thirty-five shares of the capital stock of the Bank of Kentucky, representing a par value of seventy-three thousand five hundred dollars, owned by the State.

(3.) The interest on the bond issued for surplus, due the counties by the State, at the rate of six per cent. per annum, payable on the first day of January and of July of each year.

(4.) The annual State tax of twenty-two cents upon each one hundred dollars of value of all real and personal estate directed to be assessed for taxation.

(5.) Twenty-two forty-sevenths of the special taxes derived from banks and other institutions of loan and discount, and from all other corporations required by law to be taxed.

(6.) Twenty-two forty-sevenths of all revenue received from licenses, and from fines and forfeitures.

§ 2. The foregoing shall constitute the annual resources of the school fund of Kentucky, and shall be paid into the Treasury, and shall not be drawn out or appropriated except as provided by this chapter in aid of common schools.

§ 3. Hereafter, except as otherwise expressly provided in this chapter, no part of the common school fund, or of the revenue thereof, shall be used for any other purpose than the payment of teachers of common schools, legally qualified and employed in pursuance hereof, and the contingent expenses of the department of public instruction.

§ 4. The Auditor shall keep the accounts in relation to this fund. He shall, once in each month, make a transfer to the credit of said fund of all receipts into the Treasury for the benefit of the common schools up to the end of the preceding month. He shall allow no expenditures on that account beyond the annual revenue of the fund, and shall see that no county draws more than its proper proportion.

§ 5. The net revenue of the fund accruing during each school year, after the payment of whatever expenses may be incurred according to law by the Board of Education, or by special acts of legislation, shall constitute the sum to be distributed. But no fees to county judges or clerks, discount on checks, or other incidental expenses, shall be paid out of the distributable share of the revenue apportioned to any county, but such payment shall be made out of the county levy.

§ 6. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall, on or before the first day of July in each year, ascertain and estimate for the school year pro rata share each child will be entitled to according to the whole number of such children residing in each county and each school district respectively, as shown by the returns of the county superintendent. If, at the time of making such estimate and apportionment, the census returns of the Superintendent for any county have not been made to him, he shall use the census returns made for the previous year. It shall be the duty of the Auditor to furnish the Superintendent of Public Instruction such data as may be needed in making such estimate and apportionment. It shall be the duty of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, as soon as practicable, to file a copy of said estimate and apportionment with the Auditor, and to inform each county superintendent of the amount to which each school district of his county will be entitled. Whatever difference may exist between the estimated and the actual revenue of the school fund for any school year, shall be taken into the account of the estimate and apportionment for the succeeding school year.

§ 7. If, on or before the first day of January next after the termination of each school year, any portion of the revenue of that year previously appointed to any county be not required for common school purposes, the same shall remain in the Treasury to the credit of the county in which such district is situated, to be distributed the next year by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, with the interest on the bond, for the benefit of both the white and the colored schools of said county. A detailed statement of the surplus amount to which each county is entitled shall be made out by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and filed and preserved in his office. The bonded surplus in the State Treasury to the credit of the counties shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum, and the per capita derived from said interest shall be duly apportioned to each county and paid as provided in the following section.

§ 8. That for each school year the Auditor of Public Accounts shall, on the successive warrants of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, distribute the amount of the school fund due each county to its county superintendent of common schools as follows: On or before the first of October, two-fifths of the whole amount; on or before the first of November, one-fifth of the whole amount; on or before the first of December, one-fifth of the whole amount, and on or before the first of January the residue, including the interest and the undistributed surplus of the county surplus bond.

ARTICLE III.—District Taxation.

§ 1. In any common school district in the State, in which the clearly-ascertained will of the people shall be in favor of a district tax in aid of the common school therein, the levying of such a tax therein shall be lawful.

§ 2. The will of the people of any district in relation to such a tax therein shall be determined by a vote of the qualified voters thereof, at the time and place and in the manner prescribed in the first section of the eighth article of the school laws for the election of district trustees; and any widow, spinster or alien residing in any school district, who is a tax-payer, or who has children within the ages fixed by the common school laws to be educated, shall be deemed a qualified voter under this act: Provided, That previously to the taking of such a vote, printed notices, signed by the county school superintendent of the county in which such district lies, and by the chairman of the trustees of such district, stating the amount and object of the tax proposed to be raised, and the time and place of taking the vote, shall have been posted by the chairman for fifteen days, at three or more prominent places in the district: Provided further, When lines dividing school districts pass through the lands of any person, dividing the same, the taxes shall be levied and paid to that district where the homestead may be situated.

§ 3. The question of local taxation shall be submitted to the legal voters of the district every school year, on the day and at the hours set apart by law for the election of trustees, after notices shall have been duly posted as above by the chairman of the board, at three or more prominent places in the district, for fifteen days preceding the election: Provided, That when the amount, object and length of time are distinctly stated to the voters, the tax may be voted at one election, to continue three successive years. The proceeds of such tax shall be expended for any of the objects herein specified, and for no other object: The extension of the common school for a longer term, the better payment of the teacher thereof, or for the payment of any debt contracted by the trustees for the benefit of the school-house.

§ 4. It shall be the duty of the officers holding the election to open the poll, and an officer of the election shall propound to each voter who votes the question: "Are you in favor of the tax in aid of common schools in this district?" And his vote shall be recorded for or against said tax as he directs. The officers of the election shall return a fair and true record of the votes taken for and against such a tax, certified and sworn to by themselves, before some officer authorized to administer oaths, to the county school superintendent, if he shall not have presided at the election, or to the county judge if the superintendent shall have presided; and, if it be found that a majority of those voting shall have voted in favor of such district tax, such facts shall be certified to the parties concerned, and it shall be the duty of the county school superintendent of the county to furnish the collector with the boundary of the district, and said collector shall collect said district tax.

§ 5. That the board of trustees may appoint a collector of district taxes, who shall have power to collect by distraint as sheriffs are now empowered to collect the State revenue; but the said collector shall not be allowed over six per cent. He shall be required to give bond for the faithful performance of his duties, and shall make settlement with the board of trustees. The duties prescribed for the sheriff in regard to the State revenue shall be complied with by said collector.

§ 6. The money thus raised shall be accounted for and paid over by the collector within two months after it has been voted, or subsequently upon the order of the trustees.

§ 7. The money thus raised and paid to the county superintendent shall be paid out on the order of the trustees, and the county superintendent shall be responsible on his bond therefor.

§ 8. The chairman shall make settlement with the county superintendent for the money thus received at the time of making his report to the said county superintendent, as required by the fourteenth section of the ninth article of this act, and shall show by vouchers how the money has been disbursed; and should the said county superintendent discover any fraud or misappropriation of funds on the part of said trustees, it shall be his duty to proceed against him, as authorized by the sixteenth section of the ninth article of this act.

§ 9. The county superintendent shall, in making his annual report to the Superintendent of Public Instruction of the schools taught in his county, make report also of the amount of money thus raised, and the manner in which it has been appropriated.

§ 10. The tax allowed under the foregoing sections shall not exceed twenty-five cents in any one year, on the hundred dollars' worth of taxable property in the district.

§ 11. The provisions of the foregoing sections shall apply to all cities and towns reporting as one district, which have not now the privilege of levying a special school tax.

§ 12. All taxes for school purposes, of every kind, shall be based upon the last county assessment for revenue purposes.

ARTICLE IV.—Graded Common Schools.

§ 1. That it shall be the duty of the county judge in each county of this Commonwealth, upon a written petition, signed by at least ten legal voters, who are tax-payers in any civil district, town or city in his county, to make an order on his order book, at the next regular term of his court after he receives said petition, fixing the boundary of any proposed graded common school district, as agreed on by the county judge and the petitioners, and directing the sheriff, or other officer whose duty it may be to hold the election, to open a poll in said proposed graded common school district, town, or city, at the next regular State, town or city election held therein, or on any other day fixed by said judge in said order, for the purpose of taking the sense of the legal white voters in said proposed graded common school district, town or city, upon the proposition "whether or not they will vote an annual tax, in any sum named in said order, not exceeding fifty (50) cents on each one hundred ($100) dollars of property assessed in said proposed graded common school district, town or city belonging to white persons, or a poll-tax in any sum named therein, not exceeding two (2) dollars on each white male inhabitant over twenty-one (21) years of age, residing in said proposed graded common school district, town or city, or both an ad valorem and poll tax, if so stated in the said order, for the purpose of erecting suitable buildings and maintaining a good graded common school in said proposed graded common school district, town or city, or for the payment of principal and interest on any such bonds not exceeding — dollars (the amount to be named in said order), as the board of trustees of said proposed graded common school district may issue and sell under the provisions of this act, for the purposes aforesaid, not, however, exceeding in amount five per cent. of the taxable property of the district." Provided, That the proposition to establish any graded common school district or school, as provided for in this section, is approved in writing on the petition to the county judge, by a majority of the trustees of any common school district, included wholly or partly within the boundary of said proposed graded common school district, and approved in writing on said petition by the county superintendent of common schools: And provided further, That no point on the boundary of any proposed graded common school district is over two and one-half miles from the site of its proposed school-house, and the location and site of said school-house in said district are set out with exactness in said petition to the county judge.

§ 2. It shall be the duty of the county court clerk to give to the sheriff, or other officer whose duty it shall be to hold the election mentioned in section 1 of this act, a certified copy of the order of the judge of the county court as it appears in his order-book, within ten days after said order is made.

§ 3. It shall be the duty of the sheriff, or other officer whose duty it may be to hold the election mentioned in section 1 of this act, to have the order of the judge of the county court published in some weekly or daily paper published in the county, for at least forty days before the election, and also to advertise the same by printed or written hand-bills, posted at five conspicuous places in said proposed graded common school district, town or city, for the same length of time; but if there is no daily or weekly newspaper published in the county, the printed or written hand-bills, posted as before provided for, shall be sufficient notice. The sheriff, or other officer whose duty it shall be to hold the election mentioned in section 1 shall have the advertisement inserted, and notices herein provided for posted, within ten days after he receives the order of the county judge and at least forty days before the election.

§ 4. It shall be the duty of the sheriff, or other officer whose duty it may be to hold the election mentioned in section 1 of this act, to open a poll, and the election officers shall propound to each voter who may vote, the question "Are you in favor of levying an annual tax of — cents (the amount named in the order of the county judge, not to exceed fifty (50) cents) on the one hundred dollars, or a poll tax of — dollars (the amount named in said order not exceeding two dollars) on each white male resident in this graded common school district, town or city (or both the ad valorem and poll tax, if so ordered by said county judge in said order), for the purpose of erecting and furnishing suitable buildings, and maintaining a graded common school in this graded common school district, town or city, or for paying the principal and interest on any such bonds not exceeding — dollars (the amount named in said order), as the trustees of said district, town or city may issue and sell for the purposes aforesaid (not exceeding, however, the sum of fifteen thousand dollars [$15,000])?" and his vote shall be recorded for or against the same, as he directs. The poll-books shall be returned as other poll-books in said county, and shall be examined and compared by the same officers: Provided, That the cost of such school buildings and grounds shall not exceed fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000).

§ 5. If it shall appear that a majority of the votes cast at the said election were in favor of said tax, then it shall be the duty of the county judge to cause the certificate of the examining board showing the amount of tax voted, the amount for which bonds may be issued, and the names of the six trustees elected, to be entered of record in the order-book of his court, and by and with the assistance of the county superintendent of common schools in said county to organize a graded common school in said district, town or city, in accordance with the provisions of this act.

§ 6. The graded common school districts, when organized as aforesaid, are hereby incorporated, and each of them shall be under the management and control of a board of six trustees, the first board to be elected at the same time and place, and by the same persons who vote at the election for the tax, as provided in sections 1 and 4 of this act; and the six persons receiving the highest number of votes cast shall be declared elected trustees.

§ 7. The persons so elected shall be named and styled "The Board of Trustees of the ----- Graded Common School District," and in that name may sue and be sued, contract and be contracted with, and, as a natural person, may acquire, hold, dispose of and convey, by purchase, gift, devise or otherwise, any real or personal estate, goods and chattels, necessary and convenient for the uses and purposes of such graded common school; and the title to all such property shall vest in said board of trustees and their successors in office, to be held sacred for the use and benefit of said graded common school district.

§ 8. The trustees thus elected shall be divided by lot into three classes, to hold their office for one, two and three years respectively—that is, the two trustees who shall, by lot, be assigned to the first class, shall hold their offices until the first Saturday in June next after their election, and until their successors have been elected and have qualified; and their successors shall be elected on that day, in the same manner as trustees of common schools are elected, and hold their offices for three years, and until their successors shall have been elected and qualified; and the two trustees assigned by lot to the second class shall hold their offices for two years, or until the first Saturday in June next after the expiration of the term of office of the trustees of the first class, and their successors shall be elected on that day as trustees of common schools are elected, and shall hold their offices for three years, and until their successors have been elected and qualified; and the two trustees assigned by lot to the third class shall hold their offices for three years, or until the first Saturday in June next after the expiration of the term of office of the trustees of the second class, and their successors shall be elected on that day as trustees of common schools are elected, and shall hold their offices for three years, and until their successors shall have been elected and qualified; and after said first election and organization of any graded common school district, there shall be two trustees elected, as aforesaid, on the first Saturday in June of each year, who shall qualify on the first Monday in July next after their election, or as soon thereafter as may be, and hold their offices for the term of three years, and until their successors shall have been elected and have qualified. If, at any time, there should be a vacancy in said board, the same shall be filled, by appointment, by the remaining members, and the person appointed to fill such vacancy shall hold his office until the expiration of the term for which his predecessor was elected or appointed.

§ 9. Said trustees, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, shall each take an oath to faithfully perform the duties required of them under this act.

§ 10. Said trustees may adopt such by-laws and rules for the government of themselves and their appointees, and for the control, government and management of the graded common schools in their respective districts, as they may deem necessary, not inconsistent with the Constitution and laws of this State or of the United States, and shall keep a journal of their proceedings, which shall be open at all times to the inspection of any citizen of the graded common school district in which he or she may reside.

§ 11. Said trustees shall appoint and employ the principal and all teachers, and fix their compensation, and may suspend or dismiss them, or any other person appointed or employed by them; may prescribe the branches (other than those required by law to be taught in the common schools) which may be taught in said graded common schools, and prescribe the necessary qualifications and the mode of examination of all applicants for positions as principals or teachers in said graded common schools; but no person shall be appointed or employed as principal or teacher in any graded common school organized under the provisions of this act, who is not a person of good moral character, and who has not a county certificate, as required by the common school law of Kentucky.

§ 12. The said trustees shall elect one of their number president, who shall preside at their meetings and perform such other duties as may be required of him; and they may elect a secretary and prescribe his duties. The president and secretary, or either of them, shall make such reports to the county superintendent as are required of common school trustees, and shall publish annually such information as will show the financial condition of the graded common school district, and such other facts as they may deem beneficial to the cause of education in their respective districts.

§ 13. Every white child within the common school ages residing in any graded common school district shall have the right of free admission to all the classes in their respective graded common schools.

§ 14. The trustees may admit into said graded common schools children who do not reside within the said district, or persons over the common school age, or who have advanced beyond the common school studies, on such terms and conditions, and upon the payment of such tuition and other fees as they may deem proper.

§ 15. Said board of trustees shall have power to appoint a treasurer for said graded common school district, who, before entering upon the duties of his office, shall, in the county court, execute bond, with securities approved by the court, running in the name of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, for the use and benefit of the trustees of said graded common school district, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties under this act. All funds arising from the sale of bonds under this act, and all funds collected for the purpose of defraying the annual expenses of said schools, and for the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds, or for any other purpose, shall go into the hands of said treasurer, who shall, together with his sureties, be responsible therefor. Said treasurer shall pay out said funds only for the purposes for which they were respectively collected, upon the written order of the president and secretary of said board of trustees. The board of trustees shall pay its treasurer such sum for his services as shall be reasonable and just.

§ 16. The county superintendent for common schools shall annually pay to the treasurer of any graded common school district that may be organized and operating in his county in conformity with this act, the pro rata portion of the per capita of the State and county funds that may be the due of said district, according to the number of pupils therein between the ages of six (6) and twenty (20) years of age, as soon as the same shall come into his hands.

§ 17. Said board of trustees shall provide funds for purchasing suitable grounds and buildings, or for erecting suitable buildings, and for other expenses needful in conducting a good graded common school in their respective graded common school districts; and to this end it shall be the duty of said board of trustees, in their discretion, and they are hereby authorized and empowered to issue the bonds of their respective graded common school districts, in such an amount, not exceeding in the aggregate the amount named in the order of the county judge, and voted for under the provisions of this act, as may be necessary to provide suitable grounds and school buildings and furniture and apparatus (but the amount of the bonds shall not exceed five per cent. of the taxable property of said graded common school district) for any graded common school district. The said bonds may be of any denomination, in even hundreds, not exceeding one thousand dollars each, running not exceeding thirty years, and bearing interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent. per annum, payable annually or semi-annually, as expressed in said bonds, payable to bearer, with interest coupons attached. They shall be signed by the president of said board of trustees, and attested by the secretary thereof, and shall pass by delivery, and shall be redeemable at the option of said board. Said bonds shall be sold by the trustees or their authorized agent, for the highest price obtainable, but not for less than their face par value, and the proceeds paid over to the treasurer and applied to the uses and purposes contemplated in this act.

§ 18. For the purpose of providing a fund for the payment of said bonds, the said trustees shall create a sinking fund from the surplus of each year's taxes, after paying the interest on said bonds, and the legitimate expenses of said graded common schools, which surplus shall be used in purchasing any of said bonds at not above par value, or safely invested by said trustees so as to yield a revenue to pay interest and principal of said bonds at maturity.

§ 19. The board of trustees in any graded common school district where the tax has been voted shall cause to be levied and collected an annual tax, in any sum not exceeding the amount voted for in said district under the provisions of this act, upon each one hundred dollars' worth of taxable property of every kind and character within the limits of said graded common school district belonging to white persons (and shall also cause to be levied annually a capitation or poll-tax in any sum not exceeding the amount voted in said district under this act on each white male citizen residing within the limits of any graded common school district over twenty-one years of age). The board of trustees shall, out of collections under each levy, by order, set apart a sufficient amount to pay interest for the year on any bonds issued, and the Treasurer shall pay same, and in addition shall, out of the several levies, until entire payment of such bonds, set apart a sufficient amount as a sinking fund, when aggregated, to meet the principal of the bonds at maturity, which sinking fund shall be kept loaned or profitably invested, and shall be used for no other purpose than the payment of principal of such bonds. But if the board so order, it or any part thereof may be used in purchase of such bonds before maturity, except a sufficiency to pay said interest and create said sinking fund. A vote in favor of the tax provided for in this act shall not authorize more than three annual levies of same. But after three annual levies authorized by any vote, another vote for a like number of levies may be had upon like petition and in like manner as hereinbefore provided. In no event, however, shall the board fail to make and cause to be collected and applied a sufficient annual tax to pay such interest and create such sinking fund until the entire bonded debt authorized by a first vote shall have been paid; and this duty shall in no case be affected by result of any vote except the first.

§ 20. The assessments made by the county assessors each year are hereby adopted in all cases as the assessments for graded common school purposes, except as to railroads and other companies or corporations, assessed by the State in some other mode, and in that case the assessment so made by the State, through the Auditor's office or otherwise, is hereby adopted as the assessment of such property for graded common school purposes. If the owner of any property so listed claims that the valuation so made is excessive, he shall have the right to bring the matter before the trustees for correction, if done within thirty (30) days after the assessor returns his lists. The board of trustees shall hear the complaints, and shall make any corrections that seem to them proper, and if any of said assessments seem too low the board may, on their own motion, cite the owners or their agents before them by written notice, and, after hearing same, shall correct the valuation made by the assessor as to them seems just and equitable.

§ 21. The sheriff or collector, if the trustees so direct, shall collect these taxes in the same manner as the State revenue is collected, and shall have the same power and authority in the collection of said taxes as is conferred on sheriffs or revenue collectors of this Commonwealth in the collection of the State revenue. The sheriff shall act under his official bond, but the collector shall execute bond running in the name of the Commonwealth of Kentucky for the use and benefit of the graded common school for which the tax is collectable, with good and sufficient security, to be by said board approved, for the faithful performance of his duties, with the same penalties as are or may be prescribed by law for sheriffs in the collection of said State revenue, and said board shall fix and allow his compensation, but not greater than is allowed by law for collection of State revenue. The said sheriff or collector shall be responsible on his bond for any and all delinquencies as collectors of the State revenue. The tax shall be collected and paid over to the Treasurer by the time and in the manner the State revenue is collected and paid over.

§ 22. The title to all common school property in the limits of any graded common school district, organized under the provisions of this act, shall be, and the same is hereby, vested in the board of trustees of said graded common school district, and they are hereby authorized and empowered to sell and convey the same, or to use the same for graded common school purposes, as to them shall seem best: Provided, That said property is within the limits or boundary of said graded common school district.

§ 23. After the first election provided for in this act shall have been held, the tax voted, trustees elected, and the graded common school organized, the board of trustees shall appoint the officers to hold all other elections, which officers shall be under the same responsibilities and subject to the same penalties as the officers holding State or county elections, only they shall make returns of poll-books, and certify the result of the elections to the board of trustees, who shall examine and compare the same, and issue certificates to the persons found to be elected.

§ 24. The provisions of this act shall apply to such graded common school districts as may be applied for and organized by the colored people of this Commonwealth, and such districts and graded schools may be organized by them in all cases, the same as the white districts herein provided for are organized; in that case the word "white," wherever it occurs heretofore in this act, is to be read "colored:" Provided, No white person shall vote at any election held by the colored people under the provisions of this act; nor shall the property of any white person be taxed to maintain any colored graded common school; nor shall the property of any colored person be taxed for the benefit of any graded common white school; nor shall any white child attend any colored graded common school organized under the provisions of this act; nor shall any colored child attend any white graded common school.

ARTICLE V.—Board of Education.

§ 1. The Superintendent of Public Instruction, the Secretary of State, the Attorney General, and their successors in office, together with two professional teachers, to be elected by them, shall be a body-politic and corporate, by the name and style of "The Kentucky State Board of Education." The two professional members of the board shall, before entering upon the duties of office, take an oath to perform faithfully such duties in the interest of the Commonwealth.

§ 2. The corporation may take, hold, and dispose of real or personal estate for the benefit of the common schools of the State.

§ 3. The Superintendent of public Instruction shall be president of the board, and with two other members may control its corporate action at any regular or called meeting of the board.

§ 4. The board shall meet only upon the written call of the president. The two professional members shall be allowed their actual expenses incurred in attending such meetings, and in addition thereto five dollars each for each day of service. Its corporate acts shall be attested by the signature of the president and his private seal shall stand in lieu of a corporate seal. The bonds, certificates of stock, and other evidences of property held by the board for common school purposes, shall be in the custody of the president, and the place of deposit shall be shown by the records of the board.

§ 5. The State Board of Education shall constitute a standing committee, who shall prepare rules, by-laws and regulations for the government of the common schools of the State, which shall be adopted and enforced under the authority and direction of the county school superintendents; shall prescribe and publish a graded course of study for the common schools, specifying the order of studies and the time to be allotted to each, which course of study shall be observed by the teachers and enforced by the trustees; and shall recommend suitable lists of text-books for all the common schools of the State, from which lists, and from none others, the county superintendents of the various counties shall adopt the books to be used in their respective counties, which books shall not be changed oftener than once every seven years: Provided, however, That in any district where a list of text books has been legally adopted and is now in use, no change in text-books shall be made in such district in a less time than seven years from the time that list was adopted. Said board of education shall recommend suitable works for district libraries, and such standard works and professional aids for teachers, as they may deem proper, on educational science and the arts of teaching. Any superintendent of a county in which, at the time a legal adoption of text-books has not been made, who shall fail or refuse, within six months after his accession to office, to adopt and to enforce the use of a series of text-books on the subjects included in the common school course, from the lists prescribed by the State Board of Education, shall be subject to a fine of not less than one hundred dollars and not more than two hundred dollars; and upon further refusal, shall forfeit his commission as county superintendent of common schools. Any teacher who shall refuse to use, or shall displace from his or her school, any text-book legally adopted for use in the common schools of the county, shall be fined ten dollars; and for a second offense, shall be subject to a fine in the same sum, and in addition thereto, shall immediately forfeit his or her certificate.

§ 6. The instruction prescribed by the board shall embrace spelling, reading, writing, arithmetic, English grammar, English composition, geography, physiology and hygiene, civil government and United States history, including the History of Kentucky. No teacher shall be required, or under any obligation, to teach any other than the above common school branches in the common schools, unless it shall be so specified in a written contract with the trustees.

§ 7. It shall be the duty of each county superintendent before the opening of the schools each year, and from time to time, by personal observation and from trustees, teachers and otherwise, to ascertain the number and cost of text-books upon each of the common school branches needed by the indigent children of each district and of the county, for use in the common schools; to make requisitions upon the county judge, payable out of the county levy, for the money necessary to purchase the said text-books, not to exceed in the aggregate one hundred dollars per annum; and to purchase and supply the same to the said indigent children. It is hereby made the special duty of the county and the city school superintendents, and the trustees of common schools, to report to the county judge the names of all such indigent children within their knowledge, and to see that the provisions of this section are faithfully executed.

§ 8. County superintendents and trustees of common schools shall report facts additional to those now required to be reported, whenever, in the judgment of the board, the interest of the cause of common schools in the State shall indicate the necessity thereof.

§ 9. The board shall have power to organize and keep in existence a State Teachers' Association, to be composed of the members of the board, all the officers and teachers connected with the common schools throughout the State, the professors and instructors of academies, colleges and universities, all officers and teachers connected with public free schools in any city or town in the Commonwealth, together with such other teachers and friends of popular education as the board of education may invite to become members of such organization, for the purpose of promoting the cause of common schools in the State. The association shall elect its officers, and adopt by-laws and rules for its own government.

ARTICLE VII.—County Superintendent.

§ 1. There shall be a county superintendent of common schools in each of the counties of the State, who shall be possessed of moral character and ability to manage the common school interests of the county efficiently. He shall possess a good English education, and shall be competent to examine the teachers who shall apply to teach the common schools in the county, and to certify the same correctly. A person to be eligible to the office of county superintendent shall be twenty-four years old at the time of qualifying, a citizen of the United States, shall have resided two years next preceding the election in this State, and one year in the county for which he or she is a candidate, and after July 1, 1891, shall have had two years experience either as a teacher or as a county or a city superintendent.

§ 2. The county superintendent shall be elected by the qualified voters of each county at the regular August election in 1890, and every four years thereafter; and for that purpose a poll shall be opened at the election held, and the result certified at the same time and place, and by the same officers and in the same way the election for sheriff of the county is held. And the officers who examine the polls shall make out and deliver a certificate of the election to the person so elected, and another copy to the judge of the county court, who shall cause the same to be recorded, a copy of which shall be made out by the clerk and transmitted to the Superintendent of Public Instruction within ten days after the election.

§ 3. The county superintendents elected and qualified under this act shall hold their offices for four years, or until their successors are elected and qualified.

§ 4. No person shall be eligible to the office of county superintendent unless he shall have first obtained from the State Board of Examiners a certificate of qualification of the grade of a county certificate of the first class, which may be granted on an examination held before said board, or upon a written examination held by the county judge, county clerk, and a competent person selected by them, upon a series of questions prepared and forwarded, under seal, by the State Board of Examiners. The State Board of Examiners shall inclose the questions upon each subject in a separate envelope, with the name of the subject plainly printed or written thereon; shall securely seal the envelopes containing the said questions, and inclose them in a larger envelope, which shall be sealed and forwarded by registered mail to the county clerk, and shall be kept under seal by him till the hour of examination; and the seal shall then be inspected by the other examiners and the applicants for certificates, and be duly opened in their presence. In case of sickness or other disability of either the county judge or county clerk, his duties herein prescribed shall devolve upon, and be performed by, the county attorney. The examinations shall be held in every county of the State on the first Saturday in May next preceding the election of county superintendent; and the written answers of each examination shall be immediately forwarded by the county judge or county clerk, by registered mail, to the State Board of Examiners, together with a fee of three dollars and the sworn statements of the county judge, county clerk and the person selected by them, that the examination had been conducted in their presence in strict accordance with the provisions of this section, and that no applicant had, directly or indirectly, received assistance. The State Board of Examiners may, if they deem the answers and the testimonials of moral character sufficient, grant a certificate; and if they refuse it, shall notify the county clerk, and no certificate can then be granted the said applicant for the election then pending. The said certificate shall not entitle the holder thereof to teach in the common schools. The person selected by the county judge and the county clerk shall receive for his services a reasonable compensation, to be allowed by the county court of claims.

§ 5. No county judge, justice of the peace, circuit clerk, county clerk, county attorney, county surveyor, sheriff, coroner, assessor, trustee of a common school district, or teacher while engaged in teaching, shall hold the office of county superintendent of common schools.

§ 6. On or before the first Monday in September, 1888, each county superintendent must enter into covenant, before the county court of his county, to the Commonwealth of Kentucky, with sufficient security, in not less than the full amount of the school fund that may be due the county for that entire school year, to be approved by the court, for the faithful discharge of his duties, and the said bond shall be renewed for each successive year.

§ 7. The county superintendent shall have power, previous to the first day of April of each year, to lay off, alter, abolish or consolidate districts, and if necessary may lay off anew the districts throughout the county. He shall condemn any school-house which is dilapidated, unhealthy, or otherwise unfit to be occupied for the purpose of a common school, and shall notify the trustees thereof in writing. He shall, at least once a year, make an official visit to each district school of his county, but shall not make more than two such official visits in any one day. At the time of such visit he shall note in a book, to be kept for that purpose, the number of pupils in attendance; the number absent, and the cause of absence; the names of children unable to purchase books; the condition of the school-house, grounds and appurtenances; the qualification and efficiency of the teacher; the conduct and standing of the pupils; the method of instruction; the discipline and government of the school, and the condition of the teacher's register. In the visits to the schools he shall advise with the teachers, and give them such instruction regarding discipline and teaching as he may deem necessary; he shall counsel the trustees, and see that they discharge their duties, especially in securing full and regular attendance; and by every means in his power strive to promote and advance the cause of common schools.

§ 8. It shall be the duty of each county superintendent, on or before the first day of June of each year, to prepare, mail to, and cause to be placed in the hands of the Superintendent of Public Instruction a report, certified by the county judge or clerk as having been sworn to by him, showing the whole number of children between the ages of six and twenty years residing in his county, and the whole number residing in each district, described by its number; and he shall be individually responsible to the teacher for any loss sustained by said teacher by reason of any error made by the said superintendent in reporting the census of the district. He shall base his report upon the census taken during the month of April, and reports thereof made to him by the district trustees. If such reports are not in from any district by the tenth day of May, the county superintendent shall use the last census returns of such district.

§ 9. That each county superintendent of common schools shall on the first Saturday in October, reckoning school months of twenty days, pay the amount due each teacher of a common school for the month or months completed, but not for any fraction of a month, on the certificate of the board of trustees for the district that the school has been legally taught for that period; and, thereafter, the county superintendent shall, on the first Saturday of each calendar month, if demand for payment be made, pay the salary due each teacher of a common school for the previous school month or months not previously paid for, on the certificate of the board of trustees for the district that the school had been legally taught for the period specified: Provided, That the last payment shall be for the entire balance due the teacher, including the interest and the undistributed surplus of the county surplus bond; and that any teacher who may violate his contract with the trustees by refusing to continue his school, shall forfeit any fractional salary that may be due him. In cities or towns organized as one district, and reporting direct to the Superintendent of Public Instruction, the provisions of this section shall equally apply, or may report for the whole amount due said city or town in January, if they desire it. In either case the president or chairman of the school board of such cities or towns shall make the report required of them by this act, under oath, direct to the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and he shall draw his warrant on the Auditor of Public Accounts in favor of the treasurer of such school board, which, when approved and countersigned by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, shall entitle such treasurer to a warrant on the Treasury of the State for the amount thereof; and the said treasurer and his securities shall be accountable for the same upon his official bond in any action by such school board, of which the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall be officially satisfied.

§ 10. Any county superintendent who shall knowingly and willfully report to the Superintendent of Public Instruction a number of common schools as having been taught in his county greater than the number of such schools actually taught therein according to law, or a number of children entitled to tuition in his county greater than the actual number of such children therein, or otherwise knowingly and willfully misstate any fact or facts which he is, or may be hereafter, required by law to report to the Superintendent of Public Instruction, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, on conviction thereof, on indictment in the circuit court, be fined in a sum not less than two hundred nor more than five hundred dollars, or imprisoned in the county jail not longer than six months, or both so fined and imprisoned, in the discretion of the jury.

§ 11. Each county superintendent shall, on or before the first day of February, annually, after this act goes into effect, settle his accounts for such school year, as far as the districts may have been taught out and paid, with the county judge of his county, and forward a copy of said settlement, certified by the clerk of the said court to be correct, to the Superintendent of Public Instruction. If said settlement at said time does not include a full settlement for all money drawn and paid to said county superintendent, then on or before the first day of August succeeding the termination of each school year he shall make a supplementary settlement for the balance not before accounted for in a similar manner as hereinbefore provided for in this section. Said settlement shall embrace all sums received since the date of the last settlement by the said county superintendent for the benefit of common schools taught during the school year; a full statement of all such sums paid out by him, for what, to whom, and when paid; and should any part of said fund received by him as aforesaid remain uncalled for and not paid out and will not be called for, he shall immediately refund said amount to the State Treasurer, stating at the same time why it was not called for, and to what district it belongs, and at the same time notify the Superintendent of Public Instruction that he has refunded the said amount, that he may give said county superintendent proper credit on his books for said amount refunded; and fifty per cent. of his compensation shall be retained until such settlement is filed with the Superintendent of Public Instruction. The receipt of the Auditor for money refunded shall be a sufficient voucher with the county judge in said settlement. Should the copy of such settlement fail to reach the Superintendent of Public Instruction by the tenth day of that month, it shall be his duty to notify the county judge and the delinquent county superintendent of the fact; and upon receiving such notification it shall be the duty of the judge, in case the settlement shall not have been made, to compel immediate settlement by attachment, and a copy thereof to be forwarded to the Superintendent of Public Instruction. For his willful failure to pay out to those entitled thereto any money in his hands for the space of ninety days after the same shall be received by him, or for his willful failure to make the aforesaid settlement by the time required by law, the county superintendent shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, being indicted and convicted thereof, he shall be fined in a sum not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars, as well as remain liable on his official bond, and be removed from office.

§ 12. He shall, previously to the first day of September, prepare and mail, and cause to be placed in the hands of the Superintendent of Public Instruction his official report, showing in tables of details and aggregates, the school districts of his county by number; the districts in which schools were taught, and the length of time taught, and those in which no schools were taught; the highest, lowest and average number of children at school; the cost of tuition of each child for the session and per month; the number of private schools, academies and colleges taught in the county, and the length of sessions of the same; the number of teachers employed—male, female and total—for the common school; the average wages of male teachers, female teachers, and of total teachers per month; the amount of money raised for common school purposes in the county, by local tax or otherwise, and for what the same was disbursed; the number and kind of school houses and the value of each; the number of school houses built, and value of each; the number of district libraries, and the number of volumes in each, and the increase during the year; the amount he has received for official compensation and expenses. For wilful failure to be present at his office at the time appointed to receive reports, or for wilfully failing to make the report herein required, he shall be fined a sum of not exceeding fifty dollars.

§ 13. Each county superintendent shall keep a detailed account of all money received and distributed by him, a record of all business transacted by him as county superintendent, together with the reports of the trustees, the names, numbers and description of school districts, and all other papers and documents connected with his office, at all times subject to inspection and examination by any school officer or other person interested in any question pertaining to the common schools.

§ 14. Any devise, gift or donation of any real or personal estate in aid of the common schools of any county of this State, shall be held in trust by the county superintendent; and he shall be required to make settlement in regard thereto, in the same manner in which, and at the time when he makes settlement in regard to the moneys received from the revenue of the school fund; and he shall send a copy of such settlement to the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

§ 15. A county superintendent may administer the oath required of a trustee or of a teacher of common schools, or of other persons required to make oath in matters relating thereto.

§ 16. He shall attend at his office on the second Saturday in June, 1890, and on the second Saturday of May in each year thereafter to administer the oath of office to trustees elect; but it shall be lawful for any justice of the peace or other person authorized to administer oaths, to administer the oath of office to any trustee, but said oath shall not be valid unless reported in writing to the county superintendent by said justice or other person, within ten days from the time when administered. He shall make a record of the names of trustees then qualified, showing the districts in which they were elected, and the post-office of each. He shall at that time deliver to the trustees of each district such blanks as they will need for the coming school year, and give such information with regard to their duties as may be requested. He shall address all official correspondence to the trustees. Notice to them shall be regarded as notice to the people of the district, and it shall be the duty of the trustees to notify the people.

§ 17. It shall be the duty of the county superintendent to be in attendance at his office, at the county seat, on the first Saturday of each month, and at such other times as may be necessary to transact his official business.

§ 18. In cases of controverted right to the office of trustee, the county superintendent is empowered to recognize a trustee from among the contestants until the dispute has been settled.

§ 19. It shall be his duty to conduct or superintend in person, the examination of all persons offering themselves for positions as teachers of the common schools of his county (except in cities and towns organized as one district by special acts of the General Assembly), in regard to their moral character, learning and ability to teach and manage said schools; and he shall give a certificate of qualification to no teacher whom he has not personally and sufficiently examined, or who has not been sufficiently examined in his presence, as hereinafter provided for; and for any violation of the above specified duties, he shall be liable to a fine of not less than twenty nor more than fifty dollars.

§ 20. The county superintendent shall pay the teachers, personally, their salaries upon the certificate of the trustees that the school had been taught.

§ 21. No county superintendent shall be allowed to buy for himself or another any teacher's claim, directly or indirectly, or to act as agent for the sale of any text-book, under the penalty of removal from office by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

§ 22. That for incompetency, neglect of duty, immoral conduct, or other disqualification, the county superintendent may suspend or remove any teacher or trustee from office, except in cities or towns organized as one district; and when from such cause, or from death, resignation, or any other cause, a vacancy in any one of the above-named offices occurs, it shall be the duty of the county superintendent to proceed, within ten days after such vacancy occurs, or as soon thereafter as practicable, to supply the same by appointment.

§ 23. The county superintendent shall decide all questions of difference or doubt having reference to the interests of common schools in his county; but appeals from his acts and decisions may be had, on petition of any interested person, to the Superintendent of Public Instruction. The county superintendents shall conform to such reasonable rules and requirements as the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall, from time to time, prescribe and announce to them.

§ 24. For all the services rendered and the expenses incurred by the county superintendent under the provisions of this act he shall be allowed a salary, annually, by the court of claims of his county, based on the number of pupil children reported in the census report of the district trustees of such county, which salary shall not be less than ten cents nor more than twenty cents for each pupil child thus reported: Provided, The said court shall be satisfied that the said services had been faithfully and efficiently performed according to law. Said salary shall be paid out of the county levy as the salaries of the county judge and the county attorney are now paid; and in his report to the Superintendent of Public Instruction the county superintendent shall state the full amount thus allowed him by the court of claims for his official services: Provided, That no superintendent shall receive a greater salary than fifteen hundred dollars: And provided further, That in fixing the salary of the said superintendent no child shall be counted or enumerated who is under an independent or different superintendent than that of the county superintendent.

§ 25. In the case of the death, removal or resignation, or inability of the county superintendent elected, or in the event of a vacancy, or for any other cause, the presiding judge of said county is hereby authorized to appoint a successor, duly qualified according to section 4 of this article, to continue in office until the succeeding annual election, when one shall be elected. Nevertheless, it shall be competent for the county court, at any regular session, to remove a county superintendent for inability, for habitual neglect of duty, or for malfeasance in office. An appeal may be taken from the order of the county court removing the superintendent to the circuit court, and from the circuit court to the Court of Appeals as in civil actions.

§ 26. Each county superintendent, when he resigns, vacates, is removed or goes out of office, shall, within ten days thereafter, deliver to his successor, or to the county court clerk for him, any money, property, books, effects or papers remaining in his hands as county superintendent, and for failure to do so, shall be fined not less than fifty dollars and not more than one hundred dollars.

§ 27. In case of a defaulting and absconding county superintendent, the Governor, upon information thereof being furnished by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, shall offer a reward, not exceeding in amount $500, for his arrest and delivery to the jailer of the county from which he absconded.

ARTICLE VIII.—Districts.

§ 1. The school districts of the several counties, as at present described and numbered, shall be retained until altered or abolished pursuant to this chapter; but no two districts in the same county shall be known by the same name or number. No change in the boundary of any district shall be made to take effect during the current school year, unless made previous to taking the census for such school year. Nor shall the boundary of any district be changed, unless notice, in writing, be first given to the trustees of other districts to be effected thereby.

§ 2. In order that all districts may, as soon as practicable, be made to contain not less than forty-five pupil children, and in order that the county per capita may not be less than the State per capita, each county superintendent shall, from year to year, as far as practicable, and in accordance with the best educational results, equalize in school population the districts of his county. No district shall include more than one hundred pupil children unless it contains a city, town or village within its limits, or there be established therein a high school, academy or college entitled to a share of the revenue of the common school fund, by virtue of a special charter or of a contract between the trustees of the common school district and the trustees of such institution. Such contract shall expressly provide that all children of pupil age residing within the district shall have the privilege of attending the said high school, academy or college for at least five months during the school year without payment of the tuition fees: Provided, That nothing in this act shall be construed to authorize any white person to attend a common school or other institution of learning established for colored children, or any colored person to attend a common school or other institution of learning established for white children. In all cases where the number of such children shall exceed one hundred or fall below forty-five, the county superintendent shall the reason thereof to the Superintendent of public Instruction. The area of no school district shall be more than sixteen square miles, unless it is necessary to enlarge the same so as to include the minimum number of children. Each school-house hereafter erected shall be located as near the center of the district as practicable.

§ 3. The county superintendent shall, in a book kept in his office for that purpose, and subject to public inspection, describe each district in his county by its number and boundary, and shall furnish to the trustees of each district a description of the boundary thereof.

§ 4. The county superintendents of two adjoining counties, where the division line intersects a neighborhood whose convenience requires it, may lay off a district composed of parts of both counties. Such district shall be reported, together with its census of pupil children, only as belonging to the county in which the school-house of the same may be situated, by the county superintendent of said county; and he shall make report and draw for the whole district as though it lay entirely within his county. But any county superintendent may reclaim the fractional part of his county lying in the district or districts of another county.

§ 5. When two school districts adjoin it shall be lawful for the children of either of such adjoining districts to be taught in and at such school-house as may be most convenient to them; but in such case their per capita or tuition fees shall be paid over to the teacher of that district in which they are taught: Provided, The transfer does not shorten the term of the school of the district from which the transfer has been made, and that such transfer does not interfere with the contract between the teacher and the trustees, and that no such change shall be made without the assent of the trustees of both said districts in writing, and of the parents of the children transferred. In case of an agreement of the kind provided for in this section the trustees of the district in which the children were reported shall notify the county superintendent, and he shall deduct the per capita or tuition fees of said pupils from the district giving permission, and pay them over to the teacher in the district in which they were taught.

§ 6. When a city, town or village establishes and maintains a system of common schools adequate to the teaching of all the children therein, and which all applying for instruction are permitted to attend free of charge, the same shall be deemed one district, and entitled to its proportion of the school fund. Such city, town or village shall, through its school agents or other officers deputed for that purpose, make its annual report to the county superintendent of the county for the several schools therein, at the time and in a similar manner to that required of the trustees of a district. They shall take the census of the children therein, and make return thereof to such county superintendent as, and at the time, trustees are required to do; and shall, for neglect or violation of their duties in that respect, be liable to the same penalties. The county superintendent shall have no control over the school in such districts, but the same shall be governed in all respects by the local authorities.

§ 7. But this act is not to affect, modify or repeal any local or special law which establishes any city or town in one district, but the same shall be governed in all respects by the local laws and authorities, and it shall in nowise affect the charter and amendments thereto of any city or town in the Commonwealth, so far as said charter and amendments relate to the public schools of said cities and towns; nor shall this act affect, modify or repeal any local or special laws now in force for the benefit of any school, high school, seminary, college or other institution of learning in this State.

ARTICLE IX.—District Trustees.

§ 1. Each school district shall be under the control of three trustees, who shall be of good moral character, and able to read and write, one of whom shall be elected each year for the term of three years, to fill the place of the trustee going out of office. The election shall be held at the school-house, and if no school-house be in the district, at such convenient place as the trustees may select, from one o'clock till six o'clock P. M., of the first Saturday of June, 1890, and on the first Saturday of May each year thereafter, notice thereof having been posted by the trustees at three of the most public places in the district for ten days immediately preceding the day of election. At this election, the qualified voters of the district shall be the electors, and any widow having a child between six and twenty years of age may also vote. No person except the county superintendent of common schools, or a resident of the district, shall act as judge of that election. The judge, if not a county superintendent, shall be appointed by the county superintendent; and if the person so appointed from any cause fail to act, then a majority of the voters present at the time for opening the polls shall elect a judge. The judge of the election shall give the casting vote in case of a tie, provided he has not theretofore voted, and give a certificate of election to the person elected, signed by himself; and report the trustee thus elected, in writing, to the county superintendent of the county within five days after the day of election. In case of a tie in which the judge has voted, then he shall certify the fact of a tie to the county superintendent, and the county superintendent shall select from the persons who are tied the trustee, and give him a certificate, and the trustee so selected shall act until his successor is duly qualified. The trustee so elected shall hold office for three years from the day of his qualification, and until his successor is duly elected or appointed and qualified. Any two of the trustees may constitute a quorum to transact the business pertaining to their office. The trustee having the shortest time to serve shall be chairman of the board of trustees, whose duty it shall be to preside at all its meetings, and to make the reports, and to perform all other such acts and duties as required by law of trustees; and in case of neglect or non-performance of duty, the one so remiss of duty shall be subject to like fines and penalties as imposed by law on trustees for neglect of duty or other violations of the law. This act shall in nowise impair the tenure of office by the trustees who have been duly elected or appointed under the present school law.

§ 2. Any person who may be chosen to preside over the election of a school trustee in any school district in this Commonwealth who shall knowingly and with intent to commit a fraud receive and count any illegal vote, or issue a certificate of election to any person not entitled thereto, or shall refuse to issue such certificate to any one duly elected, or who shall fail for five days after the election to report the name of the person thus elected trustee to the county superintendent; any person who shall, with fraudulent intent, deface, mutilate or destroy the records of any such election, shall be fined the sum of fifty dollars for every such offense, or be confined for twenty days in the county jail in default of the payment of such fine, and it shall be the duty of the county superintendent to report such offenses to the grand jury.

§ 3. If from a failure to qualify according to law, or from any other cause, there be a vacancy in the office of trustee, the county superintendent of the county shall supply the same by his appointment, in writing, and the trustee so appointed shall hold his office until the next general election for trustees, or until his successor be elected and qualified.

§ 4. They and their successors shall be a body-politic and corporate, with perpetual succession, by the name of the trustees for their school district; and as such may sue and be sued, take, hold and dispose of real and personal estate for the maintenance, use and benefit of the common school of their district, and receive and enforce payments of subscriptions for the like purpose. Their private seals or scrolls shall stand in lieu of a corporate seal. In the acquisition of land as a site for a school-house, the title thereof shall be made in fee-simple to the trustees, and the titles to lands now used as sites for school-houses shall at the earliest possible time be perfected by the trustees and the county superintendent. Any reversionary interest in any land now used as a site for a school-house shall not forfeit to the school district the school-house or other improvements thereon.

§ 5. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall, through the county superintendents, furnish the chairman of each board of trustees with a trustees' record book, which shall be the property of the State, shall be well preserved, shall be open at all times to public inspection, especially by the trustees and county superintendent, and at the expiration of the chairman's term shall be turned over to his successor. In the said book the chairman of the board of trustees shall, with pen and ink, keep a careful record of the following facts: The name, number and boundary of the district; names of the trustees, and when each was elected or appointed and qualified; the time for which each shall serve; each annual census as reported to the county superintendent; any changes of boundary of the district; the dates and number of the visits of trustees to the school; a copy of the contract with the teacher, and the grade of his certificate; each district election, with the time and purpose and names of its officers; each meeting of the trustees, with the purpose thereof, and the business transacted; the beginning and close of the school term, with the holidays and vacations therein; the money received, with the sources thereof, and for what the same has been disbursed; and such other facts as the county superintendent or Superintendent of Public Instruction may require.

§ 6. The trustees, with the consent of the county superintendent, may take land, by purchase or donation, for the purpose of creating thereon a school-house, provide for and secure the erection of the same, construct such out-buildings and inclosures as shall be conducive to the protection of the property and the comfort and decency of the pupils and teachers, make repairs, and provide the necessary furniture and apparatus. They shall have power to recover for any damages that may be done the property in their charge; and they may change the location of the school-house, sell or dispose of the old site, and use the proceeds thereof towards procuring a new one. If they can not agree with the owner of any land most suitable for a school-house site as to the price and terms of purchase and sale thereof, they shall apply to the judge of the county court by petition, in which they shall set forth by metes and bounds the land they seek to condemn, and the county court shall issue a writ of ad quod damnum, directed to the sheriff to be executed and returned to said court, as in case of condemning lands for the use of railroad and turnpike companies; and upon return of said writ, duly executed, and upon the payment in court, for the benefit of the owner, the amount ascertained by the verdict of the jury, the said court shall issue a writ requiring the sheriff to put the trustees in possession of said lot, and cause a deed to the land, by a commissioner, to be made to the trustees and their successors, which deed shall be duly acknowledged and recorded in the office of the clerk of the county court; and, thereupon, the title to said lot shall vest in said trustees and their successors in office: Provided. They shall not have the right to condemn any private property, which is used by the owner as a residence, garden, orchard or burying-ground. The quantity of land thus condemned shall in no case exceed one acre. A majority of the school electors of any district may appeal from the decision of the trustees, in the location of the school-house or site for the same, to the county superintendent of the county, whose decision in the case shall be final. In such location, it shall be made as near as practicable to the center of the district as will be convenient of access to all the inhabitants of the district; and the trustees shall make provisions for such roads or passways to the school-house as will accommodate all the pupils who may be entitled to attend, and may apply to the county court having jurisdiction to open the same, as other road-ways are opened for public necessity and convenience. No toll shall be charged of any pupil child, for travel upon any turnpike road while attending a common school; nor shall such toll be charged of any teacher during the term of his school, for travel between his boarding-house and school.

§ 7. Whenever the county superintendent notifies the trustees that a school-house has been condemned and needs repairing, or that the furniture or apparatus is insufficient, or in any case it becomes necessary to purchase a site to build a new school-house, then the trustees shall order a per capita tax, not exceeding one dollar per school year, for three years, if necessary, on each male in the district over twenty-one years of age, and a tax not exceeding twenty-five cents on each one hundred dollars' worth of taxable property in the district per school year, for three years, or more if necessary for the purpose, to be collected as similar State taxes are; and such tax shall be applied to the purchase of a site and to the erection and furnishing of a school-house adapted to the wants of said district, or to the equipment of the school-house with furniture or illustrative apparatus: Provided, That the aggregate amount of such tax shall not exceed for any one year the sum of two thousand dollars ($2,000), unless the district is organized as a graded common school district. In all suits arising in the collection of taxes under this chapter, the county attorney shall act as attorney for the trustees, and shall receive for such services such compensation as may be allowed by the county court of claims. Said tax shall be collected by a collector appointed by the trustees, and paid over to the county superintendent, but the said collector shall not receive for his services more than six per cent. of the amount collected. The amount collected from said district shall be paid out on the order of the trustees; and the county superintendent shall be under his bond for the proper disbursement of all such funds. If the trustees of any common school district fail, for the period of six months after the building of the school-house has been properly ordered, to have a good and sufficient school-house in their district, equipped with the furniture and apparatus herein prescribed, the county superintendent shall report such failure to the grand jury at its next meeting, who shall indict the said trustees for such failure, and, upon conviction, each of said trustees shall be fined not less twenty-five dollars, unless he can show a good and satisfactory reason to the trial jury for such failure. Each school-house, including the site, furniture and apparatus, shall have a property value of not less than one hundred and fifty dollars. Each school-house hereafter erected shall have a floor space of not less than ten square feet to each pupil child in the district; shall be at least ten feet between floor and ceiling; shall have at least four windows, and one or more fire places, with chimneys made entirely of brick or stone, or a sufficient number of stoves, or other heating apparatus, with safe flues to warm the room in the coldest weather; one or more doors, with locks and keys, which shall be kept during vacations by the chairman of the trustees, who shall be liable for any damages occurring on account of his neglect. The trustees shall furnish each school-house with the following articles of furniture and apparatus, and the teacher shall, at the close of the school of each year, deliver a complete inventory of the said articles to the chairman of the trustees: Teacher's desk and chair; a seat, patent or otherwise, with back for each child, the height of the seat and its back to suit the age of the child—no desk or bench to be made to accommodate not more than two children; writing desks or tables for all pupils studying writing; blackboard space of at least fifty square feet; water stand; gong or call-bell; terrestrial globe; wall-map of the world, wall-map of the United States and wall county map of Kentucky, and such charts upon reading, writing, physiology, etc., as the trustees may select.

§ 8. Unless there are sufficient funds on hand, derived from other sources for the purposes named in this section, the trustees shall annually assess and collect a poll or capitation tax of not more than one dollar per annum on all persons of the district who are entitled to vote for trustee, which shall be collected as other school taxes are collected, the proceeds of which shall be used for providing the school-house with fuel, additional furniture or apparatus, and defraying other necessary expenses incident to the comfortable conduct of the school: Provided, Said poll or capitation tax may be discharged under the direction of the trustees, by the party or parties upon whom the same may be levied, by the delivery of wood or coal or suitable furniture or apparatus, in value equal to the tax imposed, or by the performance of such labor as may be necessary.

§ 9. The trustees, in their corporate capacity, at a meeting called for that purpose, shall employ a qualified teacher, agree with him as to compensation, and for good cause, of which he shall be first notified in writing, remove him, subject to the approval of the county superintendent. The contract between the teacher and trustees shall be in writing, signed by the teacher, and at least two of the trustees, or the same shall be null and void. Whenever a teacher is entitled to a payment for having legally taught a common school, it shall be the duty of the trustees of the district to furnish a certificate that the school has been legally taught for the period specified. No person shall be allowed to teach a private or other school in any district school-house unless he be of a good moral character, and have the consent of not less than two of the trustees of the district in which said school is to be taught.

§ 10. During the two weeks preceding the opening of the school, the trustees shall visit all the parents of pupil children, and urge upon them the necessity of prompt and regular attendance at school. They shall make careful inquiry as to whether any children are unable to purchase the necessary books, and immediately report the names of all such children to the county superintendent only. During the progress of the school, the trustees shall ascertain the causes of all non-attendance of children, and shall remove such causes, if practicable.

§ 11. The board of trustees shall meet at the school-house on the day of opening the school, and at the same place at least once a month thereafter during the session of the school. At each meeting they shall carefully examine the teacher's register, and shall consider: (1.) The condition of the school-house, furniture, apparatus and surroundings. (2.) The work of the teacher and of the school. (3.) The attendance and how to increase it. (4.) The needs of the school, such as fuel, brooms, buckets, crayons, desks, blackboards, books, etc. They shall provide for any deficiency that may exist in any of these respects, and see that the regulations for the government of the school are complied with, and that the teacher performs his duty. Upon complaint of the teacher, in writing, the trustees shall have power, after investigation, to suspend a pupil or expel him from school. When the trustees shall ascertain, by examining the teacher's register or monthly report, that the average daily attendance for twenty consecutive days taught has been less than twenty per cent. of the total number of pupil children of the district, as shown by the last census, they may, with the consent of the county superintendent, dismiss the teacher, and employ another teacher to complete the session of the school.

§ 12. When any family shall have any infectious or contagious disease, no member of such family shall attend any school until the trustees thereof shall allow them to do so.

§ 13. It shall be the duty of the trustees of each district annually, during the month of April, to take an exact census of all the children then residing in such district, who will be, on the first day of July following, between the ages of six and twenty years, and on or before the first day of May, report a list of the same to the county superintendent, specifying the name, age, sex and names of the parents or guardians of each child. Should said trustees willfully add to the list the names of persons not entitled to be placed on same, or otherwise knowingly make a false list, such person thus offending shall, in addition to being liable to punishment for the crime of perjury, be subject to a fine of not less than fifty dollars; and should any other school officer be a party to such fraudulent lists, or any way aid in the commission of such fraud, he shall be liable to the same punishment. For a failure to take such census, and report the same within the time and in the manner herein required, the trustees shall be liable to a fine of not less than twenty dollars; and said trustees shall not take the census of any children who have recently removed into the district, and who had been previously reported in the census of pupil children for the year in the district from which they have removed, but any pupil child who may not have been reported in the district in which he resides, may attend the common school without payment; and at the same time the foregoing census is taken, the trustees shall make and report upon separate sheets provided for that purpose by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, a list of the whole number of persons of ten years and upwards, in their respective districts, who are unable to read. It shall be the duty of the county superintendent to give special instruction to the trustees as to their duties in making the lists of the persons unable to read.

§ 4. At the termination of each school year the trustees shall make a report to the county superintendent, showing, in tables of details and aggregates, the school districts of his county by number, the length of time taught, the highest, lowest and average number of children at school; the cost of tuition of each child for the session and per month; the number of private schools, academies and colleges taught in the district, and length of sessions of the same; the number of teachers employed—male, female and total—for the common school; the wages of male or female teachers; the amount of money raised for common school purposes in the district, by county and district tax or otherwise, and for what the same was disbursed;

the kind and value of school-houses, and the number of volumes in district library, if any; and any other information required of him by the county superintendent touching the school.

§ 15. The chairman of the board of trustees shall sign all reports made by him, and for a failure to make any such report within thirty days after the same is required by law, shall be subject to a fine of twenty dollars, and besides shall be liable to an action for damages by any person injured thereby.

§ 16. No trustee shall be allowed to buy any teacher's claim, directly or indirectly, under the penalty of removal from office by the county superintendent. Any teacher who shall offer or give, directly or indirectly, and any trustee who shall ask or accept, directly or indirectly, either for himself, for another trustee, for the district, the school or the school-house, any valuable consideration other than the services of the teacher, for employing or for being a party to employing any teacher, shall be deemed guilty of bribery, and, upon indictment and conviction thereof, shall be fined as provided by law for the punishment of bribery.

§ 17. For any neglect of duty or misfeasance in office the trustee shall, in addition to being fined as aforesaid, be removed from office by the county superintendent.

§ 18. The chairman of the board of trustees, in consideration of his services, shall be exempt from duty as overseer or a hand upon a public highway, from service as a juror upon inquests or writs of ad quod damnum, from militia duty, and from penalty for non-attendance upon his summons as grand or petit juror.

§ 19. If any person who is elected or appointed trustee of a common school under the provisions of this act shall willfully fail or neglect, after having accepted said office, to perform the duties imposed upon him herein, he shall be fined fifty dollars therefor.

§ 20. A trustee, when he resigns, vacates, is removed, or goes out of office, shall, within ten days thereafter, deliver to his successor any money, property, books or papers in his custody as trustee; and for failure herein he may be fined any sum not exceeding fifty dollars; and it shall be the duty of the county superintendent to report all such defaults to the grand jury.

ARTICLE X—Teachers.

§ 1. That there shall be three grades of certificates issued to teachers of common schools: First, a State teacher's diploma; second, a State teacher's certificate, and third, a county certificate. Before any person shall be qualified to teach any common school such person shall obtain one of these three grades of certificates.

§ 2. State diplomas shall be issued by the State Board of Examiners, after a critical personal examination, attaining an average grade of at least ninety per cent., the grade upon no subject being less than eighty per cent., held at the State Capitol on the last Wednesday of June of each year, upon the subjects embraced in the common school course of study, and also upon the science and art of teaching, psychology, algebra, higher arithmetic, geometry, physics and English literature. In order to be entitled to a State teacher's diploma, the applicant, in addition to passing the required examination, shall be at least twenty-four years old; shall have taught in the State at least two years, and shall present satisfactory evidence of unexceptionable moral character. A State diploma shall be good until revoked by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, or until the holder shall fail for two successive years to be engaged in active school work. It shall qualify the holder for eligibility as a candidate for the office of county superintendent of common schools, and may, for cause, be revoked by any county superintendent so far as it relates to his county, of which immediate information shall be given the Superintendent of Public Instruction. A State diploma shall be impressed with the seal of the State Board of Examiners, and the fee to the applicant shall be five dollars.

§ 4. A State teacher's certificate may be granted by the State Board of Examiners, after a personal examination, attaining an average grade of at least eighty-five per cent., the lowest grade upon any subject being not less than seventy-five per cent., held at the same time and place as provided for the examination for State diplomas, upon the subjects embraced in the common school course of study, and also upon the science and art of teaching, including the elements of psychology, elementary algebra, and higher arithmetic, or upon a written examination upon the same subjects, held in the applicant's county, as hereinafter provided. In order to be entitled to a State certificate, the applicant, in addition to passing the required examination, shall be at least twenty-one years old; shall have had two years' experience in teaching, one year of which shall have been in this State, and shall present satisfactory evidence of unexceptionable moral character. The questions for the examination of applicants for State certificates shall be forwarded by the State Board of Examiners, with the questions for the June and August questions for county examinations, at the same time, in the same package, and be preserved and opened at the same time as the questions for county certificates. The applicants for State certificates shall be examined on the same days upon which the applicants for county certificates are examined, in June and August; and immediately upon the close of the examination for State certificates, the county superintendent shall collect the papers of each applicant for a State certificate, preserve them from all inspection, forward the same by registered mail to the State Board of Examiners. No applicant shall be examined for a State certificate unless the said applicant is known by the county superintendent to possess an unexceptionable moral character, and to possess the age and experience herein required. With the answers as forwarded to the State Board of Examiners, the county superintendent shall inclose a written statement, in proper form, that the examination had been held in strict accordance with the law; that the applicant had not, either directly or indirectly, received any assistance, and that the moral character of the applicant is unexceptionable. If the answers and statement are deemed sufficient, the Board of Examiners may issue a State certificate, which shall entitle the holder to teach in the common schools of the State for a period of eight years unless revoked by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, or unless the holder shall fail for two successive years to be engaged in active school work. Any county superintendent may, for cause, revoke any State certificate so far as it applies to his county, of which immediate information shall be given the Superintendent of Public Instruction. A State certificate may be impressed with the seal of State Board of Examiners, and the fee to the applicant shall be three dollars, of which fifty cents shall be paid to the county board of examiners, if the examination be held with the county examination. The proceeds of the fees for examinations for State diplomas and State certificates shall be divided between the two members appointed by and acting with the Superintendent of Public Instruction in proportion to the services rendered by them.

§ 4. The county superintendent shall appoint two strictly moral and well-educated persons, who, after June 1, 1891, shall be teachers actively engaged in school work, and holding county certificates of the first class, State certificates or State diplomas, who, together with himself, shall constitute a board of examiners for the county. Before they shall be authorized to grant any certificate said examiners shall take and subscribe an oath that they will faithfully discharge their duties; that they will not grant to any person a certificate until they have fully examined the applicant touching his or her qualifications and fitness to teach as required by the common school law; and the said affidavit shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the county court.

§ 5. County certificates shall be granted by the county board of examiners to persons not under seventeen years, if males, and not under sixteen years, if females, upon written examinations upon the subjects embraced in the common school course, and upon the science and art of teaching held in each county of the State for white teachers upon the first Friday in June, July, August, September, November and January of each year, and for colored teachers upon the second Friday of the same months, and no examination shall be held at any other time whatever. Each examination may continue two days if necessary. No certificate shall be issued upon the same day of examination, nor shall any answers be passed upon in the presence of the applicant. The State Board of Examiners shall carefully prepare six series of questions for white teachers and an equal number for colored teachers, all of the same grade; shall inclose the questions upon each subject in a separate envelope, with the name of the subject plainly written or printed thereon; shall inclose the several envelopes in a package, which they shall seal, and forward by registered mail to each county superintendent at least two weeks before the examination, designating the month for which the same shall be used. The county superintendent shall carefully preserve the said package of questions under seal till the hour of examination, and the seal of the said package shall then be examined by the other examiners and the applicants for certificates, and the package shall be opened in their presence. The examiners shall allot a reasonable time for the examination upon each subject, and shall collect the answers of all applicants when the time allotted has expired; and after the first subject is presented to the applicants the said examiners shall not present any other subject, or open the envelope thereof, until they collect the answers of all applicants to all questions previously presented. The said examiners shall not examine any applicant until they are fully satisfied that said applicant possesses an unexceptionable moral character, and is of the age herein prescribed. They shall take care to see that no assistance, either direct or indirect, is given to, or obtained by, any applicant during the examination, and shall refuse to grant a certificate to any applicant who may either obtain or give such assistance. The county superintendent, and at least one of the examiners, shall be present, and shall conduct all examinations, and sign all certificates. County certificates shall be first-class, second-class and third-class, until the first day of June, 1891, and after that date they shall be first-class or second-class only. County certificates of the second-class and third-class shall apply only to the counties in which they are issued, and shall be good for two years and for one year respectively. A county certificate of the first-class shall be good for four years in the county in which it is issued, and in any adjoining county, if the county superintendent thereof shall indorse said certificate by writing thereon, "Indorsed for ———— county," and signing his name thereto. A county certificate of the first-class shall require an average grade of eighty-five per cent. upon all the subjects of the common school course, and upon the science and art of teaching; and the lowest grade in any subject shall not be less than sixty-five per cent. A county certificate of the second-class shall require an average grade of seventy-five per cent., and the lowest grade on any subject shall not be less than fifty per cent. A county certificate of the third-class shall require an average grade of sixty-five per cent., and the lowest grade on any subject shall not be less than fifty per cent. Any county superintendent or county examiner who shall knowingly grant to any immoral person, or to any person under the prescribed age, or to any person who has received or given aid in the examination a certificate to teach in the common schools, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than twenty-five dollars and not more than fifty dollars for each offense.

§ 6 The county board of examiners shall charge each applicant a fee of one dollar for each examination made, the proceeds of which shall be divided between the two members of the board appointed by and acting with the county superintendent, in proportion to the services rendered by them. If, at any time, the holder of a county certificate shall be found incompetent, inefficient, immoral, or otherwise unworthy to be a teacher, the county superintendent shall revoke the certificate of such person; and any teacher dismissed from school on such grounds shall be entitled to receive payment for services only up to the time of dismissal. Nothing in this act shall be construed to require any teacher now holding a teacher's certificate to be re-examined until the expiration of said certificate.

§ 7. It shall be the duty of each teacher of a common school to keep such a register of the school as the State Superintendent may require of and furnish to him. The teacher's register shall be the property of the district, shall be systematically graded for four years' work, shall be well preserved, without mutilation or useless marking, shall be in the care of the teacher during the school term, and at the close thereof shall be delivered to the chairman of the board of trustees, who shall be responsible for it, and deliver it to the teacher at the opening of the next school term, and it shall be open at all times to the inspection of the trustees and the county superintendent. The section allotted to each year shall be divided into two parts, designated as Monthly Summary and Term Summary. The Monthly Summary shall show the day of the week and day of the month upon which the term began, the day of the week and of the month of each day taught, the number of pupils enrolled, the number in attendance each day, the name, sex and daily standing of each pupil in each subject, the times tardy and length of such tardiness of each pupil, and such other facts as the Superintendent of Public Instruction may desire. On the last day of each month taught the teacher shall sum up and place at the end of the record for the month the facts herein required to be kept, with the day of the week and month on which the school month closed, the highest and lowest number of pupil children in attendance, and the average percentage of the attendance of the whole number of pupil children in the district. The Term Summary shall show the monthly statement made at the end of each month, the percentage of the enrollment of the whole number of pupil children in the district, the highest, lowest and average number of children in attendance, the average percentage of the children of the district in attendance, the number of pupils in each class, the name of the text book used in each class, the point reached by each pupil in each book at the close of the term, the names of all pupils that should be advanced, the class of the teacher's certificate, his average monthly salary, and such other facts as may be required in the register.

§ 8. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall provide for each teacher a blank monthly report for each month to be taught, and also a blank term report. At the end of each month taught the teacher shall fill the monthly report of that month from the facts summed up in the monthly summary of the register, and shall present the monthly report to the chairman of the board of trustees, who shall carefully examine it, and if found correct, he shall fill out and sign a certificate attached to the monthly report, certifying that the month had been legally taught; and upon the chairman's certificate, the teacher shall draw his salary from the county superintendent for the month so certified, after the monthly report has been duly delivered to the county superintendent. Within ten days after the close of the last month of the term, the teacher shall make out the term report from the term summary in the register; shall present the term report, the last monthly report, and the teacher's register to the chairman, who shall carefully inspect them and approve the reports, make out the chairman's annual report, and shall then give the teacher certificates for the months not previously certified, and shall place the chairman's annual report in the teacher's hands for delivery to the county superintendent. Any teacher who shall make a false monthly or term report, or any chairman of trustees who shall give a certificate of a month or of months taught before he has carefully examined and approved the report of each month, or any county superintendent who shall make a payment upon a teacher's salary, except upon the chairman's certificate, and upon receiving the monthly report or reports for the month or months so paid, or shall pay the last month's salary before receiving the chairman's annual report, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than twenty dollars nor more than forty dollars for each offense.

§ 9. Teachers shall faithfully enforce in school the course of study, the text books adopted in the county, and the regulations prescribed in pursuance of law; and if any teacher shall wilfully refuse or neglect to comply with such requisitions, the county superintendent, on petition or complaint of the trustees, may remove or dismiss him; and in case of such dismissal or removal, the said teacher shall receive payment only for the time taught. The teacher is authorized and directed to hold each pupil to a strict accountability for any disorderly conduct on the play ground, or during any intermission or recess, or on the road to and from school; and for good cause he may suspend any pupil: Provided, That such suspension shall be immediately reported, in writing, to the chairman of the board of trustees. In cases of suspension, the action of the teacher shall be final, unless reversed by the trustees. Either party may appeal from the decision of the trustees to the county superintendent, whose decision shall be final.

§ 10. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall appoint two professional educators, who, together with himself, shall constitute a State Board of Examiners, who shall examine all applicants personally, applying to them for certificates of qualification as county superintendents. The said board of examiners shall prepare the series of questions for the examination of candidates for county superintendent, as provided in section 4, of article vii, of this act; and also the different series of questions for the examination of teachers as provided in section 2, of article 10, of this act.

ARTICLE XI.—Teachers' Institute.

§ 1. It shall be the duty of each county superintendent to organize and cause to be held annually a teachers' institute for the normal instruction, improvement and better qualification of the teachers of his county. The institute shall occupy not less than five days, and shall be held between the first day of June and the first day of December. The Superintendent of Public Instruction and two competent institute instructors, appointed by him, shall constitute a committee on programme to prepare and place in the hands of each county superintendent, not later than June 1 of each year, a programme of the work of the institute and a syllabus of each subject of instruction as provided in section 6 of this article. The programme and syllabus as prescribed shall be furnished each member of the institute, and shall be faithfully and efficiently carried out. Any county superintendent who shall wilfully fail or neglect to hold the annual institute as prescribed in this article shall be fined fifty dollars.

§ 2. Each county superintendent of this State shall employ one or more able and experienced institute instructors to direct each institute held by him, and to instruct the teachers thereof. After June 1, 1891, no person shall be deemed qualified or authorized to take charge of an institute as conductor, director or instructor thereof, or to receive any compensation as conductor, director or instructor of an institute; and no county superintendent shall employ such person to conduct, direct or instruct an institute for compensation, unless such person shall have obtained a State diploma or a State certificate from the State Board of Examiners.

§ 3. Beginning in 1891, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall annually call all the professional institute workers of the State into institute convention at the State Capital during the month of May, for the purpose of better organization and more effective management of institute work. It shall be the duty of each person holding a State diploma, and proposing to assume charge of an institute or of institutes as conductor or instructor, to attend each annual session of the institute convention; and any such person failing to attend shall forfeit his privilege to conduct or instruct any institute for that year, unless he can satisfy the Superintendent of Public Instruction that there was a reasonable excuse for not attending. At the said institute convention the whole subject of institute work shall be thoroughly discussed, and the best plans for prosecuting it throughout the State shall be adopted and used in all counties. The said institute convention may suggest to the committee on programme principles, subjects and methods for incorporation in the programme and syllabus. Any incidental expenses of the institute convention shall be debited to the contingent expenses of the department of public instruction.

§ 4. All teachers who have schools in session or under contract, and all persons who contemplate teaching a common school at any time during the school year, must attend the full session of the institute. The county superintendent shall, at the close of the institute, indorse the fact of attendance upon the certificates of all teachers who shall have attended the full session of the institute, and the certificate of every teacher not so indorsed shall at once, unless otherwise specially provided by law, become null and void without being formally revoked by the county superintendent, and if the said superintendent is satisfied that any teacher had been prevented from attending by actual sickness or other disability, he may make the certificate of such teacher valid as before, by writing thereon the word "renewed," and dating and signing the same. The said indorsement of attendance shall be in these words, signed by the county superintendent: Attended full session of the county institute of ----- county, beginning the --- day of the month of ----- 18—. After the county institute has been held, it shall be unlawful to grant any person a certificate to teach at any time during that school year, unless the said person shall have attended the full session of the institute of that or some other county during that school year, or unless the county superintendent shall be fully satisfied that the failure to attend the institute had been caused by sickness or other disability. During the institute there shall be a suspension of such schools as are in session, but no reduction of the teachers' salary shall be made on account of such suspension except as hereinafter provided. The time of the institute shall not be accredited to the teacher whether held during the session of his school or before it begins, but he shall only have credit for the days and parts of days of actual attendance. At the close of the institute the county superintendent shall give to each teacher or other person in attendance a certificate of the number of days and parts of days that the teacher or other person had attended, which certificate of attendance shall be filed by the teacher with the chairman of the board of trustees of the district, who shall make report thereof to the county superintendent at the time of reporting the school.

§ 5. Any adjoining counties not exceeding four in number may combine and hold a joint institute: Provided, The county superintendents of all the counties concerned shall agree upon the plans necessary to the purposs; that each of them shall attend the full session of the said joint institute, and keep the record provided in section 6; that at least two able and experienced instructors are employed, if more than two counties are combined, and that the approval of the Superintendent of Public Instruction be obtained for the purpose at least thirty days before the opening of the said joint institute.

§ 6. The county superintendent shall be present during the entire session of the county institute; shall have the roll called every morning and afternoon; and shall keep a strict daily register of the presence, absence and tardiness of the teachers and other members, and of the exercises of the institute. He may collect two dollars, but in no case shall he collect less than one dollar from each teacher or other person in attendance on the institute at the time of matriculation. These fees shall form a county institute fund. Out of this fund the county superintendent shall pay all necessary expenditures, including the publication of the proceedings of the institute and association in one or more newspapers, or in pamphlet form. A copy of the published proceedings shall be forwarded by the county superintendent to the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction. Any residue after the payment of the institute expenses shall constitute a fund for the formation of a county teachers' library, under the control and supervision of the county superintendent and board of examiners. In case of a joint institute, the proceedings shall be published jointly, and any surplus fund shall be prorated among the counties concerned.

§ 7. In selecting a proper place for holding the teachers' institute, the county superintendent shall decide with reference to the convenience and accommodation of the place, and shall endeavor to make such arrangements as he best can for economizing and reducing the expense of teachers while in attendance. He shall, twenty days before the institute begins, notify by mail the trustees of his county of the time and place of holding it; and it shall be the duty of each trustee to notify promptly every teacher in his school district. The county superintendent shall likewise direct the trustees of each district to post notices thereof.

§ 8. The Superintendent of Public Instruction may recommend able and experienced normal instructors to conduct the teachers' institutes, whose pay shall be derived from and paid by the county superintendent, out of the funds raised from the teachers and other members of the institute.

§ 9. At each session of the institute every subject embraced in the common school course shall be brought before the institute, illustrated and discussed, and every feature of school organization and school management, together with the whole work of the teacher, shall be considered, and the common school laws of the State read and expounded.

§ 10. During the session of the institute there may be held a county teachers' association, and an evening or night term of two hours may be daily set apart for this purpose. The association may be composed of all the officers and teachers of common schools present, and shall be called together by the county superintendent, after which the organization and proceedings of the body shall be under its own control and management. The objects of such association shall be, primarily, to discuss and devise the best ways and means of promoting the interests of common schools and the improvement of teachers and the methods of teaching.

§ 11. The county superintendent shall, at the time of making his annual report to the Superintendent, also report the time and place of holding the teachers' institute, the name of the person conducting the same, the number of persons registered as in attendance, the sum collected by the fee paid by each person in attendance, the number of teachers of common schools in the county who did not attend the institute and teachers' association, as he may deem of value and interest.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,)
FRANKFORT, May 20, 1890. }

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives :

On the 10th inst. a bill, originating in the House of Representatives, numbered 1973, and entitled "An act to authorize the counties of Johnson, Floyd and Pike to subscribe to the capital stock of the Ohio and Big Sandy Railroad Company," reached the Executive Office by the usual methods of transmission. On the 15th inst. a Senator and a member of the House of Representatives, claiming to be a committee appointed for that purpose by the respective Houses, requested the return of the bill to the General Assembly. The Executive Journal shows that the bill was placed in their hands as requested.

On the 17th inst. the bill, which the Executive Journal shows to have been thus withdrawn, was placed upon my table, not through the ordinary channels used by the General Assembly for communicating with the Executive, and accompanied by what purported to be a certificate of the Clerk of the House of Representatives, to the effect that the Journal of that body did not show any authority for the withdrawal of the bill in question.

Considering that the Executive Journal is as conclusive on the actions of the Governor as the Journal of the House is on the action of that body, there is serious doubt as to whether this bill is now properly before me for action.

It is due to the public interests that this frank statement of the official facts connected with the bill should be made in order that the General Assembly may advise me of their wishes in regard to the disposition they desire to be made of the bill.

Respectfully,

S. B. BUCKNER.

Mr. Newman proposed the following resolution, viz :

Be it resolved, That it is the sense of the Senate, that as said bill No. 1973 was not withdrawn from the Governor in the regular form, as said bill was a House bill, and said House Journal does not show that said House had sanctioned said withdrawal from him, and that, therefore, said bill is regularly in his possession.

Mr. Stewart moved that the further consideration of said message and proposed resolution be postponed, and that the same be made the special order of the day for to-morrow, at 10:30 o'clock A. M.

And the question being taken thereon, it was decided in the affirmative.

A message was received from the House of Representatives, asking leave to withdraw from the Senate the announcement of the passage by the House of Representatives, with an amendment thereto of a bill, which originated in the Senate, entitled

An act to authorize and empower the court of levy and claims of Floyd county to sell and convey the old court-house property in the town of Prestonsburg.

Which was granted, and said bill was delivered to the messenger.

A message in writing was received from the Governor by Hon. Ed Porter Thompson, Private Secretary.

Said message was taken up and read as follows, viz :

STUDIO ROOM 20, VERNON ROW, }
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 15, 1890. }

Gov. S. B. BUCKNER, Frankfort, Ky.:

HONORABLE SIR: Aware of the great respect and high esteem in which the late Senator Beck was held, and of his strong character as a pillar of his State, I naturally suppose that chivalrous Kentucky would wish to have his memory perpetuated in marble or bronze. In the acceptance of that fact I have secured an excellent death mask, which, together with the experience I have had in making posthumous portrait busts, and the good photographs of him extant, I feel that I can do justice to his memory and please his friends.

I write to you after a consultation with Senator Blackburn, who gave me your name and address and advised me to write to you, using his name as recommendation, he being fully satisfied as to my ability to do competent work.

My idea is this: In case you want to place a bust of Senator Beck in the Capitol or other public position there, I will make one in Clay, subject to the approval of those members of his family who are here, together with the Representatives of your State here in Congress, and on their judgment I am willing to rest.

I am now making for the Senate a bust of the late Vice-President Thomas A. Hendricks in marble. I have also made one of W. W. Corcoran, which is placed in the gallery of art founded by him and taking his name; also one of Chief Justice Waite, all of which have been made from photographs, and are highly commended and satisfactory to the persons concerned. I have also made in marble a bust of Gen. Wade Hampton from a sitting, which is much admired, and is in the Corcoran Gallery of Art.

Hoping, sir, your interest may be awakened in this, I am, sir, most respectfully,

U. S. J. DUNBAR,

Sculptor.

On motion of Mr. Glenn—

The Governor may also designate or appoint some attorney for the Commonwealth, or some person a citizen of this State, who shall possess all of the qualifications prescribed by law for eligibility to the office of attorney for the Commonwealth, except such person need not be a resident of the circuit or criminal court district in which said court is held, who shall attend said court and perform all of the duties, and be under all of the liabilities now prescribed by law for the government of attorneys for the Commonwealth. Said person shall, before entering upon the discharge of his duties, take the oath prescribed by law to be administered to attorneys for the Commonwealth.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
FRANKFORT, May 22, 1890. }

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives :

On the 20th inst. I informed the General Assembly of all the circumstances attending the withdrawal from the Executive office of House bill No. 1973, and of its having been subsequently restored to this office, and requested the General Assembly to advise me of their wishes in regard to withdrawing it for reconsideration. Two days having elapsed without my receiving expression of their wishes on the subject, and the ten days allotted by the Constitution for executive consideration having expired last night, it became necessary for the Executive to take some action on the matter. Desiring to comply with the wishes of the General Assembly, I deferred my action to the last moment. Finding nothing in the bill to which I could urge any objection, and being advised that it was legitimately before me, at the last moment I considered it my duty to approve the bill, which would have become a law without my signature, and take this method of advising the General Assembly of my action.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
FRANKFORT, KY., May 22, 1890. }

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives:

As your session is drawing to a close I may be pardoned for inviting your attention to the consideration of legislative questions of much public importance now pending before one branch or the other of the General Assembly, and on which action is incomplete, and also to other matters on which it is deemed proper to take action before final adjournment.

I am advised that amongst other bills of a public character now under consideration, and on which action is desirable, are the following:

Bill in regard to the Sinking Fund (makes it unnecessary to transfer to that fund from General Expenditure Fund until there is need for money in the Sinking Fund).

Bill to restore right of State to vote its stock in turnpike roads.

Bill to prescribe mode of ascertaining value of railroad bridges across the Ohio.

Bill (general) in regard to Building and Loan Associations in Kentucky.

Bill in regard to State Militia (to provide for the payment of, when called upon to sustain courts in counties of the State).

Bills in regard to the Penitentiary.

Bill in regard to Record Books for the counties.

Bill to impose tax on Sleeping Car Companies in the State.

Bill to extend time for final settlement of Sheriffs to first Monday in January.

Bill to authorize the State to sue for taxes.

Bill to impose privilege tax on organizations of corporations.

Bill in regard to idiots. (Divides cost of maintenance between State and county).

Bill creating the office of Bank Examiner.

Bill in regard to public printing. (To reduce the number of copies of acts printed).

Many of these bills have an important bearing on the revenue of the State. The General Assembly can best judge of those which should command their first attention, but it may be permitted me to suggest that amongst those of prime importance, seem—

1. The penitentiary question.

All doubts which may have been raised as to the validity of the existing lease should be removed either by abrogating or confirming the contract, as the wisdom of the General Assembly may determine.

2. The bill to authorize the State to sue for taxes. Large amounts are due the State which can not be recovered under existing laws.

3. The bill for ascertaining the value of bridges across the Ohio river.

It was suggested to a former Legislature that the assessment be placed in the hands of the Railroad Commissioners.

4. The bills in regard to record books, which should be paid for by the counties, and in regard to militia employed in the different counties of the State, will also command consideration at your hands.

5. The bill reducing the number of copies of private and local acts to be printed.

The number of acts passed by the last Legislature was 1,571. The number passed by the present General Assembly which have already become laws amount to 1,702.

In consequence of the large number of voluminous town charters recently enacted, it is believed that the acts of the present session can not be compressed into less than four large volumes. When it is considered that all acts of a public character could be included in one small volume, and that under existing laws three thousand copies of all the acts are published, the unnecessary cost to the State for the printing of three thousand copies or more than nine thousand volumes of acts of no public importance whatever, and of interest only to a few individuals, becomes at once apparent. It is estimated that the cost of each one of these volumes is about five dollars, making an unnecessary cost to the State for the printing of private acts of from $40,000 to $45,000.

It is recommended that there be printed three thousand five hundred copies of the general acts, to provide for the increased number of officials, and that the number of copies of the private and local acts be reduced to three hundred copies, which would be adequate to supply every county, the public offices and libraries. In this way it is believed that a sufficient amount would be saved from public printing alone to provide for the proposed addition to the lunatic asylums.

It is further recommended that an act be passed requiring that all fines adjudged by any court for violations of the penal laws of the State be paid to the trustees of the jury fund in the several counties. Great inequality exists now in this respect. Many of the cities and towns derive the benefit of a large portion of these fines, while many others pay the fines properly into the State Treasury. The rule should be uniform in order to equalize the burdens of taxation. Many thousand dollars would be saved to the Treasury by the enactment of such a law.

When the sheriffs first pay their collections to the Auditor, there is annually a large accumulation of funds in the Treasury lying idle before legal demands are made for its disbursement. If authority were given to the Treasurer, subject to the approval of the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, to invite competition from different good banks to hold these balances until required, paying interest thereon, it is estimated that a sufficient amount of interest could be thus earned by the State to meet the entire expenses of the Geological Survey.

Your attention is also earnestly invited to the necessity of additional legislation in connection with the disturbed condition of some of the counties of the Commonwealth, and the propriety of strengthening the hands of the judicial and executive officers in the administration of justice. It is understood that you are already considering remedial legislation in this regard, and that your own appreciation of the importance of the questions involved will result in a satisfactory solution of the many of these difficulties.

The importance of legislation having for a result the curtailing of expenses and of bringing into the Treasury all moneys properly belonging to it will be apparent when it is considered that instead of having a surplus in the Treasury on the first of next July of $171,845.42, as estimated in the Auditor's report of last year, there will be an actual deficit that date, as estimated by the present Auditor, based upon the actual expenditures up to the present time.

Respectfully,

S. B. BUCKNER.

On motion of Mr. Dickerson—

Ordered, That said communication be referred to the Committee on the Judiciary, with leave to report by bill or otherwise, at any time.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Mulligan withdrew the motion heretofore entered by him, to reconsider the vote by which the Senate had passed a bill, entitled

An act to punish proprietors, owners or managers of circuses, menageries, or other exhibitions for imposing upon the people by false or fraudulent advertisements.

The Senate, according to order, took up for consideration a bill, which originated in the Senate, entitled

An act concerning the Treasury of Kentucky.

Said bill reads as follows, viz :

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, § 1. That from and after this act goes into effect all public moneys and dues shall be paid into and out of the Treasury as provided in this act.

§ 2. All public moneys and dues to the Commonwealth shall be paid into the Treasury upon the written permit or authority of the Auditor, as now, or may hereafter be, provided by law ; and the same, when paid to the Treasurer, shall be by him, on the same day, deposited in one of the State depositories hereinafter designated.

§ 3. The Auditor shall number and date the permits issued by him to pay money into the Treasury, beginning the first day of July, and ending the thirtieth day of June, inclusive, in each fiscal year, so as to exhibit the number, date and amount of each permit, and from whom and for what the money to be paid into the Treasury thereunder is payable. And the Treasurer, in making deposits in the State depositories, will do so by the numbers, and in the amounts corresponding with the Auditor's permits.

§ 4. No money shall be paid out of the Treasury, except upon the warrant of the Auditor, drawn upon the Treasurer, as now, or may hereafter, be provided by law, and then only by the check of the Treasurer upon a designated State depository, certified by the Auditor ; and no such check shall be given by the Treasurer, even though the Auditor issues a warrant therefor, unless the law under which the money may be claimed expressly directs and orders that it shall be paid out of the Public Treasury.

§ 5. The Auditor shall date and number his warrants, beginning the first day of July, and ending the thirtieth day of June, inclusive, in each fiscal year, so as to exhibit the number, date and amount of each warrant, on what account issued, and to whom payable. And the Treasurer shall date and number his checks on the State depositories, beginning the first day of July, and ending the thirtieth day of June, inclusive, in each fiscal year, and shall on each indicate the number of the Auditor's warrant or warrants under which the same is issued.

§ 6. The Governor shall have the authority to require, at any time, a full statement of the condition of the Treasury from the Auditor, the Treasurer and the depositories.

§ 7. The president or cashier of each of said State depositories shall, at the close of the business hours each day, furnish a statement over his official signature, to the Auditor, showing the amounts deposited therein by, and paid out on, the checks of the Treasurer during said day, and the balance then remaining therein, to the credit of the Treasury.

§ 8. The Farmers' Bank of Kentucky and the Branch Bank of Kentucky, at Frankfort, are hereby continued and constituted the State depositories ; and all public money of the State now in, or hereafter received into the Treasury, shall be deposited in said depositories, in amounts as nearly equal as convenience will permit. And the Governor may, from time to time, as to him may seem necessary, examine into the condition of the State depositories and the manner in which the State's account is therein kept, and if he shall at any time find that the capital of any depository has become impaired, he shall have power to cause the State's deposit to be withdrawn therefrom, and temporarily name another depository, which, when so named, shall, with its president and cashier be subject to the provisions of this act. For services rendered by said depositories there shall be no charges made of any character or description.

§ 9. For any willful violation of the provisions of this act, the Auditor, Treasurer, president or cashier, of the aforementioned depositories may, upon indictment and conviction, be fined at the discretion of the trial jury.

§ 10. This act shall take effect from and after the thirtieth day of June, 1890.

The committee had heretofore proposed the following amendment to said bill, viz :

Amend section 8 by adding : And said banks shall each pay to the Commonwealth, in proportion to the deposits received, interest at the rate of two per centum per annum upon the average daily deposits on hand at the close of banking hours, the same to be paid to the Treasurer at the end of each six months ; that is, on the 31st day of December and the 30th day of June in each year, commencing on the 31st day of December, 1890. If said banks, or either of them, shall decline to accept the deposits of the State upon these terms, then in lieu of the banks so declining, the Governor shall name from the other good and solvent State banks a depository or depositories willing so to accept the same, in the manner and upon the conditions and subject to the duties and limitations hereinbefore set out.

Mr. Dickerson moved that the session of the Senate be extended until the bill under consideration was disposed of.

Mr. Mulligan moved that the Senate do now take a recess until 3 o'clock P. M.

And the question being taken thereon, it was decided in the affirmative.

And then the Senate took a recess until 3 o'clock P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment, and resumed the consideration of the bill aforesaid.

Mr. Darby proposed to amend said bill as follows, viz :

That the Farmers' Bank of Kentucky and Branch Bank of Kentucky are hereby designated as depositories in which (unless as hereinafter provided) all money received by the Treasurer, as such, shall be deposited in amounts as nearly equal as convenience will permit. The Treasurer shall, as often as may seem proper, examine into the condition of said banks, and if at any time, on account of the accumulation of the money of the State therein, or for other reason, giving due consideration to question of greater rate of interest to be had, if any, the Treasurer shall be of opinion that the best interest of the State will be subserved by depositing any part or all of the money of the State under his control in other bank or banks organized under the laws of this Commonwealth, or if said banks or either of them shall refuse to receive said deposits, or to pay satisfactory rate of interest thereon, then he may so deposit in other bank or banks ; and may withdraw from either or both of said banks named, and so re-deposit any or all of the money of the State already deposited therein, but in selecting other bank or banks in which to deposit, he shall have the advice and consent of the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund.

§ 2. The banks named as depositories, and those to be selected by the Treasurer under provisions of this act, if any, shall pay to the State such interest or daily balances as may be agreed upon between them and the Treasurer, same to be credited to Treasurer's account at end of each month, and by him reported to the Auditor, and by the Auditor charged to the Treasurer in his monthly settlements.

§ 3. This act shall take effect from June 30, 1890.

Mr. Dickerson proposed to amend said bill as follows, viz :

Amend by adding to section 8 the words : Nothing in this act shall be construed to permit the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund from discharging their duties under chapter 101 of the General Statutes, or that may hereafter be required by law.

Mr. Mulligan proposed to amend said bill as follows, viz :

Amend by inserting before the word "two," in the third line, the words "not less than."

The question before the House was the bill for the better protection of the Treasury. A motion having been made that the vote by which the bill was passed be reconsidered, and that that motion be laid on the table, the Senator from Fayette demanded a division of the question, upon the ground that the question as put embraced two questions, i. e., a motion to reconsider and a motion to lay that motion on the table. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, § 1. That there is hereby created and established the office of State Bank Examiner.

§ 2. That the Governor, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, shall appoint some suitable person, at least thirty years of age, and possessing all the qualifications of an elector of this State, to said office as soon as this law goes into effect, and said person shall hold said position for four years, at the expiration of which time, and every four years thereafter, the Governor shall make an appointment to said position, subject to the advice and consent of the Senate, for the term of two years.

§ 3. The Governor shall have the power at any time to suspend or remove the incumbent of said office therefrom at pleasure, the order of suspension or removal to be in writing, stating the cause therefor, and filed with the Secretary of State; and in case of a vacancy in said office, the Governor shall have power to fill said vacancy by appointment, subject to the advice and consent of the Senate, if then in session; if not, then to be reported to the Senate, and advised and consented to or rejected, at its next session.

§ 4. Said State Bank Examiner shall, before entering upon his duties, take an oath before some one qualified to administer oaths to faithfully and diligently discharge the duties of said office, and execute bond with sufficient security, to be approved by the Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, in the sum of ten thousand dollars for the faithful performance of his duties. Said bond and said affidavit shall be filed with the Secretary of State.

§ 5. It shall be the duty of said State Bank Examiner, at least once in each year, to examine the cash, bills of exchange, notes, collaterals and other securities and assets, books of accounts, and the condition and affairs of each bank chartered, organized and doing business under authority of an act of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, and oftener should he be called upon so to do by the board of directors of any bank so chartered, organized and transacting business in this State. For that purpose he may examine on oath any of the officers, agents, clerks, customers or depositors of such bank touching the affairs and business of such bank. Any willful false swearing in any examination shall be deemed perjury. He shall also ascertain whether each bank transacts its business in conformity with the provisions of the act incorporating it.

§ 6. Said State Bank Examiner shall have access at any and all times to the books, papers, cash and securities of any bank incorporated by the General Assembly of this Commonwealth, for purposes of official investigation only, upon the production of his commission as State Bank Examiner, which shall be his warrant for making such examination.

§ 7. It shall be the duty of said State Bank Examiner, within ten days after making an examination of any bank incorporated, organized and transacting business as aforesaid, to make out and forward to the Auditor of Public Accounts, under seal, a detailed statement of the condition of such bank, showing its assets and liabilities, and giving such other information as he may deem necessary to present touching the solvency and management of said bank.

§ 8. If it should appear to the Examiner upon a careful investigation of any State bank, as shown in his report to the Auditor of Public Accounts of the condition of said bank, that said bank has failed to pay its depositors, is insolvent, or that the capital of the bank has been impaired or reduced below the amount required by its charter, he shall immediately notify the Auditor, and it shall be the duty of the Auditor, and he shall have power to examine said bank and ascertain the facts, and in case he finds that there exists such inability to pay depositors, such insolvency or impairment, or reduction of capital, to require such bank to make good the deficiency so appearing. If any bank shall refuse or fail for ninety days after written requisition to make good the deficiency so appearing or found to exist, it shall be the duty of the Auditor, with the concurrence of the Attorney-General, to institute proceedings for the appointment of a receiver of such bank to wind up its business.

§ 9. The State Bank Examiner shall prepare each year, for the Auditor of Public Accounts, a tabulated statement, showing in the aggregate the total amount of capital paid into, and employed by, State banks; the whole amount of their debts and liabilities; the total amount of means and resources, the total amount of lawful money on hand, and such other information in relation to the incorporated banks of the State as, in his judgment, may be required. The Examiner shall call for a sworn statement of the condition of each State bank, as of the first day of June in each year, from which to compile his statement to the Auditor, and the statement of the Examiner to the Auditor shall be printed and be a part of the annual report of the Auditor for that year.

§ 10. For each annual and each special examination the bank examiend shall pay into the State Treasury, to the credit of the State Bank Examiner, the one hundredth part of one per cent. of the gross amount of the assets of said bank: Provided, That the examination fee of any bank shall not be less than ten dollars. At the end of each month the Auditor shall draw his warrant upon the Treasurer in favor of the State Bank Examiner for such an amount as may appear to have been paid in during the month to the credit of said Examiner.

§ 11. The State Bank Examiner shall be allowed the sum of one hundred dollars per annum for necessary printing, stationery and postage, to be paid for by the State of Kentucky, and the Auditor of Public Accounts is authorized to draw his warrant upon the Treasurer for such sum, in quarterly installments of twenty-five dollars each.

§ 12. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

The committee had heretofore reported the following amendment as a substitute for said bill, viz :

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky: § 1. That there is hereby created and established the office of Examiner of State Banks, Trust, Building, Loan and Investment Companies.

§ 2. It shall be the duty of the Governor of this Commonwealth, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to appoint some suitable person to said office, who shall be not less than thirty nor more than sixty years of age, possessing all of the qualifications of an elector of this State, and who shall be a competent and expert accountant; and such examiner shall hold said position for four years from the date of his appointment, and until his successor shall be duly elected and qualified, unless sooner removed or suspended from office as is hereinafter provided.

§ 3. The Governor shall have the power to suspend or remove the incumbent of said office therefrom for cause, the order of suspension or removal to be in writing, stating the cause therefor, and filed with the Secretary of State; and in case of a vacancy in said office by reason of removal or suspension therefrom, or for any other cause, the Governor shall have power to fill such vacancy by appointment, subject to the advice and consent of the Senate, if then in session, or, if not in session, then such appointment to be reported to the Senate at its next session, and then advised and consented to or rejected.

§ 4. Before entering upon the discharge of the duties of said office, said examiner shall take an oath, before some officer qualified under the laws of this State to administer oaths, to faithfully, impartially and diligently discharge the duties of said office, and he shall execute a bond in the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars to the Commonwealth of Kentucky, to be approved by the Governor, conditioned that said examiner will faithfully, impartially and diligently discharge the duties of said office, and that he will pay to the State of Kentucky, or to any corporation or party injured, any damages such corporation or party may sustain by reason of his failure or refusal to discharge the duties of said office faithfully, impartially and diligently; and said oath and bond shall be recorded in the office of the Secretary of State, and there filed, copies of which may be furnished by said Secretary; and any person, corporation or party injured by reason of said examiner's failure to discharge the duties of said office as aforesaid may institute an action on said bond in the name of the Commonwealth of Kentucky for his benefit for the recovery of such damages as the party suing may have sustained thereby.

§ 5. It shall be the duty of said examiner, at least once in each year, and not oftener, unless ordered so to do by the Governor, or requested by the managers or directors thereof, to carefully examine the cash, bills of exchange, notes, collaterals and other securities, assets and books of accounts of each bank, trust, building, loan and investment company chartered, organized and doing business under the authority of the laws of this State, and of each building, loan and investment company doing business in this State organized under the laws of any other State or country, and for that purpose he may examine on oath any of the officers, agents, clerks or other employes of said banks, trust, building, loan and investment companies, touching the affairs and business of said institutions. He shall ascertain and report the amount of assets, and of what composed, said institutions have; also the whole amount of liabilities; also the amount of capital stock, number of shares, how many shares have been subscribed for, how many have been fully paid up, and how many only partially, and the per cent. paid thereon; also whether or not any certificate of capital stock has been issued to any subscriber as paid up upon his note; also what per cent. of loans and discounts have been made to the directors, officers or persons whose duty it is to manage, conduct or aid in the management and conduct of said institutions embraced by the first and other sections of this act, and he shall in all cases report the amount of cash on hand, and state any other fact which will enable the persons interested in the institutions aforesaid to ascertain their true condition.

§ 6. It shall be the duty of said examiner, within ten days after making an examination of any bank, trust, building, loan or investment company, incorporated, organized and transacting business as aforesaid, to make out his report in duplicate form, one of which shall be delivered to the bank or other institution examined, and the other shall be forwarded or delivered to the Auditor of Public Accounts; and it shall be the duty of such bank or other corporation to have said report of said examiner published by five insertions in some newspaper having a general circulation in the county where said bank or other corporation is located, within thirty days after receiving said report, and it shall be the duty of said Auditor to have said reports printed at the time of printing his report for that year in a separate volume, a copy of which shall be sent to each of the corporations referred to in this act, for which it shall pay to the Auditor its due proportion of the cost of printing and binding and forwarding said volume, estimated upon the number of copies delivered: Provided, however, That if the officers or persons conducting and managing any bank or other corporation reported upon by said examiner shall desire to contest the accuracy, fairness or justice of such report, they may, in ten days after receiving said report, suggest to the Governor in writing that said report is erroneous or false or unjust to such institution, and he may suspend said publication for thirty days, or for a longer time should he think it proper to do so, for corrections to be made by said examiner of such errors in said report as may be shown by the institution complaining, and then the corrected report shall be published as above provided, and any officer or person managing or conducting the corporations aforesaid or their business, who shall willfully fail or refuse to have the reports of said examiner published as herein provided for, shall, upon indictment and conviction, be fined in any sum not exceeding one hundred dollars, and each space of ten days after the time said publication should have been first made shall be deemed a separate offense.

§ 7. The said examiner shall, upon his exhibition of his certificate of office, presented at the office or place of business of any of the corporations aforesaid, have authority and power to take charge of the cash-books, papers, cash, assets and securities of such corporation for the purpose of making the examination and report herein provided for, and if any officer or other person engaged in the conduct or management of the business of said corporation shall refuse to permit said examiner to take possession of the books, papers or property aforesaid, for the purpose of making said examination, or shall withhold the same from him after same have been demanded, he or they so offending shall, upon conviction, be fined in any sum not exceeding five hundred dollars for each offense, and each day said refusal shall be continued shall be deemed a separate offense. The said examiner shall have power and authority to administer oaths to the officers of said corporations and to the persons whom he is authorized by this act to examine, touching the affairs and business of said corporation; and if any person so sworn by said examiner shall knowingly and willfully testify falsely upon or about any fact or thing material to said examination, he or they shall, upon indictment and conviction, be punished by confinement in the penitentiary for not less than one nor more than five years.

§ 8. It shall be unlawful for said examiner to remove from the place of business of any of said corporations any book, note, bond, cash, bill, security or other property, without the consent of the officer or person managing or conducting said corporation's business or affairs; and if he shall do so, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, be fined in any sum not exceeding five hundred dollars for each offense, which may be recovered by indictment.

§ 9. The Governor may, at any time, upon the request of the Auditor of Public Accounts, require said examiner to make a special examination of the affairs, condition and business of any of the said corporations, and said officer shall make report to the Auditor as herein is provided for the regular examination; and said examiner may, at any time, by writing, make demand upon any bank or trust, building, loan or investment company, for a statement of its business at the close of banking hours on any date ; and if said bank or other corporation shall refuse or fail to make said statement within fifteen days after due notice so to do, the chief officer or person managing or controlling said bank or other corporation, shall be liable to a fine of not less than fifty nor more than one hundred dollars, which may be recovered by suit or indictment.

§ 10. If it shall appear to said examiner, upon a careful investigation and examination of any of said corporations, that it has failed to pay its depositors, or is insolvent, or that the capital of said bank or other corporation has been reduced below the amount required by its charter, he shall at once notify the Auditor of Public accounts thereof, and it shall be the duty of said Auditor, and he shall have power to examine said bank or other corporations and ascertain the facts, and in case he finds that there exists such failure to pay depositors, such insolvency, or such reduction of capital, he shall require such corporation, in writing, to pay its depositors, restore its capital to the amount required by its charter, and to re-establish its solvency ; and until the same is done, such corporation shall not distribute any of its earnings to its stockholders ; and in the event that any such corporation shall fail or refuse for fifteen days after the written requisition of the Auditor to make good its capital stock, pay its depositors or re-establish its solvency, the Auditor shall report such failure to the Governor ; and if it shall be deemed by said officers proper or necessary to put such corporation into the hands of a receiver to be wound up, the Governor shall direct the Attorney-General to institute proceedings for the appointment of such receiver for such purpose.

§ 11. The said examiner shall be allowed for his services under this act the sum of fifteen dollars per day, and no more, while actually engaged in making the examinations provided for herein, and no additional fee for making his report or for traveling expenses shall be allowed or paid. The said per diem allowance shall be paid to said examiner by the corporation examined and reported by him ; and if any such corporation shall refuse or fail to pay him the sum herein allowed for his services, he may recover the same by suit, with interest and costs.

§ 12. The said examiner is hereby allowed the sum of one hundred dollars per annum for necessary printing, stationery and postage, to be paid by the State, and the Auditor of Public Accounts is directed to draw his warrant upon the Treasurer for such sum, in quarterly installments of twenty-five dollars each.

§ 13. Whenever it may become necessary to enable him to examine the corporations embraced by this act, said examiner may appoint one or more assistants, by and with the assent of the Governor, who shall have the same qualifications, and shall receive the same compensation for his or their services, as are allowed the said examiner, and he or they shall have such remedies for its collection as are given the examiner, and shall perform the duties in all things required of said examiner under this act, and shall suffer like penalties and punishment for a failure or neglect to discharge said duties. The assistant examiners shall take the oath required of the examiner, and shall execute a like bond before entering upon the discharge of said duties, which shall be entered of record in full in the office of the Secretary of State, and there filed, and said Secretary may furnish copies thereof. The Governor shall have power, when necessary, to suspend or remove for cause any assistant examiner by written notice to him, and he shall cease from the performance of all of the duties of said office immediately upon receipt of such notice, but such order of suspension or removal shall be in writing, stating the cause therefor, and be filed with the Secretary of State; and upon such suspension or removal, said examiner may, with the consent of the Governor, appoint another assistant, who shall possess the qualifications of the examiner, take the oath of office, and execute like bond; and he shall have like pay and the same remedies for collecting the same conferred upon the examiner.

§ 14. The report of the said examiner or his assistant shall be received as evidence in all applications for the appointment of a receiver under this act, and upon application to the court for temporary or preliminary orders for the protection of parties' interest, the same may be treated as sufficient and competent evidence to establish a prima facie cause for such temporary or preliminary order.

So said resolution was rejected.

Mr. Breckinridge, representing a majority of the Joint Committee appointed under a resolution of the two Houses to investigate the affairs and management of the Agricultural and Mechanical College at Lexington, Kentucky, presented the following report, viz:

This report has been unavoidably delayed by the difficulty experienced in getting the report of a stenographer. Indeed, a part of it is still in his hands. Every effort was made to get it, but without avail. The first installment came several weeks since. A second, two weeks since. Why the remainder is still withheld we are unable to imagine, much less to explain. We will follow the order of the resolution as fully as possible, referring to the notes of this stenographer, where reference seems necessary. The other matter, account books, pamphlets, etc., which were placed in the hands of the committee, are also submitted.

The sources of revenue of the College are as follows:

1. The income from the proceeds of the land endowment given to the State of Kentucky by act of Congress approved July 2, 1862. By this donation Kentucky received three hundred and thirty thousand acres. This land was sold in 1865 by Hon. M. C. Johnson, an agent appointed by the State, for fifty cents per acre, the amount realized therefrom amounting to one hundred and sixty-five thousand dollars, which, invested in bonds of the State of Kentucky bearing six per cent. interest, yields an annual income of nine thousand nine hundred dollars.
2. The proceeds of the tax levied by the Commonwealth of one-half of one cent upon each one hundred dollars of taxable property held by white citizens, which tax was levied by the Legislature of 1879-80, and, until the revision of the revenue laws, yielded an annual income of about seventeen thousand dollars, but since the revision now yields an annual income of about twenty-four thousand dollars.
3. The tuition and other fees of the College, a variable amount, the average of which is about twenty-five hundred dollars per annum.
4. The net income from fees accruing from the analysis of fertilizers, also a variable amount, but yielded about twelve hundred dollars annually.
5. The money received for produce of the experimental farm, small and variable amount, perhaps two hundred dollars annually.

The income from fertilizers and farm produce, though belonging properly to the available College income, has generally, in practice, been applied to the expenses of the Experiment Station, or to assist in meeting the deferred payments due on the farm. The Experiment Station is a department of the College, maintained by a yearly annual income received from the Federal Government under the Hatch Act, which income, by the terms of the act, must be devoted exclusively to experimental work, no part of which can be used for general College expenses. The income from this Federal grant is fifteen thousand dollars annually.

The total income of the College proper will be seen from the foregoing to be about thirty-seven thousand eight hundred dollars.

Income of Experiment Station, fifteen thousand dollars.

The property owned by the College, real and personal, as collated from testimony taken approximately valued as follows:

The grounds on which the college buildings have been erected are now
valued at	$150,000
College buildings, old dormitory and president's house	85,000
Experiment Station building	19,000
New dormitory	$12,000
Commandant's house	2,000
Farm with buildings	25,000
Total	$293,000

The College grounds were the gift of the city of Lexington. The College holds the title in fee from the city. If, however, the College should at any time be removed from Lexington, the original gift would revert to the city.

For the erection of the College building, old dormitory and the President's house, the city and county gave bonds, the former thirty thousand and the latter twenty thousand, which bonds were sold at 108 1-4, realizing $54,125.

For the erection of the Experiment Station building, four thousand dollars were taken from the first, second and third annual appropriation by the Federal Congress. The remainder was taken from the College fund. The farm was purchased and paid for out of the funds of the College. One payment, namely, four thousand dollars, with accrued interest for three years, is due upon the farm next October. It will then have been fully paid for.

Personalty, including chemical apparatus, machinery in shops, furniture, museum, laboratory, etc., amount in the aggregate to about $20,000.

It will thus be seen that the realty and personalty of the College are worth over $300,000, two thirds of which came to the institution from the city of Lexington and the county of Fayette. The grounds are already beautiful, and are becoming more attractive every year.

As to the finances of the College, we find that all receipts pass into the hands of the treasurer, who is a member of the board of trustees. No money is paid out by him except upon the order of the president of the board of trustees, or the chairman of the executive committee. The executive committee consists of five members of the board of trustees, who are elected by the board at their annual meeting in June, and on whom the charter confers all the powers of the board of trustees during the interval between the regular meetings of the board. The executive committee meets on the first Wednesday in each month. All matters pertaining to the interests of the College come legitimately before them. No expenditures are allowed until authorized and ratified by them. All accounts come before the executive committee for approval and audit. When approved they are ordered paid, and the evidence of this approval is the order drawn by the chairman, and presented to the treasurer. Authentic copies of all expenditures, with the original orders upon which payments were made, were submitted by the treasurers, R. S. Bullock, 1883-1886, and W. D. Nicholas, 1886-1890. We find that the funds of the institution have been managed wisely, carefully, economically and judiciously. Indeed, only the most painstaking economy could have attained the results developed by the investigation.

It must be borne in mind that when the College was reorganized in 1880 it had absolutely nothing. The land and $54,125 were given by Lexington and Fayette county, the additional sums necessary to complete the College buildings and dormitory, the bulk of the cost of the experiment station building, the new dormitory, the College farm, with all the improvements which have been made, and all the apparatus and other personalty purchased, have all been the result of the economic savings out of the income of the College. We bear cheerful testimony to the honest and faithful management of the finances of the institution, and express our conviction that every cent of income has been honestly accounted for.

The accounts of the Treasurer are subjected to a careful scrutiny by the board of trustees every year at their annual meeting in June. A committee appointed by the board for this purpose audits the accounts and records approval when examination has been made. All allegations and insinuations to the contrary notwithstanding, the facts stand patent to us that no flaw is to be found in the financial administration of the institution.

The steady increase in numbers is one of the most gratifying features of the College.

As to the present condition of the College, the uniform testimony is that it is on a much better footing, in better organized shape and doing more satisfactory work than it has ever hitherto done.

The act of Congress, approved July 2, 1862, appropriating lands for founding and endowing agricultural colleges, indicates very clearly the scope and character of the instruction which they are intended to give. Section 4 of said act has the following: "The interest from this fund shall be invariably appropriated by each State which may take and claim the benefit of this act to the endowment and support and maintenance of at least one college where the leading object shall be, without excluding scientific and classical studies, and including military tactics, to teach such branches of learning as are related to agriculture and the mechanic arts, in such manner as the Legislatures of the States may respectively prescribe, in order to promote the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes in the several pursuits and professions of life."

In conformity with the foregoing provision in the organic law, section 2 of the act of incorporation (chapter 359 acts of 1880), of the College by the Legislature of Kentucky is as follows: "Said trustees shall have power to determine from time to time the number of departments and studies which the College shall comprise within the scope of the organic law of agricultural and mechanical colleges, the relation which each department or group of departments shall sustain to each other, and devise the means 7 c." By the act of Congress, those branches of learning related to agriculture and the mechanic arts must be taught; other scientific and classical studies may be taught. In subordination to these conditions, all else, organization, departments, studies, 7 c., are left to the Legislatures of the States. These powers are, by section 2 of chapter 359, acts of 1880, delegated to the trustees of the College, with unlimited authority to create such departments of study as their discretion might suggest.

The testimony of the president insisted that the distinction between "those branches of learning which are related to agriculture and the mechanic arts," and "agriculture and the mechanic arts," is radical and complete, that the former must be taught, while there is no obligation to teach the latter, and this view seems to be in accord with a candid interpretation of the Federal and State Legislatures. From very minute and careful investigation, we find that the institution is well conducted. This is the uniform testimony of both faculty and trustees, elicited by examination and cross examination of the most searching character. The concurrent testimony to the fitness, scholarship, earnestness, integrity, assiduity and ability of the president is direct, unequivocal and emphatic. See pages 111, 118, 123, 133, 138, 145, 159, 183, 188, 195.

The professors seem fully competent for the duties of the positions assigned them, learned in their specialties, energetic, not afraid of work, co-operating cheerfully and readily with the president and with each other in a laudable effort to make the State College the best and most comprehensive in the Commonwealth.

The courses of study are as follows, viz: Agricultural Course, Scientific Course, Engineering Course, Classical Course, Normal School Course, Academic Course, Commercial Course. (See page 68, Report of Evidence.)

This College seems to have had the same experience as most Colleges organized under the Act of 1862, namely, that while students are quite willing to pursue those "branches of learning which relate to agriculture," they are willing to betake themselves to the study of "agriculture;" that is, they apply themselves without constraint to the sciences upon which agriculture as an art depends, but to agriculture as an art the majority seem unwilling to devote themselves. Nevertheless, substantial progress has been made in this direction Trustees, executive committee, president and professors, all agree that strenuous efforts are being made to develop and build up an agricultural course within the College. For several years the College had no farm for model farming and experimental work. This defect has at length to some extent been remedied by the purchase of the farm above referred to. Besides, a popular course of lectures on agriculture, as appears from the testimony of the Professor of Agriculture and others, has been established, attendance upon which is obligatory by every male student. (See pages 81 and 134; also pages 178 and 196.)

Not less than three thousand dollars is expended every year in experimental work on the farm, nearly all of which is done by students, the preference being invariably given to those students who are pursuing studies related to agriculture. (See page 196.) Many students can thus earn a sufficient amount of money to carry them through College, with but little aid from other sources (See page 174.)

A course of agricultural study has also been begun in the academy, or preparatory department, which will make an excellent basis for the advanced course in the College proper, and which, it is believed, will form a good feeder for future classes therein. Moreover, a distinct and decided preference is given to agricultural students to work on the College farm.

Very many earn a considerable part of their subsistence thus. The uniform testimony of all is that whatever influence is exerted by the Board of Trustees or by the President to induce students to take one course rather than another is exerted in favor of the agricultural and scientific courses. The scientific course has more students than any of the others. Next in order of popularity and number is the classical, and the next the engineering. The latter has been in existence only two years, but its success has been encouraging to a high degree. The normal course is not an integral part of the College work, but is in great measure a self-contained school. Two courses of instruction are provided in it, namely, a common school or teachers' course, the object of which is to prepare teachers for complying with the requirements of the common school law, in order to pass creditably the required examination for certificates to teach in the common school; the other or more advanced course of instruction designed to prepare teachers for professional work beyond the common school grade. The normal school is well managed and equipped.

It is doing good work and laying the foundation of a good system of training for common school teachers. Every effort has been made by the College authorities to provide the best of instruction at a minimum of expenditure for the matriculates of both sexes in this branch of the institution. All the students of this school have access to any class in the College for which they may be prepared, without extra charge for tuition, and may avail themselves of these opportunities. We can not but look for the best results from these facilities and these relationships.

James K. Patterson, President	$2,500
John Shackleford, Vice-president	1,750

John Shackleford, the vice-president, is professor of English literature and logic. James G. White, dean of the scientific course, is professor of mathematics. John H. Neville, dean of the classical course, is professor of ancient languages. The president of the College, in addition to his executive duties, is professor of mental and moral philosophy and civil history.

Prof. Peterman, besides the regular salary, $1,750, asked and was allowed $750 for alleged outside work, namely: Correspondence, preparation of circulars, etc. To this the executive committee consented, on condition that this allowance should terminate at the end of the current collegiate year, unless continued by the board of trustees. Prof. Peterman also obtained leave of absence during the early weeks in the collegiate year of 1889-90, in order to hold institutes, receiving meanwhile full salary from the College, while the substitute to whom he was permitted to delegate his duties was compensated by him at rates considerably less than those which he received from the College.

This allowance for outside work and prolonged absence could, in our opinion, be justified only by a grave necessity. The testimony taken indicated that such necessity existed, but the precedent is, notwithstanding, undoubtedly one of questionable propriety, and should not be followed in the future. In justice, however, to the head of this department, it must be said that, within the last two years, mainly owing to his energy and industry and ability, this department owes both its numbers and its efficiency.

The main hinderance to the development of the mechanical department is the lack of a building of sufficient capacity. One side of the basement of the College building is now used as a mechanical shop. It is supplied with machinery of an estimated value of $4,000. Its utmost capacity does not afford facilities for shop work to more than twenty students. No expansion is possible in this direction until a mechanical building, with a capacity for at least one hundred students, is provided. We are assured that this would be an attractive and popular feature of the College. The president referred to his report to the Governor and to the General Assembly, in which he had made earnest, but hitherto ineffective, pleas for enlarged facilities for instruction in practical mechanics.

The commercial department is an annex and not an integral part of the College, although under the management and control of the board of trustees of the College. Its faculty depend upon the income from fees charged by this department for their compensation. By the terms of agreement between the College and the commercial school thirty-five students of the College are taught book-keeping during each collegiate year by the commercial department without charge to the students thus taught. For this service the College pays to the commercial department an annual lump sum of $200. Any matriculate in the College may pursue other studies taught by the commercial school upon payment of two-thirds of the fees usually charged by that school, and vice versa, matriculates in the commercial school may take classes in the College upon payment of two-thirds of the fees charged by the College. All the students of the commercial schools are subject to College rules and College discipline.

The academy or preparatory department is well and thoroughly organized under a competent and efficient corps of professors and instructors, and forms an indispensable feeder to the College classes. The standard of scholarship attained by those who pass upon examination from the classes in the academy to those in the College is of an exceptionally high order. We call especial attention to the examination papers by students of agriculture in the academy. These papers were submitted by the professor of agriculture and filed at his request.

We find also that the progress made by the students in all the departments is in general of a very satisfactory character. It may be worth while to mention in this connection that a roll-call of a number of classes in our presence demonstrated conclusively that a very large proportion of the students in attendance are from counties outside of Fayette, probably as much as seventy-five per cent. The only objection urged to the management of the College, and the only hostile testimony taken, were offered by two gentlemen, formerly professors, but whose connection with the institution has for some time entirely ceased. The one was retired in 1887, having already passed his eighty-second year, because his age, it was believed, incapacitated him for the duties of his chair. The other resigned in February, 1889, having, upon his own admission, created for himself a condition of things which rendered his position untenable. The objection to the management and the personal reflections of these gentlemen—namely, Dr. Peter and Prof. Crandall—however sincere they may be in their convictions, were not corroborated by any of the trustees, or by any member of the Faculty. (See pages 111, 118, 123, 133, 138, 145, 159, 183, 184, 188, 195; also, as regards Dr. Peter's retirement, see pages 91 and 92; see also in this connection resolution of board of trustees, page 88.)

The cost of the buildings has already been given in answer to one of the preceding resolutions.

The College building, old dormitory and president's house were all built under the same contract, and the aggregate cost given above is $85,000. The College building is a capacious structure, three stories high above the basement. Its length is 136 feet, and its breadth 68 feet. It contains sixteen large rooms and seven smaller ones, besides the mechanical shop and chapel. The dimensions of the latter, which is also used as an assembly room, are 58 feet by 68 feet. In the College building are class rooms wherein are taught mathematics, civil engineering, English, Latin and Greek, French and German, mental and moral philosophy, civil history and political economy, the various classes in the normal school and the various classes in the academy. Here also physics are taught in connection with practical mechanics. Rooms in this building are allotted to the various societies of the College.

The station building contains the office of the director, the experiment station library, the entomologist's room, the chemical laboratory of the station and the chemical laboratories and recitation room of the chemical department of the College, the agricultural, natural history and commercial rooms. Notwithstanding the capacity of this and the main College building, it was quite apparent to us that more space is needed. Further internal expansions will be difficult until the necessary conditions of expansion are provided. The old dormitory is a large structure, with accommodations for over one hundred students. It is well provided with kitchen, pantry and dining-room. The new dormitory has accommodations for about seventy students, with kitchen, store-room and dining-room.

Besides those above enumerated, there is the boiler house where steam is generated for heating the College building, old dormitory and Experiment Station building, and under-ground room, where gasoline, used in the manufacture of gas for illumination and for laboratory work, is generated, and the green house or conservatory for plants. The latter is quite an important adjunct to the botanical department and Experiment Station. The steam heating apparatus cost about six thousand dollars, and the gas machinery about twenty-five hundred. The chemical laboratories are good, but inadequate to the growing necessities of the College. There is an excellent mineralogical collection, and a fair collection of geological specimens. The herbarium is said to be worth two thousand dollars.

In reference to the seventh subject of inquiry, we find some difficulty, and had, under the circumstances, to request the President of the College to furnish the Committee with the data required from sources with which he was familiar. This he did, and we incorporate herein the matter furnished by him as part of this report. The table of comparative statistics is as follows :

In regard to the eighth resolution we conclude that, while we can not now under existing circumstances recommend any appropriations for particular purposes, we are nevertheless satisfied that such appropriations are urgently required. We are satisfied that the claims of that institution upon the Commonwealth are large. If it is to grow in the future the conditions of growth must be provided. The table of comparative statistics submitted in answer to resolution 7 conclusively show that Kentucky is far behind her sister States in liberality to her State College. The wants of the College may then be summarized as follows:

1. A new building for the Normal Department and Academy.
2. A new Science building. The chain of Natural History, which now comprises Botany, Zoology, Comparative Anatomy, Physiology, Biology, Geology, Palaeontology and Mineralogy should be divided into three distinct but correlated departments. To provide recitation rooms, laboratories, museums and other illustrative plant for these chairs would require a separate building of no small proportions. The State of Wisconsin has lately provided such a building for the Scientific Course of its College at a cost of three hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars. The State of Michigan has provided separate buildings for the Botanical, Zoological and Veterinary Departments of its Agricultural College at a cost, including equipments, of $80,000 or $90,000. The bias of the State College is unmistakably in the direction of those sciences which can be turned to practical account, and every encouragement possible should be given in this direction.

3. A new mechanical building, with a suitable equipment of machinery for the instruction of one hundred and fifty or two hundred students is an imperative necessity. What we find it inexpedient to recommend we hope future Legislature will do with a liberality worthy of the cause and of the State. In conclusion, we have pleasure in expressing the opinion that the A. and M. College is well managed both by its Trustees and its Faculty. The former served the institution without compensation, attending the meetings of its Board oftentimes from distant parts of the State. The College is growing in public estimation and in public confidence. Its attendance has increased within the period under investigation nearly three-fold. Meanwhile its standard of scholarship has correspondingly advanced. Its external growth has been remarkable, but the internal growth more remarkable still. Seventy-five per cent. of its attendance comes from beyond the limits of the county in which it is located. (See pages 2-6.) Its boarding department is admirably and economically managed. (See pages 7-8.) Free tuition, cheap board ($2 per week), thorough and comprehensive courses of instruction are factors in the organization of a college which can not fail to be productive of a healthy and vigorous growth. Defects undoubtedly there are, but these are being gradually remedied or eliminated. Profiting by the experience of the past, each year sees an improvement, distinct and permanent, over that which preceded it. We commend the State College to the liberality and fortering care of successive General Assemblies, and to the confidence of the general public, in whose interest it was established.

The apparatus for the departments of physic and civil engineering and the instruments used by the mathematical department are good as far as they go, but wholly unequal to the needs of the institution. The same may be said of the equipments necessary for the courses in natural history and agriculture, of the various collections of models, skeletons, charts, etc., provided for illustration, good as far as they go, but deficient both in numbers and comprehensiveness. Thousands of dollars are needed in order to place these departments on a level with most of the other colleges which owe their origin, like ours, to the land grant of 1862.

The estimated value of machinery in the mechanical department has already been stated as about forty thousand dollars.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

ROBT. J. BRECKINRIDGE,
B. F. REYNOLDS,
J. P. HUFF,
JOHN H. WELCH,
R. C. HILL,
R. H. TOMLINSON.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE, }
FRANKFORT, KY., May 26, 1890. }

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives :

I have heard that the General Assembly, overruling the objections of the Governor, have enacted into a law the bill reducing taxation as applicable to the general expenditure fund from 20 cents to 15 cents on the hundred dollars.

The objection urged by the Executive to the passage of the bill at the time was, that while a reduction of taxation was perfectly feasible, provided there were a corresponding reduction of expenses, it would injure the credit of the State to make this reduction until provisions should be made for lessening the expenses to be paid out of the general expenditure fund.

It is needless to recapitulate the subjects then suggested for your consideration. Some of them have been acted on and reductions of expenses have been made, but many of them have not received practical consideration at your hands.

The expenditures ordered by existing laws must be met, and the only means of meeting them are from the resources which can be provided for only by the General Assembly.

I have requested the Auditor of Public Accounts to make as close an estimate as possible of the income and expenditures of the general expenditure fund, based on the rate of 15 cents to which it has been reduced, and taking into consideration the existing appropriations, the expenses of the Constitutional Convention, and all the reductions of expenses authorized up to this date.

According to this estimate, there will be a deficit in the Treasury on July 1, 1890, of about $20,000.

The deficit can be tided over by taxes paid soon after that date by the banks. But after full allowance has been made for a probable increase in the value of property, there will be an estimated deficit in the Treasury on July 1, 1891, of from $140,000 to $150,000.

If this deficit be not provided for some way, not only will the credit of the State be injuriously affected, but the administration of justice will be seriously impaired.

It is for the General Assembly, with whom alone the remedy lies, to determine whether this deficit be removed by a further reduction of expenses or by an increase of the resources of the general expenditure fund.

An estimate will show that under the present appropriations and under existing laws, the credit of the State can not be maintained if the resources of the general expenditure fund be reduced below 18 cents, or possibly $17\frac{1}{2}$ cents on the hundred dollars.

The duty of the Executive is discharged in informing the General Assembly of the condition to which the Treasury is brought under existing laws.

Respectfully,

S. B. BUCKNER.

On motion of Mr. Mulligan—

Ordered, That said message be referred to the Committee on Revenue and Taxation.

A message in writing was received from the Governor by Hon. Ed Porter Thompson, Private Secretary.

Said message was taken up and read as follows, viz :

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
FRANKFORT, May 26, 1890. }

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives :

It is but an act of justice to an efficient officer of the State that I should transmit to the General Assembly the accompanying communication from the Public Printer, correcting serious errors which I have committed in estimating the cost of printing the public acts.

While this statement is a proper correction of the amount erroneously estimated in my communication, it does not touch the principle involved. The State should not incur the expense, be it large or small, of publishing three thousand copies of private and local acts, which have no interest to the public at large.

On the hypothesis that the private and local acts of the present General Assembly can not be compressed into less than three volumes, requiring, under existing laws, the printing of nine thousand volumes, and estimating the cost per volume at $1.63, as stated by the Public Printer, the cost of printing these acts would be $16,470. Deduct from the cost of printing three hundred copies or nine hundred volumes of these acts, which will be sufficient for public purposes, amounting to $1,467, would leave a balance of $15,000 unnecessarily expended in printing acts of no public importance. With an approaching deficit in the Treasury, this is a sum well worth saving to the people.

Very respectfully

S. B. BUCKNER.

Which letter was read as follows :

FRANKFORT, KY., May 23, 1890.

HON. S. B. BUCKNER, Governor :

MY DEAR SIR: In an official communication made by you to the General Assembly under date of May 22, the following appears :

“In consequence of the large number of voluminous town charters recently enacted, it is believed that the acts of the present session can not be compressed into less than four large volumes. When it is considered that all acts of a public character could be included in one small volume, and that under existing laws three thousand copies of all the acts are published, the unnecessary cost to the State for the printing of 3,000 copies, or more than 9,000 volumes of acts of no public importance whatever, and of interest to only a few individuals, becomes at once apparent. It is estimated that the cost of each one of these volumes is about five dollars, making an unnecessary cost to the State for the printing of private acts of from $40,000 to $45,000. It is recommended that there be printed 3,500 copies of the General Acts, to provide for the increased number of officials, and that the number of copies of the private and local acts be reduced to 300 copies, which would be adequate to supply every county, the public offices and libraries. In this way, it is believed that a sufficient amount can be saved from public printing alone, to provide for the proposed addition to the Lunatic Asylums.”

As to the advisability of an acceptance by the General Assembly of these suggestions, I have nothing to say. It has been my rigid rule, during a somewhat protracted official connection with the legislative department of the State government, to in nowise interfere, by suggestion or otherwise, with legislative action. But I beg leave to call your attention the following sentence in the extract above quoted :

“It is estimated that the cost of each one of these volumes is about five dollars, making an unnecessary cost to the State for the printing of private acts, of from $40,000 to $45,000.”

The official supplying these figures to you has grievously erred, and placed the Public Printer and Binder in the false attitude of preying upon the Treasury of the State. I have the honor to cite you to the published report of the business of the State, transacted by the Public Printer and Binder, from August 6, 1888, to January 5, 1889, when Dr. John D. Woods retired from the office; and from January 5, to August 5, 1889, during which time the office was, as it is now, under my charge.

On the pages 12 and 13 of that report, will be found the account for printing the three volumes of the Acts of the General Assembly, referred to in your communication. This amounts to $5,546.17.

On pages 26 and 27 is the amount for binding these same acts, which amount to $6,133.50. The paper used was furnished by the State, and cost $3,000.

This is a total cost of $14,679.67, for the 3,000 copies of the Acts which I am required by law to print, bind and deliver to the Secretary of State. For the set of three volumes, the cost is $4.89, for the single volume, $1.63.

Let me recapitulate—

Printing 3,000 copies	$5,546 17
Binding 3,000 copies	6,133 50
Paper for 3,000 copies	3,000 00
Total	$14,679 67
Per set of three volumes	$4 89
Per single volume	1 63

I take pleasure in officially laying these figures before you, knowing, as I do, your desire to be strictly accurate in all your statements, and being fully conscious that you would not willingly be the means of placing any one in an unjust position.

I beg that you will lay before the General Assembly so much of this communication as may be deemed appropriate.

I have the honor to be

Very respectfully yours,

E. POLK JOHNSON,

Public Printer and Binder.

On motion of Mr. Mulligan—

Mr. Goebel objected thereto.

Pending the consideration of said bill and proposed amendments a message was received from the House of Representatives, announcing that they had passed a bill, which originated in that body, entitled

An act to promote the interest of agriculture, horticulture and Statistics of Kentucky.

Which bill was read the first time, and ordered to be read a second time.

Mr. Pieratt objected to the second reading of said bill on this day.

Mr. Hendrick moved that the rules be suspended, and that said bill be taken up and given its second reading.

And the question being taken thereon, it was decided in the affirmative.

Said bill was read a second time as follows, viz :

WHEREAS, It is necessary to promote the interest of agriculture, horticulture and Statistics in Kentucky, being essentially an agricultural State, the former appropriation of $2,000 per annum for all the purposes contemplated under the law is entirely inadequate to the demands of the people, and the exigencies of the times. Recent developments of our vast wealth in coal, minerals, timber, stone and different kinds of clay is attracting within our borders large sums of money, and there is a universal desire for information relating to Kentucky from almost every section of the country ; therefore,

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, § 1. That in lieu of the appropriation now existing, $13,000 annually, be, and the same is hereby, appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated for the maintenance and support of the Bureau of Agriculture, Horticulture and Statistics, upon the same conditions as the original appropriation.

§ 2. That the Commissioner of Agriculture, Horticulture and Statistics be allowed a clerk or clerks of his own selection, the total salary not to exceed $1,200 per annum.

§ 3. That the Governor of Kentucky is hereby authorized to appoint an advisory board of four persons, the director of the Experimental Station at Lexington, to be one of the four. It shall be the duty of said advisory board to meet at Frankfort, or such other place as they may agree upon, at least four times a year to council together and take such steps as they may deem best for the general agricultural, horticultural and statistical interest of the State. The commissioner shall be chairman of this board. He shall have the right to call meetings and adjourn the same. The duties of said board appointed by the Governor shall be merely advisory. The legitimate expenses in such meetings shall be made out of this appropriation. This board shall have power to call meetings in the different counties of the State, and the commissioners, or some one of the board, shall attend and employ assistance as may be necessary for the purposes aforesaid. Three members of the board shall constitute a quorum. All money paid out of this appropriation, expended by said board, shall have the approval of a majority of the board, and every voucher shall set forth for what the money was paid. By reason of increased responsibility and duties the commissioner is allowed an extra salary of five dollars per annum, to be paid as heretofore.

§ 4. That such person or persons shall be selected by the board aforesaid as, in their judgment, are best qualified and equipped to go into those counties in the State and in those parts of said counties where facts and information are most needed by the farmers, and where their opportunities have been few, and where they are not able to buy books or to take agricultural papers ; and such person or persons so sent out among the farmers shall give public lectures at the most public places in said sections of the counties, and shall scatter agricultural literature when such lectures are made.

§ 5. That the sum of thirteen thousand dollars appropriated as aforesaid shall cover all the expenses of every kind growing out of this act, and also the salaries of the commissioner and clerk's pay, and all expenses connected with and growing out of this department of the State government.

§ 6. This act shall take effect from its passage.

Mr. Poyntz proposed the following amendments to said bill, viz:

Amend by striking out the words "thirteen thousand," and inserting the words "ten thousand."

Amend by striking out the words "thirteen thousand," and inserting the words "nine thousand."

Amend by striking out the provision for extra salary of $500 the to commissioner.

Mr. Mulligan proposed the following resolution, viz :

WHEREAS, The Governor, in his message to the General Assembly under date of May 22, 1890, submits certain important and pertinent questions as therein set forth, which message is as follows :

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
FRANKFORT, May 22, 1890. }

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives :

As your session is drawing to a close I may be pardoned for inviting your attention to the consideration of legislative questions of much public importance now pending before one branch or the other of the General Assembly, and on which action is incomplete, and also to other matters on which it is deemed proper to take action before final adjournment.

I am advised that amongst other bills of a public character now under consideration and on which action is desirable, are the following :

Bill in regard to the sinking fund (makes it unnecessary to transfer to that fund from general expenditure fund until there is need for money in the sinking fund).

Bill to restore right of State to vote its stock in turnpike roads.

Bill to prescribe mode of ascertaining value of railroad bridges across the Ohio.

Bill (general) in regard to building and loan associations in Kentucky.

Bill in regard to State militia (to provide for the payment of, when called upon to sustain courts in counties of the State.)

Bills in regard to the penitentiary.

Bill in regard to record books for the counties.

Bill to impose tax on sleeping car companies in the State.

Bill to extend time for final settlement of sheriffs to first Monday in January.

Bill to authorize State to sue for taxes.

Bill to impose privilege tax on organization of corporations.

Bill in regard to idiots. (Divides cost of maintenance between State and county.)

Bill creating office of Bank Examiner.

Bill in regard to public printing. (To reduce number copies acts printed.)

Many of these bills have an important bearing on the revenue of the State. The General Assembly can best judge of those which should command their first attention, but it may be permitted me to suggest that amongst those of prime importance seem—

1. The penitentiary question.

All doubts which may have been raised as to the validity of the existing lease should be removed either by abrogating or confirming the contract, as the wisdom of the General Assembly may determine.

2. The bill to authorize the State to sue for taxes. Large amounts are due the State which can not be recovered under existing laws.

3. The bill for ascertaining the value of bridges across the Ohio river.

It was suggested to a former Legislature that the assessment be placed in the hands of the Railroad Commissioners.

4. The bills in regard to record books, which should be paid for by the counties, and in regard to militia employed in the different counties of the State, will also command consideration at your hands.

5. The bill reducing the number of copies of private and local acts to be printed.

The number of acts passed by the last Legislature was 1,571. The number passed by the present General Assembly which have already become laws amount to 1,702.

In consequence of the large number of voluminous town charters recently enacted it is believed that the acts of the present session can not be compressed into less than four large volumes. When it is considered that all acts of a public character could be included in one small volume, and that under existing laws three thousand copies of all the acts are published, the unnecessary cost to the State for the printing of three thousand copies or more than nine thousand volumes of acts of no public importance whatever, and of interest only to a few individuals, becomes at once apparent. It is estimated that the cost of each one of these volumes is about five dollars, making an unnecessary cost to the State for the printing of private acts of from $40,000 to $45,000.

It is recommended that there be printed three thousand five hundred copies of the general acts to provide for the increased number of officials, and that the number of copies of the private and local acts be reduced to three hundred copies, which would be adequate to supply every county, the public offices and libraries. In this way it is believed that a sufficient amount could be saved from public printing alone to provide for the proposed addition to the lunatic asylums.

It is further recommended that an act be passed requiring that all fines adjudged by any court for violations of the penal laws of the State be paid to the trustees of the jury fund in the several counties. Great inequality exists now in this respect. Many of the towns and cities derive the benefit of a large portion of these fines, while many others pay the fines properly into the State Treasury. The rule should be uniform in order to equalize the burdens of taxation. Many thousand dollars would be saved to the Treasury by the enactment of such a law.

When the sheriffs first pay their collections to the Auditor there is annually a large accumulation of funds in the Treasury lying idle before legal demands are made for its disbursement. If authority were given to the Treasurer, subject to the approval of the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, to invite competition from different good banks to hold these balances until required, paying interest thereon, it is estimated that a sufficient amount of interest could be thus earned by the State to meet the entire expenses of the Geological Survey.

Your attention is also earnestly invited to the necessity of additional legislation in connection with the disturbed condition of some of the counties of the Commonwealth, and the propriety of strengthening the hands of the judicial and executive officers in the administration of justice. It is understood that you are already considering remedial legislation in this regard and that your own appreciation of the importance of the questions involved will result in a satisfactory solution of the many of these difficulties.

The importance of legislation having for a result the curtailing of expenses and of bringing into the Treasury all moneys properly belonging to it will be apparent when it is considered that instead of having a surplus in the Treasury on the first of next July of $171,845.42, as estimated in the Auditor's report of last year, there will be an actual deficit that date, as estimated by the present Auditor, based upon the actual expenditures up to the present time.

Respectfully,

S. B. BUCKNER.

Therefore be it resolved. That it is the sense of the Senate that the present session of the General Assembly shall be extended to the hour of 12 o'clock M. of Tuesday, June 3, 1890, and that during such extended session no business shall be in order or be transacted except alone the measures and things enumerated and stated in the Governor's message as above set forth.

The question was then taken on the adoption of the motion made by Mr. Bradley, that said report and accompanying testimony be inserted in and made a part of the Journal, and it was decided in the affirmative.

Said report and accompanying testimony, taken by said committee, is as follows, viz:

FRANKFORT, KY., May 27, 1890.

To the Hon. JAMES W. BRYAN, Speaker of the Senate:

The committee appointed by you, under a resolution of the Senate, to investigate the method of withdrawal, disappearance from the committee, and its return to the Governor, of House Bill No. 1973, entitled "An act to authorize the counties of Johnson, Floyd and Pike to subscribe to the capital stock of the Ohio and Big Sandy Railroad," would respectfully report:

That they have since their appointment given all of their time, when not in attendance upon the Senate, or engaged in other necessary duties, to a thorough investigation of the matter submitted to them, and now make their report at the earliest practicable moment. The following witnesses were duly summoned to testify before them: A. H. Stewart, John W. Langley, Harvey Myers, George Fick, F. T. D. Wallace, John C. Mayo, Green Keller, M. D. Vanhoose, W. O. Mize, R. S. May, Clarence Egbert and Arthur Ford, constituting all of the parties whom a diligent inquiry suggested as knowing anything of importance about the matter under investigation. All of them appeared and testified before the committee excepting Messrs. Wallace, Vanhoose and Ford, the first two of whom failed to appear, and Mr. Ford not being asked to testify. The committee used every means in their power to secure the attendance of Messrs. Wallace and Vanhoose. They are informed that Mr. Vanhoose left the city soon after being summoned. Mr. Wallace remained in the city, but would not attend and testify.

At the request of the committee, Governor Buckner gave them a paper in reference to the matter, written and signed by Mr. Wallace, which is made part of the evidence.

The testimony of the witnesses was very carefully written out by a member of the committee at the time it was given, read over to the witnesses, including Mr. Myers, and approved by them as substantially correct. Since that time the important witnesses, viz: A. H. Stewart, John W. Langley, Harvey

Myers, George Frick and John C. Mayo have been requested and given every opportunity to add to or explain their testimony as set forth by the committee. All of them have acquiesced in the committee's report of the testimony as now presented, excepting Mr. Myers, who gives the reason why he does not do so in his communication to the committee, copied with the testimony. The response of the committee to his communication, also copied with the testimony, will fully explain this matter. The committee have doubts as to whether they are authorized by the resolution to do more than to take testimony, and report their proceedings in that connection; but even if they had the undisputed authority to recommend the censure or punishment of individuals, the formulation of legislation, or the recommendation of legislative action, they have not had time to do so satisfactorily to themselves. They will state, however, that the testimony shows that the "method of withdrawal and its return to the Governor" of the bill under consideration was unusual and unwarranted, and the method of the disappearance from committee was culpable. The committee will not undertake to apportion the individual culpability of the parties engaged in it, because they doubt their authority to do so, and see no good result that would follow from that course. As the General Assembly has determined to adjourn to-day, the committee think that some legislation should be had to prevent this shameful "method" in the future. It is evident that this General Assembly can do nothing in the matter for want of time. The committee, therefore, ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the matter, in the hope that the next General Assembly will enact such laws as will forever prevent its recurrence.

The committee make the copy of the testimony, the statement of Mr. Wallace, the copy of Mr. Myers' communication to the committee, and response of the committee thereto, all filed herewith, a part of this report.

BEN F. BRADLEY,
JOHN R. KEMP,
W. H. ANDERSON.

The Senate committee appointed to investigate the method of withdrawal, disappearance from the committee, and its return to the Governor of House bill No. 1973, entitled "An act to authorize the counties of Johnson, Floyd and Pike to subscribe to the capital stock of the Ohio and Big Sandy Railroad," met in session on Friday, May 23, at 3 o'clock P. M., to hear evidence on same.

Senator A. H. Stewart having been duly sworn, testified as follows :

At the beginning of the present session of the General Assembly a strong effort was made to pass this bill, to which I objected, but finally agreed to. The bill passed the House, and, being amended by me, passed the Senate as amended. Learning soon after that my people were apposed to the bill, I had entered a motion to reconsider, but learned that the bill had been reported back to the House. I was then appointed a committee to withdraw the bill from the House. On application it was objected to in the House, and I failed to get it. After the bill had gone to the Governor, I requested the member from Floyd (Mr. J. W. Langley) to have committee appointed in the House to withdraw the bill from the Governor, and that I would do the same in the Senate. He so agreed, and afterwards he so reported to the Senate, and I was appointed by the Speaker of the Senate to act with him in withdrawing the bill from the Governor. We then went to the Governor and withdrew the bill, which was delivered to me. Something was said about the House Journal not showing the proper number of the bill. I then stated to Mr. Langley that I would not report the bill until the Journal was corrected, which he agreed to have done that day. I carried the bill to my private room and locked it up in the bureau drawer. Mr. Langley did not have the bill corrected that day, and I kept insisting on his doing so. He said Mr. Myers had ruled that it must be done in regular motion hours, but that it should be done. I locked the bill up in my drawer. The next morning I found my drawer open and the bill gone. It was in the drawer when I locked it. Mr. Langley's room is across the hall, directly opposite mine. I went immediately to his room and woke him up, and asked him if he knew where the bill was. He said, I do not know anything about it. I then went to the Senate Clerk's office. On my return to Mr. Langley's room, about one and a half hours later, he said he had the bill; that he found my drawer open and took the bill to get the number in order to state his question of personal privilege. He did not give the bill back to me. I asked the Assistant Senate Clerk what to do about.

Mr. Langley, on my demand for the bill, said no; he would keep the bill to get the number and title. I did not think he had any right to it, but wanted it myself. I did not direct its return to the Governor, nor did I know how it was done. I talked to Mr. Langley afterwards; do not remember the time. I left Frankfort that day, and when I returned on Tuesday after I learned the bill had been returned to the Governor. When I made my statement to the Senate I knew the bill had been stolen from my drawer, and knew who did it. On my return, Mr. Langley said the bill had been taken from his hands, and was then before the Governor; that he did not know how it was done. I went to the Governor, and he said he would send in a communication in regard to it. I heard a Mr. Mayo speak as though he knew how it was done. Mr. Langley had bill either in or under his trunk. I saw a bogus bill which was left in place; seemed to be on same kind of enrolling paper, and signed by both Speakers. I think that copy is now in the hands of the Governor. Mr. Langley and Mr. May, who room together, told me the bill was put in Mr. May's trunk. My only object in holding the bill was to wait until the House Journal was corrected. I was afraid the bill would be stopped by the House's action, and returned to the Governor direct. Messrs. Mayo, and F. T. D. Wallace were interested for the passage of the bill. Mr. Harvey Myers' law firm is representing the road, in its favor. I was opposed to it. I also understood Mr. Langley to be at that time. Mr. Frick, who represents the C. C. & C. Road, was opposing it. It was after Mr. Langley received protests from his people that he claimed to be opposed to the bill.

Green R. Keller being sworn, testified:

Am Clerk House Representatives. The certificate given was signed by me on the application of Speaker Myers, who wrote same. We do not enter motions unless stated by Speaker. I did not hear any motion in this case. I know the Speaker's signature. The one shown on what seems a false bill is his.

The two bills shown me are enrolled in same hand. The certificate given by me was given on its date by request of Mr. Myers. I had no idea what it was for, and know nothing of how bill was returned to Governor.

Mr. D. H. Smith being sworn, testified :

The signature on the duplicate bill shown, seems to be, and to the best of my impression, is mine. I have no recollection of signing same. One morning last week Mr. Mize, the Enrolling Clerk of the House, came to my room and roused me up at about 8 or 8½ o'clock A. M., to sign a bill. I did so, but do not know what it was. I have frequently signed bills at my room. Never one alone before. I think it was the latter part of last week—Thursday, Friday or Saturday. I know nothing about the course of the bill. I did not know the duplicate bill had been signed by me until this evening. The Presiding Officer never makes a note of bills signed by him. The bill was presented and signed by me without any knowledge or reason to believe that it had been duplicated.

Mr. Frick being sworn, testified :

Am an employe of the C., C. & C. R. R. Co., and represent the same here. I know of the passage of the bill referred to. I saw Senator Stewart withdraw it from the Governor, and saw Stewart lock it up in his drawer. He missed it on Saturday morning, and went immediately to hunt the bill. Mr. Langley said he found Stewart's drawer open, and took the bill to use in his explanation. To make it safe, he had Mr. May to lock it up in his trunk. I afterwards, on Sunday night, found the Governor had the bill, and I went to Mr. May at once and asked him if he had the bill, and he was positive that he had it, but on looking found the duplicate in place of the original. I carried the duplicate to the Governor. He said he did not know through what channel the bill got to him. Mr. May did not make any statement to me as to how he came into possession of the duplicate. I am satisfied he thought he had the original bill.

In the consultation at the beginning of the session, F. T. D. Wallace, G. W. Castle, H. E. Huntington, H. G. Northup, Mr.

Lockett and Whittaker were present with the Representatives, Langley and others. After the bill had been abstracted from Langley's room, Messrs. Langley and Fitzpatrick met me and May on street, and when I notified him of the loss of the bill, he said the one now shown was surely the bill, and not a duplicate; that when he got it from Stewart's room he did not notice whether the Governor's stamp was on it or not; that when he brought it from Stewart's room he put it in bottom of trunk, or bottom tray of trunk; was present in House when Mr. Langley made motion to withdraw from Governor. Mr. Croan was speaking. Some one interrupted him, and asked the appointment of a committee to withdraw a bill from the hands of the Governor. Mr. Langley then arose, and asked the appointment of a committee to withdraw bill, and gave number, but I do not know what it was. The Speaker appointed Mr. Langley such committee. I asked Langley if it was for the Ohio and Big Sandy Railroad. He said that it was. The Speaker told me he had no feeling in the matter. Two days after, when I heard of the irregularity in appointing the committee, I asked the Speaker, Mr. Myers, about it. He said that when Mr. Langley asked the appointment of a committee there was a great deal of confusion in the House, and that the Clerk failed to get the number of the bill, and asked him what it was. He told him to get the number from Mr. Langley after the session was over; that Mr. Langley left the House early, and that the Clerk did not get to see him, and made no record of the motion. Mr. Langley told me that Mr. Myers said the Journal could be corrected, and that he was sure it could be done. Mr. Myers told me it could not be done, and I tried to convince him differently.

Hon. Harvey Myers being sworn, testified :

Had been trying all winter to get bill through. My firm are attorneys for the Kentucky Central or Huntington system. Stewart and Langley agreed on the bill with me. Agreement one afternoon and passed the bill. It was amended slightly and passed the Senate. I do not recollect the date. It was carried to the Enrolling Clerk to enroll, and taken to the Governor at once so as to get bill signed by Governor. I found the Governor had been requested by Frick not to sign, which he did not. I asked the Governor how soon he could sign it. He said not for a few days. The constituents of the Representatives objected to the bill. Mr. Croan was on the floor. Mr. Langley did not give the title of the bill. It was taken from the Governor's hands. The Journal did not show the appointment of a committee. I did not then, nor do I now, believe the Journal could be corrected. It was reported to me that Senator Stewart said he did not know whether to return the bill to the Governor or Senate; that he had the bill and would keep it, and I concluded if that kind of business was going on I could perhaps meet the emergency. So I went to the Enrolling Clerk to make me another copy to carry to the House to offer with a resolution, showing the bill had passed to certify to the Governor. This I told the Governor afterwards, but did not wish Mr. Frick to know before. In the morning the Enrolling Clerk brought me the copy, which I signed myself. I was met in the rotunda by a gentleman, who stated to me that he had the original bill, and presented it to me, and, of course, I was very glad to get it. I abandoned the idea of presenting the new enrolled bill, there being now no necessity to do so. I handed it to the gentleman, and I at once took the original bill in person to the Governor, and requested him to sign it at once, with Clerk's certificate. He asked me how I got the bill. I told him a gentlemen had given it to me, and that if he was not satisfied, or feared it had been changed, I would get the Enrolling Clerk to bring the original and compare. He examined the bill and found no changes, but said that he would hold the bill and consult the Attorney-General; that his Journal showed the bill withdrawn from him. During all these several days I was not occupying the Chair, but exercising my rights on the floor as a member. The Governor said he wanted to do right with all parties, and finally signed the bill. When the original bill was given me in the rotunda I was utterly surprised, and not expecting ever to see it again. The last I knew of the duplicate was when I gave it to the gentleman. I thought the bill referred to by Mr. Langley to withdraw from the Governor was this bill, although we had agreed not to that day. I may have announced the appointment of a committee. I decline to give the name of the gentleman without his consent, but will see him and return.

W. O. Mize being sworn, testified :

I had enrolled, at Mr. Myers' request, duplicate bill shown, and had Mr. Smith to sign same in his room at Capital Hotel. I delivered it to Speaker Myers, who had me to get Mr. Smith to sign same. I first carried it to Mr. Myers, who signed it. I then carried it across the hall to Mr. Smith's room, who signed it, and I at once crossed to Mr. Myers' room and gave the bill to him. I did not state to Mr. Smith that it was a duplicate.

Mr. Clarence Egbert being sworn, testified as follows :

I made the copy of the bill at the instance of the Enrolling Clerk, and delivered same to him. I had already enrolled it originally. The original bill was given me on Thursday night, May 16th. I made the copy on Friday night. The first enrollment was made by me on either the day before or after Senator Beck's funeral. I delivered the last copy on Saturday before 7 o'clock A. M.

Mr. Robt. May being sworn, testified :

I do not know anything about the bill's withdrawal. Mr. Langley had no lock on his trunk and handed me a bill to put in my trunk, which I did. I did not examine the bill, nor would I know it. Mr. Frick came to my room and wanted to see the bill. I showed it to him. He said, after looking at it, that it was a copy. Mr. Langley did not explain about the bill to me; only asked me to put it in my trunk for safe-keeping for him. I gave up the bill to Mr. Frick without consulting Mr. Langley. When Mr. Frick came to me he said, the bill is before the Governor. I denied it and said, "it is in my trunk." He denied it, and I got the bill out, and it proved to be the copy. I had no interest in the bill. Have heard Mr. Langley speak of the bill, but not of any crookedness about it. From conversations in my room I thought it was the Big Sandy bill. I was present in the House, and think I heard Mr. Langley make the motion for the appointment of a committee to withdraw the bill from the Governor. I do not know whether the Speaker appointed a committee or not. I heard that Mr. Langley was going to make such a motion, and I think he was appointed such committee. I do not know where Langley got the bill before giving it to me. I said to Mr. Frick that I thought Mr. Langley gave the original bill to me. I went with Mr. Frick to the telegraph office after finding the copy in my trunk, but found the office closed. I do not remember where I met Mr. Langley, but he expressed surprise when I informed him about the bill not being the original. I want to state that I have no interest in the matter whatever, am no boomer, and have nothing to do with any thing of the kind.

Mr. J. W. Langley being sworn, testified as follows :

The first suggestion as to the charter for the railroad was by Bennett Young and others, three months ago. We consulted about it; that is, the mountain members. Stewart and I did not agree to it. Afterwards Messrs. Northup, Huntington and Wallace proposed a competitive charter; that other roads wanted the charter, and would leave it to the people to say which one. Stewart and I both wrote home in regard to the matter. Nothing was then done for three or four weeks. Stewart then asked me why I did not have the bill passed. I thought most of the people were opposed to it. About three weeks ago Mr. Mayo came down. Mr. May and I had agreed to a redistricting bill for our counties, which had passed the House, and stopped in the Senate. Mr. Mayo came down to oppose same. He (Mayo) said if I would agree to pass the railroad bill, he would not object to the redistricting bill. In that way the redistricting bill passed, as agreed by Stewart, Pieratt, Myers and myself. I had quite a large petition in favor of the railroad bill, and county newspaper favoring it. The people heard of the passage of the bill, misrepresented no doubt to them. Senator Stewart and I then agreed it was best not to pass the bill. While I was in the Senate chamber Speaker Myers moved in the House the concurrence with Senate amendment, which was done, and bill enrolled, and carried to the Governor. I then told Mr. Myers that on account of the objections of my people I must ask its withdrawal from the Governor. He requested me to delay one day to hear from Mr. Huntington, and he would not oppose the motion. I did so. Afterwards, when Mr. Croan had the floor, I asked the appointment of a committee to withdraw bill, giving the number from memory. The Clerk asked me, and I then gave him the title. Under the agreement I was not to ask the appointment of a Senate committee until the next morning. Mr. Myers had recognized me, and appointed me committee to withdraw. Next morning I started to the Senate, and said to Mr. Myers, I am going now to ask the appointment of a committee from the Senate to withdraw bill. He said there was no notice of my appointment on House Journal. I so notified Stewart; also asked Mulligan about it, who said: Go ahead, and have Senate Committee appointed. I then asked for it, and Senator Stewart was appointed. We then withdrew the bill from the Governor, Stewart taking possession of the bill, and carried it to his room. We consulted about reporting it. I thought it best to report first to the House. Stewart said before they should have it again he would take the bill and leave the State. I also consulted Mr. Frick about it. He thought the Journal should be corrected. I went to Stewart's room to see him. He had put the bill in his bureau drawer. I wanted it to get the real number and title. The drawer was open, and I got the bill out, made my memorandum, and put the bill in my trunk. About 7 o'clock next morning Stewart awoke me and said: Some one has taken that bill. I said, I have it, and he said, be careful with it. I told Mr. Myers also that I had it. Mr. Myers said I had better return it to the Senate, as I had virtually made a misstatement to the Senate and Governor. Wallace said the same. I made no concealment of the fact that I had the bill. Myers said the evening I withdrew the bill that he would get copy and have certified.

Two or three days after I was going to Lexington and met Governor Buckner, when he said the bill was not properly before him, and he had better return it. On Friday morning Mr. Wallace insisted on my returning the bill to the Governor, and I thought best to have it locked up. So I got the bill and May locked it up in his trunk. At night Frick and May told me the bill was gone and copy in its stead. When I put it in my trunk I think it was the original. I got it from Senator Stewart's drawer. I think the same bill I gave May. I do not know who gave the bill to Mr. Myers. I told Mr. Myers and Mr. Wallace where I had the bill. The drawer of the bureau, when I went to get the bill, was partly open. Mr. May and I went together to Senator Stewart and told him we had locked up this bill in Mr. May's trunk. Mr. Mayo may have been in the room when I put the bill under my trunk. He stayed in my room all night, and was in the bed when Stewart said I had better take care of the bill. I was opposed to the bill at that time. I thought, however, it was a properly guarded bill, and my people would be for it when explained, and I thought of withdrawing objections. When Mr. Mayo first came I had not heard from my people. I told Mr. Wallace where the bill was hid. I never thought or felt that they would take the bill. I had the bill locked up more in deference to Stewart's wishes. Mr. Mayo came to my room frequently at that time. Mr. Vanhose also occupied the room and favored the bill. I made two or three attempts to get the Journal corrected. Mr. Mayo and I have been intimate for three or four years.

Mr. May said :

After hearing Mr. Langley, I remember distinctly that Mr. Langley made the motion and the Clerk failed to enter it.

Mr. Myers continuing his evidence, said :

The gentleman who gave me the bill was Mr. F. T. D. Wallace. Mr. Huntington is a personal friend of mine, and asked me to assist in securing the passage of the bill. Mr. Wallace has talked to me several times about the matter. I did not ask him where he got the original bill. We did talk of getting up a duplicate bill. Wallace knew I was getting duplicate made to offer in House. When I told Mr. Langley he ought to return the bill to the Governor, then was developed the fact that Stewart would not give it up. I do not think Mr. Langley told me he had the bill ; some one else did. Langley's great object was to secure the passage of the bill. I did not ask Mr. Wallace where he got the bill. I had no desire to know. I felt that if I had found the bill with Executive stamp, I would have carried it to the Governor—much more this bill—being interested. I did not believe Mr. Stewart had any right to retain the bill. Mr. Wallace gave me the bill the same day the Governor sent in his message. I carried it to him the same day I received it.

Mr. J. C. C. Mayo being sworn, testified as follows:

I have no connection with railroad corporations, but have been here several times at my own expense to secure legislation for railroads to develop the Big Sandy Valley, in which I have landed interests. This is the sole cause of my interest in this matter, which has been discussed between Senator Stewart, Mr. Langley and myself for ten or twelve weeks.

The agreement several weeks ago and understanding with Mr. Langley was, that the above bill should be passed, Mr. Stewart agreeing to pass through the Senate any bill passed through the House. The bill was passed through the House, sent to the Senate, amended and passed. On learning that the bill, after going to the Governor had been withdrawn from him, I came back to inquire how this happened. Mr. Langley informed me the pressure from Johnson county was so great he was compelled to show some signs of opposition. He had, therefore, withdrawn it from the Governor. I could not understand Mr. Langley's action after the agreement, and I said such double dealing demanded explanation. I said other things in the same conversation, which had, doubtless, better not be put down. I told him he could not afford to go back on our enterprises in the Big Sandy Valley; that there was a good deal at stake in this and other legislation we had agreed on. He said: Keep cool, or keep still; the matter would be satisfactorily arranged for me. I told him I did not know how it could be so arranged now, with the bill withdrawn from the Governor, and did not receive much satisfaction from the promise. He remarked: "The bill being withdrawn from the Governor did not amount to much; that could be easily arranged, and that it would be." I understood it, that the bill was to be gotten and given to Speaker Myers.

Mr. F. T. D. Wallace brought to me a bundle rolled up in a paper on Saturday of last week, and told me to go to Mr. Langley's room, look under the end of Mr. Langley's trunk, and there I would find the Ohio and Big Sandy Railroad bill; to place in its stead the copy which he had in the paper (the one I now see before me, I think), and bring the original bill to him. I asked him if it was all right to do that. He said it was understood all around and all right. I then gave him the original, and left the copy where I got the original. Wallace returned the original to me about half an hour afterwards. After keeping it a short time, I went, in company with Mr. Harvey Myers, to the Secretary of State's office. On the way I gave the original bill to Mr. Myers. I remained in the Secretary's office, and he went into the Governor's office. My understanding from Wallace or Langley was that the copy was made to put in the place of the original to fool Senator Stewart. Mr. Langley said to me that the original bill would be returned to the Governor. I did not know that I would change the bills until required to do a little errand for the boys. It was my impression that Mr. Myer's knew as much about the matter as any of us. I am not certain whether I ever mentioned it to Mr. Myers or not. The first information I had to the copy being made was Saturday. Langley and I talked about having changed the original bill for the copy within an hour after it was done. He said that is all right; be cautious what you say. Mr. Langley and I are interested in some affairs together. I lifted up the trunk, pushed the original out, and put the copy in its place, and wrapped up the copy in the same newspaper that I had the original in. I think Mr. Langley, Wallace and I talked about how we would get the bill up. Langley said it would be all right, and the Governor would sign it. Mr. May told me he had the bill in his trunk, but I knew better. It was said to me by either Wallace or Langley that Senator Stewart had the bill, but had no right to have it there, and they could arrange that. I think it was in the State House that Wallace gave me the copy. I went direct and changed them, and returned with the original an hour after. Mr. Langley and I were talking, and he knew all about it. Mr. Langley tried to get me to swear I would never tell about it, but I said I will never tell unless I have to. I was in the bed with Mr. Langley last Saturday morning when Stuart came into the room and asked Langley about a bill. I do not know what Langley replied. No one ever said anything about Stewart being concerned. All said he had to be watched. Mr. Myers, Wallace and I talked of this bill often how to get it signed. I did not talk much with Mr. Myers, as I knew he would do his duty or right. When I took the bill I knew I was not stealing it. I was helping to carry out programme, and Langley knew it.

Mr. Frick being re-examined, stated :

Senator Stewart stated to me that he would hold the bill until the Journal was corrected, as he was apprehensive that the bill might be stolen. He told me Saturday that the bill was in May's trunk, and he wanted me to see that no one got it from him. Mr. Langley promised time and again to have Journal corrected. Senator Stewart asked him time and again to arise to a question of privilege. I never heard Stewart say he would leave the State with the bill. He said he was going to have an investigation as to the appointment of House committee. Mr. Langley was present at these conversations.

Senator Stewart returned and testified :

When I returned from seeing my people, who had petitioned against the bill, I said to Mr. Myers that on account of the opposition by them to the road, that justice to them, to me and to the road required the bill to be withdrawn from the Governor. He said he did not want to do anything against the wishes of the people, and after telegraphing the situation to Mr. Huntington he would not offer any objections to the appointment of a committee to withdraw bill. I said that I was afraid there would be some trick about the matter in the House, and that I intended to keep the bill until it was arranged. I did use some strong statements about keeping the bill, but always or nearly always on condition until the Journal was corrected, as I believed it was the purpose to fail to have the Journal corrected, so that the bill might go back to the Governor. I may have used some strong expression about keeping the bill in brief conversations without qualifying it with the condition that the Journal be corrected, but never said I would leave the State on any condition to my recollection.

Mr. J. W. Langley added the statement below to his evidence :

When I made the motion to withdraw the bill one of the Clerks—I think Mr. Green Keller—asked me the number of the bill. I told him, and also stated that it was the Ohio and Big Sandy Railroad bill. He went across and looked at book, and said yes that is correct, and the Clerk who keeps the pencil minutes seemed to be putting it down. In my first evidence I answered that I was not responsible for the bill's return to the Governor. After the evidence it seems that I was, partially. After the bill was withdrawn from the Governor Mr. Myers and I had a talk about it. I told him what Senator Stewart said. He said he would have a resolution passed in the House to return a copy of the bill to the Governor; that he thought a copy would do. I told him I would have to fight it. Mr. Myers went to see the Governor and told him the Journal was not correct. The Governor sent his Private Secretary to get the bill from Stewart; said that was all he could do. After Mr. Pieratt, Mr. Mayo, May and myself agreed to pass this bill if redistricting bill passed. This was the sole and only consideration to me, the redistricting bill being mine and Mr. May's. After the bill was withdrawn Myers said he would have my bill repealed. Understanding that Myers would present to the Governor a copy of the bill, I thought best to let it go on, so as not to interfere with the redistricting bill. I think the dummy bill was to deceive me, if any one. Mr. Myers and Wallace had both urged me to return bill to the Governor. I refused, saying that it would show that I had no authority to withdraw it, which I believed I had.

Mr. Jno. C. C. Mayo makes the following additional statement:

In addition to what I said yesterday before your committee, I wish to add that Speaker Myers continually held, before the return to the Governor of the bill in question, that the same had not been properly withdrawn from his hands, and was in the attitude of a stolen bill until returned.

After reading his evidence as written, at 9 o'clock P. M. on Sunday, Hon. Harvey Myers asked time of the committee until 12 o'clock to prepare a statement in addition to same, to which the committee agreed, and at 2 o'clock A. M., on Monday, he forwarded to the committee the following communication, which he requested the committee to attach or make part of the proceedings, viz:

FRANKFORT, KY., May —, 1890.

Hon. B. F. BRADLEY, Chairman, and Gentlemen of the Committee:

Upon careful examination of what purports to be a report of my testimony before your committee, I find it so inaccurate in many particulars that it does not, in a proper sense, fully or correctly reproduce my testimony. Many statements made by me explanatory of the facts reported have been inadvertently omitted, and certain words and expressions are used which, while intended to convey the same meaning as conveyed by me, so fail to express my testimony or convey my meaning, that I desire to enter a disclaimer of it as being a true or faithful report of the matter concerning which I have testified.

Respectfully,

HARVEY MYERS.

To which the committee returned the following :

FRANKFORT, MAY 26, 1890, 9 A. M..

Hon. HARVEY MYERS :

SIR—Yours dated May, 1890, received about 2 o'clock A., M., May 26th. We take it to be your response to the agreement you had with the committee about 10 o'clock P. M., May 25th, that you would take the original copy of your testimony, make such amendments thereto as you wished to, and report to the committee by 12 o'clock.

It was expected and desired by the committee that you would make any statement that you thought necessary to a full understanding of your position. We had no idea but that so far as stated it was correct, as it had been read to you at the time it was given, and pronounced by you substantially correct.

The committee will be obliged for the return of the original copy of your testimony, which they expected to receive with your communication.

Very respectfully,

BEN F. BRADLEY,
JOHN R. KEMP,
W. H. ANDERSON.

Not being able to secure the testimony of F. T. D. Wallace, we append a written statement by him to the Governor, who, on our request, delivered the same into the hands of the committee.

On Wednesday or Thursday of last week, I understood from Mr. Langley that the bill authorizing the counties of Johnson, Floyd and Pike to subscribe to the capital stock of the Ohio and Big Sandy Railroad was withdrawn from the Governor by a request from himself and Senator Stewart, and I then made inquiry as to their right to withdraw it, and found that there was no record evidence on the Journal of the House authorizing the withdrawal of said bill, and afterwards Mr. Langley told me where the original bill was, and that I could go and get it, and leave a copy that we had had made of the same bill. I got the copy and it to J. C. C. Mayo, and told him to go and get the original bill that was withdrawn from the Governor, and afterwards on the same day Mayo brought the original bill to me, and I sent it to the Governor. After the bill was withdrawn from the Governor there was no motion made as far as I could find to reconsider or in any other way dispose of the bill in either House.

MAY 20, 1890.

F. T. D. WALLACE.

The above communication was handed to me by the writer immediately after it was written, and is transmitted, at their request, to the Senate Investigating Committee.

S. B. BUCKNER.

Attest:

BEN F. BRADLEY.

JOHN R. KEMP.

W. H. ANDERSON.

A message was received from the House of Representatives, announcing that they had completed the business of that body and were now ready to adjourn.

The hour of 12 o'clock M. having arrived, Mr. Speaker Bryan, after delivering an appropriate address in pursuance of the resolution heretofore adopted, declared the Senate adjourned without day.
